2 sworn)

3 (Trial resumed; jury not present)

4 THE COURT: I am in open court and my deputy reached
5 out to Juror No. 24, who had not arrived, was to arrive to 6 begin proceedings at 10 a.m. We tried to put it on the 7 speakerphone and I was unable to do so. So I spoke to the 8 juror in the presence of everyone in open court, but the phone
9 call could not be transcribed.

10 The juror told me that she opened a store at 6 a.m.
11 this morning. She described it as, or named it as Petite Shell
12 at a location in Brooklyn. I asked her the address. She said
13 she didn't know the address. It was more like a home, and that 14 her boss is somebody by the name of Odette, O-D-E-T-T-E, 15 Brenner, B-R-E-N-N-E-R, and that she is up for a promotion and 16 she thought she would lose her job if she didn't come in.

17 I asked her whether anyone told her to disregard the 18 direction to come in. She said no, that she took it upon 19 herself, that she was not able to reach her boss, and she 20 indicated that she was up for a promotion. She said she was 21 very sorry.

22 I asked her the question of, could she explain to me
23 why she did not telephone anyone to indicate at least that she 24 wasn't coming, and she could not explain that. She said she 25 couldn't do that until she opened the store, which she said was

G9D8HIR1

1 6 a.m. And I explained to her that there is a courtroom here
2 of about maybe 60 people or so with 13 other jurors waiting on
3 her, the prosecution and defense, and I ordered her to appear
4 in courtroom 11D on this Friday, which is September 16, at 3
5 p.m., at which time I would hold a hearing and direct counsel
6 for the government and defense to be present.

7 That concludes the conversation.

8 The juror who is in which seat?

9 THE DEPUTY CLERK: 10.

10 THE COURT: Any objection to my excusing the juror?

11 MS. MERMELSTEIN: No, your Honor.

12 MS. HARRIS: No, your Honor.

13 THE COURT: The juror is excused.

14 Please bring the remainder of our jurors in.

1 (Jury present)

2 THE COURT: Good morning, ladies and gentlemen.

3 Please be seated.

4 I want to thank you for your cooperation. I don't
5 want to be like the preacher who preaches to the congregation
6 about the people who don't come to church. You were all here
7 and you were here on time. There was a personal matter with 8 one of our jurors that has required me to excuse that juror.
9 There is no significance to that, other than for me to say that
10 I know you will work with me to be here on time, and I know
11 it's difficult, and I think you understand that when that 12 happens, it's not just a personal inconvenience to one person
13 but to many.

14 So I thank you. You're here. And let me give you
15 some preliminary instructions and then we are going to proceed
16 with the opening statements in this case.

17 As I told you during jury selection, my job is to 18 instruct you on the law and your job is to follow my 19 instructions.

20 This is a criminal case and the defendant has been
21 charged in an indictment filed by a grand jury sitting in this
22 district. The indictment is only an allegation. It is proof
23 of nothing. The defendant is presumed to be innocent.

24 The indictment contains four counts. Each count
25 charges the defendant with a separate crime. Although there

G9D8HIR1

1 are some facts in common with respect to the different counts,
2 each count will be considered by you separately and you will
3 return a separate verdict on each of the counts.

4 Count One charges that from in or about 2009 through
5 in or about 2011, the defendant conspired or agreed with others
6 to commit securities fraud in connection with the issuance of 7 shares by Gerova and the disclosures or lack of disclosure to 8 the investing public regarding Gerova.

9 Count Two charges that from at least in or about 2009
10 through in or about 2011, defendant committed securities fraud
11 in connection with the issuance of shares by Gerova, and the 12 disclosures or lack of disclosures to the investing public
13 regarding Gerova. This is the substantive count.

14 So there was a conspiracy to commit securities fraud
15 count and a count of actual securities fraud.

16 Conspiracy, I will tell you what the elements of that 17 crime are at the end of the case, but that's the distinction.

18 Count Three charges that from in or about 2009 through
19 in or about 2011, the defendant conspired or agreed with others
20 to commit wire fraud in connection with the issuance of shares
21 by Gerova, and the disclosures or lack of disclosures to the 22 investing public regarding Gerova.

23 Count Four charges that from at least in or about 2009
24 through in or about 2011, the defendant committed the 25 substantive offense of wire fraud in connection with the same

G9D8HIR1

1 matters.

2 So there's conspiracy to commit securities fraud and
3 securities fraud. There is conspiracy to commit wire fraud and
4 wire fraud. Those are the four counts.

5 Again, the indictment is not evidence. It's just the 6 charges that the government is required to prove, and it's
7 required to prove each element by proof beyond a reasonable
8 doubt.

9 As I mentioned, the law presumes the defendant to be 10 innocent of all charges against him and the burden is upon the 11 prosecution to establish the defendant's guilt beyond a
12 reasonable doubt with respect to each element of each offense
13 charged.

14 The burden never shifts to the defendant and the law
15 never imposes on a defendant the obligation of doing anything
16 in a criminal trial. The presumption of innocence remains with 17 the defendant throughout the trial unless and until, after 18 hearing and considering all of the evidence and my final
19 instructions on the law, you as jurors unanimously are 20 convinced of the defendant's guilt beyond a reasonable doubt on 21 a particular count.

22 Until it is time to deliberate at the conclusion of 23 the case, it is important that you keep an open mind.

24 Ladies and gentlemen, you will not be called upon to 25 review the charges, evidence or outcome of any case except the

G9D8HIR1

1 case now on trial. You must pay close attention to all the
2 evidence presented. Evidence consists only of the testimony of
3 witnesses, documents and other things admitted into evidence,
4 as well as stipulations agreed to by the parties.

5 Certain things are not evidence and must not be
6 considered by you. I will list them for you.

7 1. Statements, arguments and questions, including
8 opening and closing arguments, are not evidence. Nor are my 9 own statements to you.

10 Evidence is what comes out of the mouths of the 11 witnesses, the exhibits received into evidence, and the 12 stipulations of the parties.

13 So when in a few moments the lawyers are invited to 14 come to the podium to make an opening statement to you, they 15 are giving you a preview of what they believe the evidence will 16 be, but their statements themselves are not evidence.

17 Similarly, when a lawyer asks a question, the question
18 is not evidence. It's the witness's answer that makes it
19 evidence. So you consider then the question together with the 20 answer.

21 So if somebody, to take an absurd example, were you at 22 a Jets game in the Meadowlands last week and did you smash the 23 window of a car in the parking lot? Well, apart from the fact
24 that that's two questions in one, the question itself is 25 evidence of nothing. You're sitting there and you're saying

G9D8HIR1

1 Meadowlands, Jets, last weekend, there must be something to it.
2 The question is not evidence unless and until the witness
3 answers. And if the witness says, yes, that's evidence. If 4 the witness says, no, that's evidence also. But not the 5 question itself.

6 You draw no conclusion from the fact that somebody
7 asked a question, that there is any truth underlying the 8 question. It's the answer that makes it evidence.

9 Objections to questions are not evidence. Lawyers
10 have an obligation to their client to make an objection when 11 they believe evidence is being offered improperly under the 12 Rules of Evidence. You should not be influenced by the 13 objection or by the court's ruling on it.

14 If an objection is sustained, ignore the question and 15 any answer that may have been given. If it is overruled, treat
16 it like any other answer. If you're instructed that some item
17 of evidence is received for a limited purpose only, you must 18 follow that instruction.

19 Something else that is not evidence is any testimony
20 that the court has excluded or stricken or told you to 21 disregard is not evidence and must not be considered.

22 We are all humans. Sometimes testimony comes out and 23 on further reflection the court will rule, no, that was not 24 admissible evidence, and I may tell you that that evidence is 25 stricken from the record and you must disregard it.

G9D8HIR1

1           The other thing that's not evidence is anything you
2 may have seen or heard outside the courtroom. You are to
3 decide this case solely on the evidence presented here in the 4 courtroom, and I will give you specific instructions about that
5 in a moment.

6           Now, in deciding the facts of the case, you will have
7 to decide the credibility of the witnesses. How truthful and 8 believable they are.

9           How do you decide what to believe and what not to
10 believe? Well, you are going to listen to the witnesses, watch
11 them and observe them and then decide as you would decide such 12 questions in your ordinary life. Did the witness know what he 13 or she was talking about? Were they candid, honest, open,
14 truthful? Did the witness have a reason to falsify, exaggerate
15 or distort his or her testimony?

16           Sometimes it's not what a witness says but the way
17 that they say it that gives you a clue or indication as to 18 whether or not you should accept the witness's version of an 19 event as credible.

20           In short, the way a witness testifies may play an
21 important part in your reaching a judgment as to whether you
22 can accept the witness's testimony as reliable.

23           You will use your common sense, your good judgment to 24 evaluate the testimony of a witness based on all of the 25 circumstances.

G9D8HIR1

1           You must keep an open mind until the whole case is
2 over. A case can be presented only step by step, witness by 3 witness, and it would be unfair to one side or the other for 4 you to make up your mind until you have heard all the evidence.
5 You should not reach any conclusions until you have heard all
6 of the evidence.

7           In order to ensure you decide the case only on the 8 evidence and are not influenced in any way by anything that 9 might occur outside the courtroom in your presence, I give you
10 the following set of instructions.

11           You will hear me say this a couple of times. Do not 12 discuss the case among yourselves or with anyone else. That 13 means family members, friends, loved ones, relatives. No one.
14 And that means your fellow jurors as well. You don't go in 15 after a break and discuss what happened on the witness stand.
16 You save that for the deliberation process. You will have the 17 opportunity -- in fact, the duty -- to discuss the case. But 18 that's after all the evidence is in and I have given you the 19 final instructions.

20           Next, you're not to read anything on the Internet or 21 in newspapers or watch any broadcast about this trial if that
22 should happen. I don't know that it will happen. It's a
23 violation of your oath as a juror to seek out information about 24 the people and events in this case or to research the law.
25 Your consideration of this case must be based only on what you

G9D8HIR1

1 see or hear in the courtroom.

2 I told you yesterday how unfair it would be fair if it
3 were one of your family members involved in this case or you
4 were involved in this case to have jurors consider things that
5 they have located on the Internet or elsewhere, where if it
6 were brought out in the courtroom, if it were admissible and 7 were brought out in the courtroom, one side or the other might 8 have a simple explanation for whatever it is you found. And 9 it's dishonest and not the process that we follow. So I must 10 insist that you follow that instruction.

11 Also, do not receive or send any electronic 12 communications about the case. This includes texting,
13 e-mailing, blogging, posting. Maybe some of you guys use
14 Instagram and Snapchat, etc. I don't, but they are all off
15 limits in terms of discussing this case. So you don't post
16 anything on any social network site or any electronic 17 communication to discuss or even mention the case.

18 Next, you are not to allow anyone to speak to you
19 about the case. If you're approached by anyone to speak about 20 it, politely tell them that the judge has directed you not to 21 do so. But then report the incident to me promptly.

22 Also, be sure that I am informed if any person you
23 know happens to come into the courtroom. This is a public
24 trial so this could happen. But it is important that you do
25 not hear from them what may have happened in the courtroom

G9D8HIR1

1 while the jury was not present.

2 If you should see a friend or relative come into the
3 courtroom, please send a note to me through the clerk at your
4 first opportunity.

5 Now, the attorneys, the defendant and the witnesses
6 are not permitted to talk to the jury outside the courtroom,
7 not even to offer a friendly greeting. So if you see them
8 outside the courtroom, they have been instructed to treat you
9 as if you were a perfect stranger.

10 They may know you're on the jury and you may know they 11 are an attorney for the case, but you will be following my 12 instructions, just as the lawyers and witnesses are following
13 my instructions, by just acting as if you're all total
14 strangers. They are not being disrespectful to you. They are 15 following my instructions.

16 One thing about notes. If there is ever a reason to 17 send a note to the court through the deputy clerk, one thing I
18 would ask you to do, and it may sound impolite but it's 19 following my instruction, don't discuss it with your fellow
20 jurors.

21 Let's say you happen to see something or read
22 something and you weren't sure whether you were supposed to 23 read or see it. You don't come in in the morning and say, let 24 me tell you what happened yesterday. What do you think I
25 should do. Is this important? Should I send a note to the

G9D8HIR1

Opening - Ms. Mermelstein

1 judge? It's much better if you just send the note, and your
2 fellow juror is not being impolite if they privately write a
3 note to the Court on a matter such as that. That way if for 4 some reason it required the juror to be excused, we wouldn't
5 have the problem of having all the jurors excused.

6 Now a few words about trial procedure. As I said, the 7 lawyers are going to have an opportunity to make an opening
8 statement to you. They are not required to do so, and the 9 statements are not evidence. They give you kind of an overview
10 or a preview.

11 After all the evidence has been received, then the 12 lawyers have the opportunity to sum up. Again, these arguments
13 will not be evidence, but they will be the lawyer's view of 14 what the evidence did or did not show.

15 Thereafter, I will give you detailed instructions on 16 the law that governs this case. And in fact, it's my practice
17 to give you the typed text of that so that you will have it
18 with you in the jury room.

19 Now, with that said, I now will give the government
20 the opportunity to deliver an opening statement.

21 Ms. Mermelstein, you will be delivering it for the 22 government?

23 MS. MERMELSTEIN: Yes.

24 THE COURT: Thank you. Any time you're ready.

25 MS. MERMELSTEIN: Gary Hirst, the defendant, was the

G9D8HIR1

Opening - Ms. Mermelstein

1 president of a company and it was his job to benefit and
2 protect the investors who invested in it. But that is not what
3 he did. Instead, he cheated the investors by treating the 4 company as his personal piggy bank.

5 He secretly issued himself and his partners $72
6 million worth of stock in that company, stock that he did
7 nothing to earn, stock that he was not owed. Then he and his
8 conspirators covered up their crime by creating a paper trail
9 of fake documents, documents that were full of lies, documents
10 they hoped would keep them from ever getting caught.

11 But the conspirators had a problem. Nobody wanted to 12 buy $72 million worth of this company stock. And the 13 conspirators had to be able to sell the stock to actually
14 profit from their scheme and put cash in their pockets.

15 So here is what they did. They secretly paid
16 professionals who manage other people's money to buy the 17 company stock, stock they never would have bought if they
18 hadn't been bribed to do so. In other words, the conspirators
19 fraudulently created the demand. They created their own buyers
20 for the company stock they so desperately needed to sell.

21 The conspirators' scheme harmed the company's
22 investors in two different ways. First, Gary Hirst's scheme
23 harmed current investors, people who already owned stock in the 24 company. Because when Hirst issued millions of new shares of 25 stock, he made the current investors' investment worth less

G9D8HIR1

Opening - Ms. Mermelstein

1 money.

2 Think about it like this. If you cut a pie into more
3 pieces, every piece gets a little bit smaller. And when Hirst
4 issued millions of new shares, he caused the existing investors
5 to own less of the company. Their pieces of the pie got 6 instantly smaller.

7 But the scheme also hurt investors in a second way.
8 When the conspirators bribed the brokers to buy that stock, the 9 investors who ended up owning the stock were also harmed.
10 Those investors never would have bought stock in the company if 11 the brokers hadn't been bribed. So those new investors were 12 cheated too.

13 As you will learn, the defendant's house of cards
14 eventually came crashing down and the stock became worthless.
15 So that second set of investors also lost all of their money.

16 As you can tell, you're going to hear a fair amount in 17 this trial about the stock market. Perhaps that sounds
18 complicated now. But that was part of Gary Hirst's plan.
19 Hirst knew the rules of the stock market. He knew how to break
20 them, and he hid behind the rules when he betrayed his company
21 and his company's investors.

22 Complexity was his friend. It made it harder for him
23 to get caught. But he did get caught. And when you peel back
24 all of the financial jargon in this case, you will see it for 25 what it is -- a simple scheme to steal tens of millions of

G9D8HIR1

Opening - Ms. Mermelstein

1 dollars.

2 So let's talk about this scheme in a little more
3 detail.

4 The defendant was the president and the chairman of
5 the board of a company called Gerova. The defendant's partner
6 in crime was a man named Jason Galanis.

7 Now, Jason Galanis wasn't allowed to run a public
8 company because he had been in trouble with the government
9 before. So while Gary Hirst was the public face of the 10 company, Jason Galanis's role was not disclosed to the public.

11 In reality, though, Gary Hirst and Jason Galanis were 12 a team. They ran the company together. And you will learn 13 that they didn't run the company the way they were supposed to,
14 the way Gary Hirst was obligated to, for the benefit of 15 investors. Instead, they ran the company to benefit
16 themselves.

17 Here is how they did it. They wanted to use Gerova as 18 their personal piggy bank. But Gerova didn't actually have a
19 lot of cash. So they stole from Gerova in the next best way.
20 They gave themselves free stock, stock that ended up being
21 worth $72 million.

22 Now, the president of a company can't just give out
23 stock. There are rules to protect investors from that sort of 24 thing, rules that are enforced by government regulators. Here,
25 the Securities and Exchange Commission, or the SEC. But as I

G9D8HIR1

Opening - Ms. Mermelstein

1 mentioned, Hirst and Galanis knew those roles. They knew how
2 to manipulate them and they knew how to use those rules to
3 cover up their criminal scheme.

4           You see, if a company gives out stock to a person in
5 the United States, the SEC has to approve that. These rules
6 are designed to protect U.S. investors. But if a company gives 7 out stock to a person overseas, the company doesn't have to 8 tell the SEC. But if you do that, if you give stock to an 9 overseas person, that person has to make a promise. He has to 10 promise that he will not sell that stock in the United States
11 for a period of time.

12           That's the rule that Hirst and Galanis broke and then 13 papered over with fraudulent documents. That's where the 14 criminal scheme began.

15           The first thing that Hirst and Galanis needed for 16 their criminal scheme was someone overseas that they could 17 trust. So step one of the plan was to find a person who was 18 born overseas and who could be trusted and controlled, a straw
19 man, a person whose identity they could use. And Jason Galanis
20 had a solution. His brother had a trusted friend who was born
21 overseas and lived in Europe. This was a friend who could be 22 controlled for a price. And for a fee that friend agreed to be
23 Hirst's and Galanis's straw man.

24           The friend agreed that Hirst and Galanis could use his 25 name in their scheme, to pretend that stock was being issued to

G9D8HIR1

Opening - Ms. Mermelstein

1 him when in fact the stock was actually being issued to Hirst
2 and Galanis for work they had not done.

3 So that was step one. Recruiting the straw man.

4 The next step was for the conspirators to actually
5 issue the shares, and that was one of Gary Hirst's roles in the 6 scheme. He played that role to a T.

7 In May of 2010, Hirst sent a letter that authorized
8 the issuance of more than five million shares, worth more than 9 $70 million. Shares that looked like they were going to the 10 straw man, but were actually going to be controlled by Hirst
11 and Galanis.

12 Now, putting the shares in the straw man's name helped 13 Hirst and Galanis to hide the shares from the regulators, but 14 they still needed to justify why the straw man was getting any
15 shares at all. After all, companies normally don't give away
16 valuable stock for no reason. So the conspirators turned to 17 step three, creating a cover story with fake documents.

18 The conspirators put together a fake consulting
19 agreement. The agreement claimed that the straw man had 20 performed valuable work for Gerova and in exchange for that 21 work, he was entitled to be paid. But everything about that 22 agreement was fraudulent, because the straw man had never done
23 any work for Gerova. There was no reason for him to be paid at 24 all.

25 Now, the fake agreement called for the straw man to be

G9D8HIR1

Opening - Ms. Mermelstein

1 paid roughly $2 million. And that's because Hirst was smart
2 and he was careful. He knew that that fee had to look like a
3 reasonable amount for this imaginary consulting work. Not too
4 little, but definitely not too much. People would have noticed
5 a bigger number. They would have asked questions.

6 But Hirst and the other conspirators had much bigger
7 plans. Remember, they had already issued $72 million of shares
8 to themselves, shares worth much more than the $2 million in 9 this fake agreement. So they doubled down. They created a
10 second fake agreement. And the second fake agreement said that 11 instead of cash, the straw man was going to behave in something
12 called warrants, that the straw man was going to trade the 2
13 million he was owed for $2 million worth of warrants.

14 Let me pause for just a moment to explain what 15 warrants are.

16 Warrants are like stock options. They give the owner
17 the right to buy stock in a company at a particular price. The 18 value of a warrant depends on the value of the stock at the 19 time that the warrant is issued.

20 When the conspirators were cooking up this second fake
21 agreement, they knew that the stock price of Gerova had 22 recently gone up. For someone willing to engage in fraud, this
23 was a golden opportunity. Why? Because the best way to cash
24 out on fake warrants was to pretend that they were issued when 25 the stock was cheap and then sold when the stock was more

G9D8HIR1

Opening - Ms. Mermelstein

1 valuable. Make it look like they had bought low and sold high.
2 And that is exactly what they did.

3 The conspirators pretended that the fake agreements
4 had been issued months before when the stock was cheap. To do
5 that, they backdated the agreements. They literally backdated
6 them. Meaning they created the agreements in one month and 7 they made it look like the agreements had been signed months
8 before.

9 By backdating the agreements, they made it appear that 10 the warrants had been granted when the stock was cheap, when 11 the warrants would only have been worth about $2 million, the 12 amount on the fake consulting agreement. But at the time that
13 they drafted these fake, backdated agreements, the stock price
14 had already gone up. So they knew what those warrants were 15 really worth. More than $70 million. And just like that, the 16 conspirators had papered over their fraudulent scheme and the 17 theft of $72 million of shares. First by creating a fake $2
18 million consulting agreement and then by transforming the 19 justification for $2 million into a justification for $72
20 million. All to cover up the fact that they had issued shares
21 to themselves for no legitimate purpose.

22 Hirst hid that $72 million from the company. He 23 didn't tell anyone about the fake warrant agreement. He didn't 24 tell anyone he had issued $72 million worth of shares. He 25 didn't tell any of the people involved in running the company.

G9D8HIR1

Opening - Ms. Mermelstein

1 He didn't tell the board of directors. He didn't even tell
2 Gerova's chief financial officer, the man charged with 3 monitoring and reporting the company's financial health to the 4 public.

5 So now Gary Hirst and the co-conspirators have the
6 fraudulent shares and they have covered up the fraud with a
7 paper trail of fake documents.

8 Now the conspirators had to turn to the next step, to 9 step four. They had to turn those shares into cash. So they
10 deposited the shares into brokerage accounts, just like bank
11 accounts for stock.

12 You will see that they opened those accounts in the 13 straw man's name. But they weren't really the straw man's 14 accounts. They were completely controlled by the conspirators.
15 And then once they controlled those accounts, they got their 16 money in two ways. They borrowed against the shares to get 17 cash and they started selling the shares on the stock market.

18 The problem was, as I mentioned before, nobody really
19 wanted to buy these shares. And as they kept trying to sell,
20 that caused the stock price to go way down. But the 21 conspirators had a plan for that too. Step five.

22 The conspirators recruited investment advisers, people
23 who invest money on behalf of clients, like stockbrokers, and 24 they offered those brokers bribes to buy Gerova stock, the 25 Gerova stock they wanted to sell.

G9D8HIR1

Opening - Ms. Mermelstein

1           The result was that for a period of time the
2 conspirators controlled the market for Gerova stock. They told
3 the brokers when to buy, how much to buy, and how much to pay.
4 And that is because the conspirators were selling Gerova stock
5 at exactly the moment when they knew there were going to be 6 buyers for it. In other words, they matched their selling to 7 that buying.

8           By paying those bribes, by matching the trades, the 9 conspirators managed to sell about $20 million worth of their 10 shares. What happened to that money? It went right into the 11 conspirators' pockets. And Gary Hirst himself got $2.6 million
12 of that money.

13           So things were going pretty well for the conspirators.
14 And then Jason Galanis's role in the company came out.
15 Remember I told you earlier Jason Galanis wasn't allowed to run 16 a public company because he had been in trouble with the 17 government before.

18           When the public learned that Galanis was behind
19 Gerova, Gerova's stock price began to fall, until, in just a 20 few months, it was worthless and all of the investors who had 21 purchased Gerova lost their money.

22           That is a brief overview of what you will hear
23 happened, how Gary Hirst used the company as his personal piggy
24 bank and made tens of millions of dollars for himself and his 25 friends by betraying the shareholders that he was obligated to

G9D8HIR1

Opening - Ms. Mermelstein

1 protect.

2 Now, how are we going to prove that to you?

3 First, you are going to see documents signed by the 4 defendant that made this fraud work. For example, you will see
5 the defendant's signature on the document that secretly issued
6 the shares to the straw man. And you will see the fake
7 agreement that the defendant signed to justify giving out the 8 shares that were really going to the defendant and to his 9 cronies.

10 You are going to see other documents that prove that 11 these fake agreements were backdated, because you're going to 12 see that the straw man was first recruited into this scheme
13 months after the date on those fake agreements. So you will 14 see documents.

15 You will also hear from witnesses. You will hear from 16 executives of Gerova, people who worked with Gary Hirst day to 17 day, who sat in board meetings with Gary Hirst, and they will 18 tell you the straw man never worked for Gerova, that there was 19 no reason for him to get paid by Gerova, that they had never 20 even heard of him. And they will tell you that Gary Hirst
21 never disclosed anything about this warrant agreement or about 22 the issuance of $72 million of shares until it was far too
23 late.

24 You will hear that the defendant didn't just lie about 25 this fraud to people at the company. You will see, for

G9D8HIR1

Opening - Ms. Mermelstein

1 example, that the defendant frequently communicated with the
2 New York Stock Exchange, because it was very important for the
3 company to stay listed on the exchange. And you will see that
4 the defendant hid this fraud from the Exchange and that he lied
5 to them about the fraudulent shares and about Jason Galanis.

6 You will also hear from witnesses who worked at the 7 brokerage firms that were involved in selling the fraudulent
8 shares, and you will hear about the other side of the matched
9 trading that the conspirators controlled.

10 One of those brokers will testify and he will tell you
11 that he was bribed to buy shares of Gerova by Jason Galanis.
12 He will also tell you that he has taken responsibility for his 13 actions, that he has pled guilty to his criminal conduct in 14 connection with the scheme and that he is testifying at this 15 trial in the hopes of a more lenient sentence. And you will 16 see that his testimony is consistent with other evidence in 17 this case, including brokerage records and phone records that 18 show the exact timing of the matched trading.

19 You're going to see bank records and other documents
20 that show where the money went. You will see that the money
21 went to benefit the co-conspirators. And by following the 22 money, you will see that Hirst himself profited to the tune of 23 about $2.6 million.

24 Finally, you are going to hear the defendant himself
25 talk about his crime and laugh about how he had gotten away

G9D8HIR1

Opening - Ms. Mermelstein

1 with it.

2 You see, sometime after the fraudulent shares were
3 issued, the defendant was talking on the phone with Jason
4 Galanis. What the defendant did not know was that that call
5 was being recorded by the FBI.

6 And what does the defendant say when he thinks that no
7 one can hear him, when he thinks that he is talking to his
8 trusted partner in crime? "That whole, that whole Shahini
9 thing, I mean nobody, they totally missed it. Everybody."

10 Gary Hirst was congratulating Galanis on the success
11 of their scheme. You see, Shahini was the name of the straw
12 man, the person that Hirst and Galanis controlled, the person
13 they used to get all of those fraudulent shares. And what does 14 Hirst say about the straw man? What does he say about the 15 whole Shahini thing? "They totally missed it. Everybody."

16 But not the FBI, and, ladies and gentlemen, not you.
17 By the end of this trial, you are going to see exactly what the 18 whole Shahini thing really was. A scheme to steal millions of 19 dollars and defraud the shareholders that Gary Hirst was 20 supposed to protect.

21 Between now and then, let me ask you to do three
22 things. First, pay close attention to the evidence; second,
23 listen to Judge Castel's instructions on the law; and third,
24 use your common sense, the same common sense you use in your 25 every day lives.

G9D8HIR1

Opening - Ms. Harris

1           If you do those three things -- if you listen to the
2 evidence, if you follow the judge's instructions on the law,
3 and if you use your common sense -- you will reach the only
4 verdict that is consistent with the evidence in this case, that
5 Gary Hirst, the defendant, is guilty.

6           THE COURT: Thank you, Ms. Mermelstein.

7           Ms. Harris, you are going to open for the defendant?

8           MS. HARRIS: Yes.

9           THE COURT: Any time you're ready.

10          Thank you.

11          MS. HARRIS: Good morning.

12          You just heard a lot from the government. You heard a 13 lot about a complex scheme involving a cast of characters, the 14 movement of money, matched trading, intricate facts about 15 market manipulation. This case boils down to what was in Gary
16 Hirst's head when he signed two documents -- the warrant
17 agreement, that you heard the government talk about, in March
18 2010, and then the letter to Continental, to the stock issuance
19 company, to authorize the issuance of shares.

20          The fact is that Jason Galanis used Gary Hirst, and
21 the fact is that Gary did not think there was anything wrong
22 with these two documents. Just the opposite. He thought he 23 was doing everything properly, that he was doing exactly what
24 his job required him to do.

25          It never occurred to Gary that by signing these two

G9D8HIR1

Opening - Ms. Harris

1 documents that he would somehow make it possible for Jason
2 Galanis to perpetrate this massive fraud. Gary did not get any
3 tainted money, he did not commit a crime, he is not guilty.

4 Now in 2010, a lot was going on at Gerova. Gerova was 5 what is called a special purpose acquisition company. All that 6 means is that its goal was to acquire other companies, to get
7 other assets. And so there are a lot of deals in the works.
8 And even though Gary's title was president, he wasn't the CFO,
9 he wasn't the CEO. He advised, he consulted, he ran board
10 meetings, and he took care of the issuance of stock.

11 He wasn't doing this alone. Working alongside of him
12 were a number of experienced and respected professionals.
13 There was the CFO, Michael Hlavsa. You will hear from him in 14 this trial. There were actually two CEOs. Marshal Manley and 15 Joe Bianco, both of whom had excellent pedigrees and were 16 thought of as extraordinarily capable and both of whom, by the 17 way, made enormous amount of money for a very short period of 18 time.

19 Then there was the board of directors, comprised of 20 experienced and respected professionals, including Jack Doueck,
21 who you will hear from as well.

22 And, of course, Gerova worked with lawyers. They had 23 Hodgson Russ, LLP and DLA Piper advising them. Both
24 well-established and highly-respected law firms.

25 All these people -- the board of directors, the CEO,

G9D8HIR1

Opening - Ms. Harris

1 the CFO, the lawyers -- eventually saw each of the documents
2 the government told you about: The warrant agreement, the
3 Shahini consulting agreement, and the letter to issue the 4 shares.

5 Back in 2010, nobody thought there was a problem with 6 these documents. In fact, in October 2010, the board of 7 directors, with lawyers at their side, approved and ratified
8 the very transactions that the government is claiming is now
9 the key evidence in this case.

10 But somehow, even though all of Gerova's officers and 11 directors knew the same thing as Gary knew and approved and 12 ratified the transactions, at counsel table, at defense table
13 today is only one man, our client, Gary Hirst.

14 This case is not a case about a criminal defendant.
15 This case is about a scapegoat.

16 So the term scapegoat has its roots in biblical times.
17 Some ancient cultures would send an innocent goat into the 18 wilderness after having symbolically laid the sins of the 19 community upon its back.

20 Gary is an innocent scapegoat. He is being unfairly
21 blamed for the crimes of others.

22 Now, in the government's opening you heard about a lot
23 of terrible and crooked things that happened after the stock
24 was issued. Jason Galanis illegally got control of the stock,
25 investment advisers were bribed, corrupt brokers engaged in

G9D8HIR1

Opening - Ms. Harris

1 matched trading to pump up the price of the stock. Jason
2 Galanis and his family sold the stock and got away with tens of
3 millions of dollars of illegal profits. And innocent
4 investors, people who had worked hard their entire life, lost a
5 lot of money.

6           These were the crimes of Jason Galanis and his family.
7 Just like the other professionals at Gerova, Gary was duped,
8 deceived and cheated by the smooth-talking and charismatic
9 Jason. Gary had no inkling about the scheme that Jason had 10 cooked up to get around securities laws. He didn't know about 11 the matched trading, the plan to sell shares or the whole
12 manipulation of the market. You're not going to hear evidence
13 of the brokers communicating, these brokers communicating with 14 Gary Hirst. And he didn't know about the investors who were 15 forced to acquire the Gerova stock and lost money.

16           And importantly, very importantly, Gary did not get 17 $2.6 million. That money went to the company owned and 18 controlled by the government's very own cooperating witness.
19 The truth is that Gary lost money. While Jason Galanis and his 20 family were bribing investment advisers, manipulating the 21 market and making their fortune, Gary was trying to put money
22 back into the company. He held on to his shares. And just 23 like the investors that you're going to hear about from the 24 government, Gary lost money.

25           So this case, as I said, is about what was in Gary

G9D8HIR1

Opening - Ms. Harris

1 Hirst's head when he signed those two documents. Two documents
2 that he believed were perfectly legitimate, cost-effective ways
3 for the company to satisfy its obligations to pay a $2.2
4 million finder's fee, documents that you're going to hear were 5 not backdated and appeared legitimate and were ratified by the 6 board of directors.

7 So why are we here? We are here in part because the 8 government is complaining supposedly about what Gary did not
9 do. They are going to say, and they did say in opening, that 10 Gary didn't tell the board of directors in advance about the 11 share issuance. Gary didn't tell his CFO. And somehow this
12 means that Gary knew or must have known that the warrant
13 agreement was a fake, a fraud, a secret way to get Jason
14 Galanis shares. But Gary never hid anything.

15 First, you're going to hear there was no rule, no
16 practice, no expectation that Gerova's board of directors had
17 to have advanced notice of a share issuance. Around this time
18 there were lots of other share issuances going on. A lot of 19 people were entitled to stock. And many of those share
20 issuances -- most of them -- got approved by the board of 21 directors after they were actually issued. It's totally 22 irrelevant that Gary did not get board approval before he
23 signed the warrant agreement and before he signed the letter
24 issuing the shares. It just doesn't matter.

25 But even if somehow Gary had wanted to hide the

G9D8HIR1

Opening - Ms. Harris

1 warrant agreement and the share issuance, it would have been
2 impossible. You're going to hear that when share issuances
3 happen, the company has to write a letter to an entity called a
4 stock transfer company. That's the company that actually has
5 to give someone the shares. And when the stock transfer
6 company gets a request to issue shares, it has to record those
7 new shares on the register for the company. It keeps that
8 company register and makes sure that it's always updated.

9 It also keeps a copy of the letter that it receives
10 from the company authorizing the share issuance. And you will 11 hear and see that copies of this register were circulated
12 within Gerova and available to all. So the total number of 13 shares issued and tradeable, including these shares issued to 14 Shahini, were right there for the CFO, the auditors, and the 15 lawyers to see.

16 But more importantly, no matter what the witnesses are
17 going to say in that witness box, the paper record will show
18 that Gary did tell people about the Shahini warrants and the 19 Shahini shares. He did tell the CFO. He passed along to him
20 everything he needed to know to make sure that the public
21 disclosures were accurate.

22 And even if there are now complaints about the 23 language that ended up in those official filings -- you will 24 hear about a Form 20-F, the draft form F-1, letters to the 25 stock exchange -- that wasn't Gary's fault. He gave everyone

G9DOHIR2

1 the information they needed to make sure the disclosures filed
2 with the SEC and the stock exchange were accurate.

Ms. Harris - Opening

1 MS. HARRIS: (Continued) Now, in 2010, the government
2 witnesses themselves, people who are going to come here,
3 Mr. Hlavsa, the CFO, Mr. Halalc, a board member, they didn't
4 think there anything was wrong then. As I said, they ratified
5 these very transactions at a board meeting several months
6 later, even when the government has to concede that all the 7 relevant facts were before them.

8 They knew about Jason Galanis. They knew about his
9 problem with the government. But they had been told that Jason
10 Galanis had been entitled to a finder's fee, and they had been 11 told and all thought that he had transferred that fee to 12 somebody else. No matter what they say now, that's exactly
13 what they wrote and explained in a letter to the New York Stock
14 Exchange. Maybe the explanation was inartful or poorly
15 written, but that's what they all thought happened in 2010, and 16 they didn't think there was any problem with it then.

17 But we're here today because today those individuals,
18 those professionals, Mr. Hlavsa, the CFO, Mr. Manley, who was 19 briefly the CEO, and Mr. Doueck, they're all scared. They're 20 scared because they were part of this company. They made
21 money. And they're scared because of what happened after the 22 shares were issued when real criminals -- Jason Galanis, Gavin
23 Hamels and Albert Halalc -- cheated and defrauded innocent
24 investors, and those innocent investors lost a lot of money.
25 Because of that, the government witnesses, and especially the

G9DOHIR2

Ms. Harris - Opening

1 CFO, they're desperate for this problem to be someone else's
2 problem, someone else's fault.

3 They will sit in that chair and try to suggest to you,
4 they didn't have all the facts in front of them. That maybe if
5 they had known everything, they might have done something
6 differently. Or they might suggest they don't remember
7 anything at all. They're going to play the blame game.
8 They're going to make Gary the scapegoat, because otherwise,
9 the government might unfairly accuse them of a crime, too.

10 Gary Hirst is being unfairly blamed for the crimes of 11 others. He is the scapegoat, the patsy, the fall guy. He is 12 bearing the sins of Jason Galanis, the sins of Gerova. But our 13 criminal justice system has moved beyond ancient times. We 14 don't assign blame to innocent creatures, we don't hold 15 innocent men responsible just because it's expedient, because 16 it's easy, or convenient, or because it makes us feel good. In 17 our country, we assign blame only when the facts justify it,
18 and only when there's proof beyond a reasonable doubt. Here,
19 there is no proof to assign the blame to Gary Hirst. There
20 certainly isn't proof beyond a reasonable doubt.

21 As you listen to the evidence, keep in mind that 22 central question that I set out at the beginning. What was in 23 Gary Hirst's head when he signed these two documents? If you
24 keep that question in mind, at the close of trial there will be 25 only one verdict consistent with the evidence, and that's a

G9DOHIR2

Ms. Harris - Opening

1 verdict of not guilty. Thank you.

2 THE COURT: Thank you, Ms. Harris.

3 We're going to take our mid-morning break, but I
4 wanted to give you one instruction which you should have at the 5 outset.

6 You may not draw any inference favorable or 7 unfavorable from the fact that any person in addition to the 8 defendant is not on trial here. You also may not speculate as 9 to the reasons why other persons are not on trial. Those 10 matters are wholly outside your concern and have no bearing on 11 your function as jurors.

12 We'll take our break. And remember, ladies and 13 gentlemen, do not discuss the case among yourselves or with 14 anyone. Keep an open mind. After a short break, we'll begin
15 with the first trial witness. Thank you.

14 MS. HECTOR: The stipulation is Government's

7 true. That fact must be accepted by you as having been
8 established. However, the weight, if any, to be given to that 9 fact, the importance or significance, or lack of importance or 10 lack of significance, of that fact is entirely for you, the 11 members of the jury, to consider.

12 You may now call your witness.

13 MS. MERMELSTEIN: Thank you, your Honor. The 14 government calls Mr. Jack Doueck.

15 JACK DOUECK,

16 called as a witness by the Government,

17 having been duly sworn, testified as follows:

18 THE DEPUTY CLERK: State your name and spell it for 19 the record, please.

20 THE WITNESS: Jack Doueck. J-a-c-k, D, as in David,
21 o-u-e-c-k.

22 THE COURT: You may inquire.

23 MS. MERMELSTEIN: Thank you, your Honor.

24 DIRECT EXAMINATION

25 BY MS. MERMELSTEIN:

G9DOHIR2

Direct - Mr. Doueck

1 Q. Good afternoon, Mr. Doueck. How old are you?

2 A. 53.

3 Q. Let me ask you, since the courtroom is big, if you can keep
4 your voice up.

5 What is your educational background?

6 A. I graduated college and some of graduate school.

7 Q. What year did you graduate college?

8 A. 1985.

9 THE COURT: One second. Ladies and gentlemen, once
10 upon a time courtrooms didn't have microphones and it worked
11 pretty well.

12 THE WITNESS: I can speak up.

13 THE COURT: If you don't mind, keep your voice up as 14 loud as you can. Anyway, go ahead.

15 BY MS. MERMELSTEIN:

16 Q. So I'll try to be loud and you try to be loud.

17 What year did you graduate college?

18 A. 1985.

19 Q. What year did you finish graduate school?

20 A. 1986.

21 Q. Can you briefly describe your professional background in 22 the years following college and graduate school?

23 A. First, I was in computers, a computer programmer, and then
24 I joined a mid-sized retail company, and then I started a money
25 management firm.

G9DOHIR2

Direct - Mr. Doueck

1 THE COURT: When you say "retail company", the jury
2 doesn't know what you're talking about. I think of Macy's when
3 I think of a retail company. Is that what you mean?

4 THE WITNESS: Yes.

5 THE COURT: What were you retailing?

6 THE WITNESS: It was an apparel and hard goods
7 New York retailing stores.

8 THE COURT: That's fine. Go ahead.

9 Q. What was the name of that company?

10 A. Conway Stores.

11 Q. What role did you have at the company?

12 A. I was in operations. At one point I was the chief
13 operating officer.

14 Q. Did there come a time that you left Conway?

15 A. Yes.

16 Q. Approximately when was that?

17 A. The end of 1996.

18 Q. What did you do at that point?

19 A. I started a money management organization.

20 Q. Who did you start it with?

21 A. Richard Rudy.

22 Q. What was the name of the money management organization?

23 A. It was called Stillwater Capital Partners.

24 Q. When you say a money management organization, what did
25 Stillwater Capital Partners do when you started it in about

G9DOHIR2

Direct - Mr. Doueck

1 1996?

2 A. We started it in the beginning of 1997.

3 Q. Apologize.

4 A. And what we did was something called a fund of funds.

5 Q. What is a fund of funds?

6 A. It's a fund of a diversified portfolio of underlying funds.

7 Q. So it invests in different kinds of funds?

8 A. Yes, exactly.

9 Q. And are those often hedge funds?

10 A. Yes.

11 Q. Did you invest your own money in Stillwater Capital?

12 A. Yes.

13 Q. What about friends and family?

14 A. Yes.

15 Q. When you earned profits from the business, did you
16 typically take that money out or reinvest it in the company?

17 A. Vast majority reinvested.

18 Q. Let's jump ahead to about 10 years after you started the 19 company to about 2008. Had Stillwater's business expanded
20 beyond the fund of funds by that time?

21 A. Yes.

22 Q. What were some of Stillwater's other business endeavors?

23 A. Stillwater had three categories of investments; the funds
24 of funds was one, the second was a loan fund, and the third was 25 a real estate fund.

G9DOHIR2

Direct - Mr. Doueck

1 Q. Let's talk about the asset, the loan fund for a moment.

2 Did that have a formal name?

3 A. Yes. It was called the Stillwater Asset-Backed Fund.

4 Q. What is that?

5 A. The asset-backed fund made loans and investments in types
6 of loans on different types of assets like real estate,
7 insurance, and other types of loans like that.

8 Q. How did Stillwater make money from making loans?

9 A. Similar to a bank, I would say, we would make interest on 10 our money that we invested.

11 Q. What about the real estate fund? What did that do?

12 A. That was equity investments in developments and distressed
13 real estate.

14 Q. What does that mean in regular person terms?

15 A. Somebody wants to build a condominium, we provided some 16 capital for that.

17 Q. By 2009, what were Stillwater's total assets of management?
18 How much money was it managing in all of its endeavors?

19 A. It was about a billion dollars.

20 THE COURT: Pause.

21 (Pause)

22 THE COURT: Go ahead.

23 MS. MERMELSTEIN: Thank you, your Honor.

24 BY MS. MERMELSTEIN:

25 Q. So in 2009, you said the total assets under management was

G9DOHIR2

Direct - Mr. Doueck

1 approximately a billion dollars. Approximately how much of
2 that was yours and your partners?

3 A. About 40 million.

4 Q. What happened to Stillwater in 2009?

5 A. In 2009, there was a financial crisis and liquidity crisis,
6 so what it meant to us was that our borrowers, most of our 7 borrowers, couldn't pay us back, and at the same time, our
8 investors needed their money back.

9 Q. When you say a "liquidity crisis", what's "liquidity"?

10 A. Liquidity, simple word would be cash. There was not enough
11 cash to go around. Banks were being foreclosed.

12 Q. How did that problem affect Stillwater?

13 A. So on one hand our loans, we could not retrieve the value
14 of our loans back from borrowers who couldn't afford to pay us
15 back and nowhere to go to give us the money, and on the other
16 side of the coin, our investors were getting margin calls and 17 they needed to redeem out of our fund. That was how it
18 affected the loan, the asset-backed fund.

19 Q. And when you say a margin call --

20 A. A lot of investors in those days would borrow money to 21 invest in funds like ours.

22 Q. So whoever made them the loan wants the money back and it's 23 sort of a trickledown effect.

24 A. Exactly.

25 Q. What did you do in response to this problem?

G9DOHIR2

Direct - Mr. Doueck

1 A. So I personally traveled the world to meet with
2 institutional, large, huge potential investors and clients,
3 show them our portfolio, showed them and asked them for
4 liquidity or investments to basically save us.

5 Q. Were you successful in those endeavors?

6 A. Ultimately, no.

7 Q. Are you familiar with an individual named Jason Huntley?

8 A. Yes.

9 Q. How do you know him?

10 A. Jason Huntley was a registered investment advisor who had a
11 few of his clients invested in our funds.

12 Q. What is a registered investment advisor?

13 A. Money manager.

14 Q. So he had clients whose money was invested with you?

15 A. Correct.

16 Q. Did there come a time that you discussed Stillwater's
17 liquidity problems with Jason Huntley?

18 A. Yes.

19 Q. What, if anything, did he suggest?

20 A. He suggested that I meet a friend of his who had a public
21 company that needed to buy assets that would be a potential
22 solution for us.

23 Q. Who was the friend?

24 A. Jason Galanis.

25 Q. Did there come a time that you in fact met with Jason

G9DOHIR2

Direct - Mr. Doueck

1 Galanis?

2 A. Yes.

3 Q. When was that, approximately?

4 A. November of 2009.

5 Q. Where did that meeting take place?

6 A. In our conference room at 41 Madison Avenue.

7 Q. "Ours", meaning Stillwater's?

8 A. Yes.

9 Q. Who else was in that meeting?

10 A. Gary Hirst, Joe Bianco, Noah Hammond, and a number of other
11 people that I forget.

12 Q. All right. Let's start with Gary Hirst. Do you see Gary
13 Hirst sitting in the courtroom today?

14 A. Yes.

15 Q. Can you please point him out to the jury and identify an 16 item of clothing he's wearing?

17 A. Gary looks like he's wearing a dark gray suit sitting to 18 the left of the woman with the blond hair.

19 THE COURT: Front table? Back table?

20 THE WITNESS: Second table.

21 THE COURT: All right. Identification noted.

22 Q. Then let me turn your attention to what's already in front
23 of you as Government's Exhibit 100 for identification. Do you
24 recognize that?

25 MS. MERMELSTEIN: Let's take that down. Sorry. Brief

G9DOHIR2

Direct - Mr. Doueck

1 technical problem. Can we take that down, please. Okay. Let
2 me just direct Mr. Doueck for a moment to the hard copy of
3 Government's Exhibit 100.

4 A. 101 maybe?

5 Q. Is it 101?

6 A. Yes.

7 Q. 101 in front of you. Do you recognize that?

8 A. Yes.

9 Q. What is it?

10 A. It's a picture of Jason Galanis.

11 Q. Does that accurately depict what he looks like?

12 A. Yes.

13 MS. MERMELSTEIN: The government offers Government's 14 Exhibit 101.

15 THE COURT: Any objection?

16 MR. BIALE: No objection.

17 THE COURT: Received.

18 (Government's Exhibit 101 received in evidence)

19 MS. MERMELSTEIN: While we're solving the technical 20 difficulties, let's go back to the meeting. Okay, we've got 21 it. Thanks, *Ms. Sheinwald.

22 Q. Who ran the meeting with Jason Galanis and the other people
23 you've just named?

24 A. Jason Galanis and Gary Hirst.

25 Q. What was the proposal being discussed in that meeting?

G9DOHIR2

Direct - Mr. Doueck

1 A. The proposal was that --

2 MR. BIALE: Objection, hearsay.

3 THE COURT: Sustained.

4 MS. MERMELSTEIN: Your Honor, I think that the 5 statements by Jason Galanis about a proposed transaction are 6 statements in furtherance of a conspiracy.

7 THE COURT: When was the statement made?

8 THE WITNESS: During the meeting in November.

9 THE COURT: When was the meeting?

10 THE WITNESS: November, 2009.

11 THE COURT: One second. I'll allow it. Go ahead.

12 MR. BIALE: Your Honor, may we approach on this?

13 THE COURT: Sure.

14 One second, ladies and gentlemen. You can stand up
15 and stretch.

16 I'll see you at the sidebar.

17 (Continued on next page)

G9DOHIR2

Direct - Mr. Doueck

1 (At sidebar)

2 MR. BIALE: The Stillwater transaction is separate
3 from the Weston transaction which they are going to argue is 4 part of the conspiracy, so not all statements made at the 5 meeting by Galanis or Hirst are in furtherance of the 6 conspiracy.

7 THE COURT: Understood. You don't urge that all
8 statements made at the meeting were in furtherance of the 9 conspiracy?

10 MS. MERMELSTEIN: No, your Honor. But I think that 11 understanding how Gerova, the entity that was manipulated for 12 the fraud, came to be formed and how it acquired its assets,
13 understanding how the SPAC worked and how it was formed and how 14 the transaction purportedly made sense is all a fundamental 15 part of the conspiracy, and this is a witness who can educate
16 the jury on that. If you want to offer the statements not for 17 their truth but simply to show how it is that he ended up in 18 business with them, that's also a basis to do it. But I think
19 that Jason Galanis' statement encouraging people with liquid
20 assets to sell those assets to Gerova for shares of Gerova
21 stock is 100 percent a statement in furtherance of the 22 conspiracy.

23 THE COURT: Well, okay. I'm guessing you both know
24 what was said at the meeting. Okay? I don't have a clue.
25 Just back up.

G9DOHIR2

Direct - Mr. Doueck

1 MR. TREMONTE: We don't know.

2 THE COURT: All right. So you don't know, either.
3 You know, I don't.

4 MS. MERMELSTEIN: I do.

5 THE COURT: There are statements during and in 6 furtherance of a conspiracy that are admissible. You need to 7 break down your question so we can find out whether or not this 8 is a statement that's during and in furtherance of the 9 conspiracy or something somewhat different. The background of 10 the conspiracy, how the conspirators came to know one another
11 or what they were doing, even on the eve of the conspiracy, so
12 as to understand the conspiracy, which are not statements
13 during the conspiracy, in furtherance of the conspiracy, and
14 then there may be something else which is neither of those. I
15 can't tell from the question what's coming, so you have to 16 break that down.

17 Background of the conspiracy, the government is able 18 to offer evidence to show what kind of business the 19 coconspirators were in, how they came to know one another, for 20 example.

21 MR. BIALE: But your Honor, we're objecting to hearsay
22 testimony about the background of the conspiracy. The 23 background I understand may be relevant, but that doesn't solve
24 the hearsay problem.

25 THE COURT: If offered by this witness.

G9DOHIR2

Direct - Mr. Doueck

1 MS. MERMELSTEIN: Let me proffer what the witness is
2 going to say, which is, I expect this witness will say that
3 Jason Galanis and Gary Hirst proposed a transaction in which
4 the SPAC, then called ASSAC, would purchase Stillwater's
5 illiquid assets in return for shares of a company to be formed,
6 Gerova. He will explain how that made business sense, that is,
7 in what fashion that was a good situation for Stillwater and in
8 what fashion that made sense for the SPAC, and that they then
9 entered into, in fact, such a transaction.

10 Certainly, he can testify that he entered into the 11 transaction. I think it's helpful to understand how it came to 12 be that it was proposed and who proposed it. I don't think 13 that that testimony itself is being offered for the truth that 14 the transaction happened -- in fact, he'll just be able to say
15 then the transaction happened -- but it's confusing to just say
16 "then we did it" without explaining how they came to do it.
17 And I think given Jason Galanis and Gary Hirst's plans for what
18 to do with this company, inducing someone in distress to enter
19 into this transaction, is in furtherance of the conspiracy. So
20 I think it's admissible on both grounds.

21 THE COURT: In order for the statements of Galanis to 22 be admissible, they must be during and in furtherance of the 23 conspiracy. Now, I'm trying to get this sorted out here. Are 24 you offering the statements by Galanis as statements by a
25 conspirator during and in furtherance of the conspiracy?

G9DOHIR2

Direct - Mr. Doueck

1 MS. MERMELSTEIN: Yes.

2 THE COURT: What's the basis for the objection?

3 MR. TREMONTE: It's difficult to imagine if "in 4 furtherance of the conspiracy" extends back to this
5 conversation proposing the Stillwater transaction, then it's no
6 exaggeration to say that it extends all the way back to the 7 first time that Gary Hirst and Jason Galanis met. This is very 8 far afield.

9 THE COURT: Is it outside the temporal scope of the 10 conspiracy?

11 MS. MERMELSTEIN: No.

12 MR. TREMONTE: It is where there are a great many 13 things --

14 THE COURT: It is or --

15 MR. TREMONTE: No, it's inside the --

16 THE COURT: Flo, can you turn on the white noise,
17 please? Thank you.

18 MR. TREMONTE: The proposal to do this deal and for 19 ASSAC to acquire the assets has nothing to do with the charged
20 crime. It's very, very distant, causally related, but it's so
21 attenuated that to suggest that it's in furtherance of the 22 conspiracy would, in effect, draw in basically everything that 23 these people were doing.

24 MS. MERMELSTEIN: I don't think it's attenuated in any 25 fashion. First, the purpose of the deal was to get liquidity

G9DOHIR2

Direct - Mr. Doueck

1 to Stillwater. In fact, this witness will testify Gerova
2 didn't have that liquidity, and then proceeded to take cash out
3 of Stillwater, first.

4 Second, there are email communications between Ymer
5 Shahini, the strawman, and other members of the conspiracy in
6 which Shahini is confused about which introduction he is meant
7 to have made, and says Stillwater, when he means Weston, has 8 evidence when in fact he has no idea, period, which one is 9 which.

10 So I think that the story is integral on how Gerova
11 came to be formed as an integral part of the conspiracy, and I
12 think that Jason Galanis' statements soliciting this 13 transaction are in furtherance of the conspiracy.

14 I also think that those statements, as a third basis
15 for admissibility, that Jason Galanis proposed something is not 16 being offered for its truth, it's being offered for the fact
17 that he proposed it. This witness will then say what in fact
18 happened. But I think that it's admissible on all of these 19 bases.

20 THE COURT: Well, when you mush together something
21 that's admissible for the truth of its content with admissible
22 for the fact that it was said, I think you're mushing your 23 arguments and there's a lack of clarity.

24 If you want to offer it for the truth of its content,
25 then I will rule, and if I sustain an objection, you can try

G9DOHIR2

Direct - Mr. Doueck

1 alternatively. Or if you want to withdraw your offer for the
2 truth of its content and want to offer it only for the fact
3 that it was said, then I will rule on that.

4 MS. MERMELSTEIN: I apologize.

5 THE COURT: I don't rule on a mush. I'm sorry.

6 MS. MERMELSTEIN: I meant to simply give alternative
7 bases, but the first answer is the government is offering it
8 for its truth.

9 THE COURT: All right.

10 MR. TREMONTE: Can we propose, if it's important for 11 the transaction to come in, I don't know why he can't just 12 testify that the transaction was proposed and what happened
13 without the hearsay statements, and then you've got your 14 background.

15 MS. MERMELSTEIN: I think, among other things, who 16 proposed it is significant. I think who proposed it is 17 significant. And if you concede that the transaction is 18 admissible, I don't see what the problem with asking him how it
19 got started is.

20 THE COURT: This is actually a common circumstance in 21 a conspiracy trial.

22 Prima facie, the government has made out a plausible
23 case that it is a statement by a conspirator in furtherance of 24 the conspiracy, and I will allow you to explore on that basis,
25 but I reserve the right to strike, as I do with all such

G9DOHIR2

Direct - Mr. Doueck

1 statements.

2 MR. BIALE: Your Honor, just in addition, to the
3 extent they are going to suggest that there was something
4 improper about inducing someone in a desperate position to
5 engage in this Stillwater transaction, which is not a
6 transaction that is charged in the indictment, it's improper
7 propensity evidence, and it was not noticed.

8 THE COURT: It's not propensity evidence if it's a
9 statement in furtherance of the charged conspiracy. It can't 10 be propensity evidence there. It either is in furtherance of 11 the charged conspiracy or it's not. If it's not, then maybe
12 you have an argument. But you don't have an argument if it's a
13 statement in furtherance of the conspiracy, which is where I am
14 right now. Okay.

15 MR. TREMONTE: Please note the objection.

16 MS. HARRIS: Your Honor, if we could just ask the 17 government, to the extent we're going to have these, that they 18 not make the specific reference of statements in furtherance of 19 the conspiracy before the jury.

20 THE COURT: I'm not going to --

21 MS. HARRIS: Before we approached, they did offer the 22 basis. I'm just asking --

23 THE COURT: I'm not going to worry so much about a
24 statement about the admissibility. If there's extended
25 argument, that's a different story, but a mere reference -- the

G9DOHIR2

Direct - Mr. Doueck

1 jury has been told by me six times, I think, that this is a
2 case about a conspiracy. That's what the charge is.

2 THE COURT: Why don't you restate the question.

3 MS. MERMELSTEIN: Thank you, your Honor.

4 BY MS. MERMELSTEIN:

5 Q. What was the transaction being proposed in the meeting with 6 Jason Galanis, Gary Hirst, and others?

7 A. The transaction was that this company that was called a
8 SPAC, a special purpose acquisition company, was going to 9 purchase the Stillwater assets and provide them with needed
10 cash that the assets needed, and at the same time in exchange
11 for those assets offer our investors who wanted liquidity
12 shares of a public company so that they can sell those shares
13 potentially at their will and have the liquidity they needed.

14 Q. Let's break that down. First, you mentioned a SPAC. What 15 is a SPAC?

16 A. A special purpose acquisition company. I was told at the 17 time that it was a company that had to purchase an asset in 18 order to actually deSPAC or go public, become a public stock.

19 Q. What would happen to the SPAC after it purchased
20 Stillwater's assets?

21 A. My understanding was -- I wasn't a securities person, but 22 my understanding was that it would be a public company at that 23 point with registered and freely traded stock.

24 Q. And the Stillwater investors would be given shares of that 25 stock.

G9DOHIR2

Direct - Mr. Doueck

1 A. Exactly.

2 MR. BIALE: Objection, leading.

3 THE COURT: Refrain from leading.

4 Q. What was the benefit of Stillwater in that transaction?

5 A. So there were two benefits. Number one, the assets -- the 6 assets, meaning the loans and et cetera, needed cash, and that
7 the company claimed to have $115 million of cash, and so that
8 would protect our assets. And number two, our investors would 9 have a path towards getting their investments back if they 10 wanted it.

11 Q. When you say your loans needed cash, what do you mean by 12 that?

13 A. So to give an example, many examples, but one example could
14 be, we lend money to a company that purchased life insurance
15 policies, and we would pay -- the loan would pay the premiums
16 of the life insurance policies until the person would pass
17 away, at which point the life insurance will pay us back. So 18 if we don't have the money -- we need the money to pay the 19 premiums for the life insurance policies; otherwise, they 20 lapse.

21 Q. And you lose your investment.

22 A. Exactly.

23 Q. At the time that these discussions were going on, had 24 Stillwater received an inquiry from the SEC?

25 A. Yes.

G9DOHIR2

Direct - Mr. Doueck

1 Q. Did you disclose that to the SPAC people you were talking
2 to about the SPAC?

3 A. Yes.

4 Q. What was the result of that SEC inquiry?

5 A. In December of 2010, they sent us a no action letter, that
6 they're not going to continue it.

7 Q. Meaning the inquiry was closed.

8 A. Exactly.

9 Q. Did you ultimately agree to the transaction with the SPAC?

10 A. Yes.

11 Q. How was it structured?

12 A. Well, like I said, the structure was supposed to be that 13 the public company or the SPAC would get -- in a transfer would 14 get the assets that we had in exchange for our investors, our 15 stakeholders getting shares of their company.

16 Q. What was the new company going to be called?

17 A. Gerova Financial Group.

18 Q. Were the shares that the Stillwater investors were to 19 receive to be restricted or unrestricted?

20 A. Restricted.

21 Q. What does that mean?

22 A. It means we couldn't trade them.

23 Q. For how long?

24 A. My understanding was that we weren't going to be allowed to 25 trade them until the summer or July, August of 2010.

G9DOHIR2

Direct - Mr. Doueck

1 Q. How would the number of shares being received by Stillwater
2 investors be determined?

3 A. So it was an exchange. Right? It was an asset purchase.
4 So therefore, the number of shares, which was set at that time
5 I believe at $7.50 per share, would be traded for the value of 6 the assets. So if the assets were worth, let's just say
7 theoretically, $750, then we would get 100 shares. So $7.50
8 per share.

9 Q. Let's talk with regard to each of the Stillwater funds at 10 issue in the transaction about how the assets were valued. So
11 first, on the fund of funds, how were Stillwater's assets to be 12 valued?

13 A. So the fund of funds had investments in underlying funds
14 that many of which were underwater and going through 15 suspensions and liquidity crisis. So before we made the deal
16 with Geroval, during the discussions, what they offered -- I was 17 at one point saying don't even put them in the deal because we 18 don't have an exact value for them, and then they said, no, we 19 want to buy the fund of funds with a minimum --

20 MR. BIALE: Objection, your Honor. He's testifying to 21 hearsay.

22 THE COURT: Pause. Put a new question to the witness.

23 Q. Let me redirect you, Mr. Doueck.

24 In terms of the valuation of the fund of funds, what
25 was the ultimate agreement about how they would be valued?

G9DOHIR2

Direct - Mr. Doueck

1 A. A minimum value of 75 percent of our carrying value, of the 2 estimated value of the funds.

3 Q. Just so we're clear, what's carrying value?

4 A. It was the estimated mid-asset value of the portfolio of 5 underlying funds that we had.

6 Q. What about the real estate fund? How was that going to be
7 valued?

8 A. That would be valued with appraisals of the real estate
9 assets, the assets we had in the fund, the real estate assets.

10 Q. What about the loan fund?

11 A. The asset-backed fund? In the Fall of 2009, we had done
12 a -- Houlihan had done an valuation of the assets, and we
13 picked the mid-point of that valuation, so they had a minimum
14 value and a maximum, we picked the mid-point, and we went with 15 the mid-point of that, subject to the audit which would come
16 sometime in 2010.

17 Q. So were the final number of shares to be given to 18 Stillwater actually determined at the time of the transaction
19 or was there going to be a final determination later?

20 MR. BIALE: Objection.

21 THE COURT: Rephrase it.

22 Q. At what point in time would the exact number of shares to
23 be given to Stillwater investors be determined?

24 A. So the estimate would be at the time of the closing, but 25 the final would be after the audit was -- after we got the

G9DOHIR2

Direct - Mr. Doueck

1 audit from our auditors.

2 Q. Was there ever a final unqualified audit done with regards
3 to those assets?

4 A. None.

5 Q. What, if any, fees were you or your partner entitled to in 6 connection with this transaction?

7 A. We were entitled to 2 percent of the asset value of the 8 transaction.

9 Q. Did you ever collect those fees?

10 A. No.

11 Q. What, if anything, did Jason Huntley receive for making the 12 introduction that led to the transaction?

13 A. I don't know.

14 Q. Did you participate in any conversations about the 15 possibility of him receiving fees?

16 A. Originally, I did, yes.

17 Q. Do you know what ultimately happened with that?

18 A. I actually don't.

19 Q. What about Jason Galanis? Was he compensated in some 20 fashion for the transaction?

21 A. I didn't think he was, no.

22 Q. Prior to the consummation of the transaction, what, if 23 anything, did you know about Jason Galanis' ability to serve as 24 an officer or director of a public company?

25 A. I was told that he had a ban and wasn't allowed to.

G9DOHIR2

Direct - Mr. Doueck

1 Q. Did that concern you?

2 A. Yes.

3 Q. What about it concerned you?

4 A. Well, there are two concerns that I had. One was if he's 5 going to serve, if he's going to be serving, then I'm going to 6 be party to a company that's illegal. That was one concern.
7 The other one was --

8 MR. BIALE: Objection, foundation, your Honor.

9 THE COURT: Overruled.

10 THE WITNESS: -- the second concern was that he had 11 something in his background that was not pretty, so it was a
12 concern for us.

13 Q. What did you understand Jason Galanis' role in the company
14 would be following the consummation of the transaction?

15 A. I was told by Steve Weiss, the --

16 MR. BIALE: Objection.

17 THE COURT: No. This is not for the truth of its 18 content. You're not offering it for that purpose.

19 MS. MERMELSTEIN: No, your Honor.

20 THE COURT: Ladies and gentlemen, this is for the fact
21 that it was said, not whether the statement that was given to 22 him was, in fact, what was going to happen or was the truth,
23 but this is what he was told by someone.

24 Go ahead. You can answer.

25 THE WITNESS: So I was told that he would be like more

G9DOHIR2

Direct - Mr. Doueck

1 of a broker, investment banker, bringing deals to the company
2 for the company to do.

3 Q. Did you ultimately go forward with the transaction?

4 A. Yes.

5 Q. What made you decide to do it?

6 A. It was a business decision. The downsides -- the upsides
7 of the deal were far outweighed the potential downside.

8 Q. Did Gerova acquire other similar liquid assets like
9 Stillwater?

10 A. Yes.

11 Q. Which ones?

12 A. The Wimbledon Fund, which is a fund of funds like ours, and 13 a reinsurance company in Bermuda.

14 Q. Who was the principal of the Wimbledon Fund?

15 A. Albert Halal.

16 Q. And what was your understanding of who introduced Gerova to 17 the Wimbleton introduction?

18 MR. BIALE: Objection, foundation.

19 THE COURT: Rephrase the question.

20 Q. Did you come to have an understanding -- withdrawn.

21 Let's turn to the time period after the SPAC had
22 acquired Stillwater and become Gerova. Who ran Gerova?

23 A. Well, Gerova had a board of directors. The chairman was 24 Gary Hirst, so I would say Gary ran Gerova.

25 Q. You mentioned a board of directors. Who else was on the

G9DOHIR2

Direct - Mr. Doueck

1 board?

2 A. There was gentleman by the name of Michael Hlavsa, who I
3 think was the CFO, chief financial officer, there were other
4 board members. There was a man from Canada. His name was 5 Keith Laslop, and a few other of Gary's -- what I assumed to be 6 Gary's friends.

7 Q. You say that you assume that, based on what?

8 A. Just conversation. Just, I was at the board meetings, and
9 as a board member, and I would notice that the other board
10 members were friendly with each other.

11 Q. You mentioned you were a board member. How did you come to 12 be on the board?

13 A. So part of the deal we made was that they would allow one
14 person from Stillwater to serve on the board to watch what they 15 were doing, I guess.

16 Q. What, if anything, did you observe about the interactions
17 between the other members of the board?

18 A. So it was like a club. Gary was the leader of the club,
19 and I was kind of an outsider.

20 Q. What do you mean by you were an outsider?

21 A. Well, they had my assets, they had all our capital, and
22 they were -- the other board members were all part of a --
23 looked like they were part of a team. And like I said, I
24 wasn't really -- I was always a -- I always felt like I was a
25 hostage.

G9DOHIR2

Direct - Mr. Doueck

1 MR. BIALE: Objection.

2 THE COURT: Basis.

3 MR. BIALE: Foundation.

4 THE COURT: Overruled.

5 Q. Did you get paid for being a member of the board?

6 A. No.

7 Q. What about the other board members of the board? Did they 8 get paid?

9 A. I believe they did.

10 MR. BIALE: Objection, foundation.

11 THE COURT: What was your basis for your belief, sir?

12 THE WITNESS: Financial statements.

13 THE COURT: Okay. Overruled.

14 Q. Did you know from Geroval's documents how much they got 15 paid?

16 A. I don't know exactly. I think tens of thousands of dollars
17 each.

18 Q. What about Gary Hirst? Did he get paid?

19 A. I believe so, yes.

20 Q. And approximately how much was he paid?

21 A. It was -- I don't know exact number, but probably 22 hundreds --

23 MR. BIALE: Objection, speculation.

24 THE COURT: Wait a minute.

25 THE WITNESS: Sorry.

G9DOHIR2

Direct - Mr. Doueck

1 THE COURT: If a witness says they don't know the
2 exact number, it makes their testimony speculation. Overruled.

3 Do you have a basis to estimate?

4 THE WITNESS: Yes.

5 THE COURT: Okay. Go ahead.

6 THE WITNESS: Hundreds of thousands of dollars.

7 Q. What were the board's responsibilities?

8 A. I wasn't a securities lawyer, but I understood the board's
9 responsibilities to be to approve transactions, mergers,
10 acquisitions, et cetera.

11 Q. What, if any, responsibilities did the board have for 12 approving agreements entered into by the company?

13 A. I would imagine -- I thought the board --

14 MR. BIALE: Objection, foundation.

15 THE COURT: Well, not what you imagined, but what 16 your -- you can testify if it was your understanding. If 17 you're imagining, you can't testify to what you're imagining.
18 Do you understand?

19 THE WITNESS: Yes.

20 THE COURT: So are you imagining or are you recalling?

21 THE WITNESS: I'm recalling.

22 THE COURT: Okay. You may testify.

23 THE WITNESS: Care to repeat the question, please?

24 Q. Of course. What was your understanding of the board's 25 responsibilities with regard to approving agreements entered

G9DOHIR2

Direct - Mr. Doueck

1 into by Gerova?

2 A. My understanding was that the board had to approve them.

3 Q. Would that include consulting agreements?

4 A. Yes.

5 Q. Now, did you ever review bylaws or other written documents
6 laying out the rules governing the board?

7 A. No.

8 Q. Were you aware of whether or not Gerova had such rules?

9 A. No.

10 Q. How often did the board meet?

11 A. About once a month.

12 Q. And was that in person or some other way?

13 A. Part of the meeting was partially in person with -- almost 14 always there were outside board members that called in on a
15 conference line.

16 Q. Let me actually back up a moment. What was your 17 understanding about whether or not the board had to authorize 18 shares being issued by the company?

19 A. I'm sorry. Could you repeat the question?

20 Q. Sure. Backing up to the obligations of the board. What 21 was your understanding of whether the board had to authorize 22 the issuance of shares?

23 MR. BIALE: Objection, foundation. Did he have an 24 understanding?

25 THE COURT: Did you have an understanding?

G9DOHIR2

Direct - Mr. Doueck

1 THE WITNESS: Yes.

2 THE COURT: Go ahead.

3 Q. You can answer, Mr. Doueck.

4 A. I assumed the board, and I understood that the board would
5 have to authorize shares given to anybody.

6 MR. BIALE: Objection.

7 THE COURT: Basis.

8 MR. BIALE: Foundation. He assumed.

9 THE COURT: What was the basis for your understanding?

10 THE WITNESS: As a board member, I was a board member
11 of other -- of other organizations before, and that would be a
12 typical -- something typical that a board would do.

13 THE COURT: Thank you.

14 THE WITNESS: It wasn't based on reading bylaws,
15 that's all.

16 THE COURT: Next question.

17 Q. Let's move back to the board meetings. You were saying --
18 I asked you if they met in person or another way, and you were 19 explaining.

20 A. Yes. The board would -- there would be some people meeting
21 in person, and then some people would be calling in over a
22 conference line.

23 Q. Who prepared the agenda for those meetings?

24 A. Gary Hirst.

25 Q. Who ran the meetings?

G9DOHIR2

Direct - Mr. Doueck

1 A. Gary Hirst.

2 Q. What was his style of running the meetings?

3 MR. BIALE: Objection. 403 and 404.

4 THE COURT: Overruled.

5 Q. Go ahead, Mr. Doueck.

6 A. Gary was a bully. He ran the meeting -- it looked like it
7 was all rehearsed and he ran according to his agenda very 8 strictly.

9 THE COURT: Well, I'm going to strike everything
10 other -- I'm going to strike the bully comment.

11 Disregard that, ladies and gentlemen.

12 The rest of the answer stands. Go ahead.

13 Q. Were your views in the meetings given consideration?

14 A. Not generally, no.

15 Q. Did anyone take notes at the meetings?

16 A. Yes.

17 Q. And were minutes prepared of the meetings following
18 meetings?

19 A. Yes.

20 Q. Did you receive copies of those minutes following meetings?

21 A. Yes.

22 Q. And what was your general practice about whether you
23 actually reviewed those?

24 A. Mostly, I didn't review them.

25 Q. What was Jason Galanis' role in the company after the

G9DOHIR2

Direct - Mr. Doueck

1 Stillwater acquisition?

2 A. Well, Jason would try to make -- help the company make
3 acquisitions and mergers.

4 Q. Did he attend board meetings?

5 A. Yes.

6 Q. Was his role in the company after the consummation of the 7 transaction consistent with what your understanding had been
8 before the transaction?

9 A. It was much more than my initial understanding.

10 Q. Based on your observations in connection with your role as 11 a board member, what was Jason Galanis and Hirst's
12 relationship?

13 A. Very close friends, partners in other businesses.

14 Q. Are you familiar with someone named Marshall Manley?

15 A. Yes.

16 Q. Who is that?

17 A. Marshall was the initial CEO of the company.

18 Q. What was your opinion of him?

19 A. When I first met Marshall, I was not impressed very much.

20 Q. Did you express that view to anyone?

21 A. Yes.

22 Q. Who?

23 A. Jason Galanis.

24 Q. Let me turn your attention to April 7th of 2010. Did you
25 participate in a board meeting on that date?

G9DOHIR2

Direct - Mr. Doueck

1 A. Yes. I think it was April 6th.

2 Q. Well, let's say this. Did you participate in a board
3 meeting in April of 2010?

4 A. I'm sorry. I'm sorry. Take it back. I thought you said
5 October. April 7th, yes.

6 Q. Who set up that meeting?

7 A. Jason Galanis and Gary Hirst.

8 Q. Where was it held?

9 A. It was at the Atlantis Hotel in the Bahamas.

10 Q. How did you get there?

11 A. A chartered plane.

12 Q. Was it your idea to charter a plane for the meeting?

13 A. No.

14 Q. What did you think of the fact that a plane had been 15 chartered?

16 MR. BIALE: Objection.

17 THE COURT: Rephrase that.

18 Q. Did you have any concerns about the fact that a plane had 19 been chartered?

20 A. Yes.

21 MR. BIALE: Objection, relevance.

22 THE COURT: Overruled.

23 Q. What were the concerns?

24 A. That the company was starving for money, and our assets
25 needed money like we were promised, and why charter a plane

G9DOHIR2

Direct - Mr. Doueck

1 when we could just get into coach and take a plane like
2 everyone else.

3 Q. Did you express that view at that time?

4 A. No.

5 Q. Why not?

6 A. I was an outsider, so anything I said really would be
7 dismissed anyway, so I didn't see any point in it.

8 MR. BIALE: Objection.

9 THE COURT: Sustained. Stricken.

10 Q. Did you know in advance what the agenda for that meeting
11 was?

12 A. Yes.

13 Q. How did you find out?

14 A. Jason told me. Jason Galanis told me.

15 Q. What was the agenda?

16 A. To fire Marshall Manley.

17 Q. Was Manley, in fact, fired at that meeting?

18 A. Yes.

19 Q. Were you involved in negotiating his firing or his 20 severance?

21 A. No.

22 Q. Did the board address any other issues at that meeting?

23 A. After Marshall Manley was terminated, they actually sat
24 down and had a meeting, and at that meeting there were other
25 things that they did at the board meeting.

G9DOHIR2

Direct - Mr. Doueck

1 Q. What were they?

2 A. One of them is they hired -- right at that moment, they
3 hired this gentleman by the name of Stewart Solomons to be the
4 managing director or the interim CEO.

5 Q. How did you respond to that?

6 A. I was -- I objected. I stood up and I was outraged. I
7 said, "We don't even know who this person is. We didn't do any 8 due diligence. We need a background check." I asked Gary to 9 hold off on that hire.

10 MR. BIALE: Objection.

11 THE COURT: Basis.

12 MR. BIALE: Hearsay.

13 THE COURT: Overruled.

14 Q. How did Gary respond?

15 A. Gary said, "Sit down, Jack."

16 MR. BIALE: Objection.

17 THE COURT: Overruled. It's for the fact that it was 18 said, ladies and gentlemen.

19 THE WITNESS: Gary said, "Sit down, Jack," and he went
20 ahead with the vote to install this gentleman as the new CEO
21 that we had not even met yet.

22 Q. You mentioned earlier that part of the purpose of the 23 Stillwater/Gerova transaction was to get cash to support
24 Stillwater's assets. Did Stillwater get cash from Gerova?

25 A. No.

G9DOHIR2

Direct - Mr. Doueck

1 Q. Did Gerova ever take cash from Stillwater?

2 A. Yes.

3 Q. How did that happen?

4 A. Well, some of our assets were sold so they could use the
5 money.

6 Q. Prior to getting ready to testify here today, had you ever
7 heard of a person named Ymer Shahini?

8 A. No.

9 Q. Sitting here today, do you ever remember hearing that name?

10 A. No.

11 Q. Let me turn your attention to October 6th of 2010. Did you
12 attend a board meeting on that date?

13 A. Yes.

14 Q. Any particular recollection of the events of that meeting?

15 A. No.

16 Q. Do you remember any discussion of the approval of warrants
17 at that meeting?

18 A. No.

19 Q. Of ratifying the warrants that had already been issued.

20 MR. BIALE: Your Honor, asked and answered.

21 THE COURT: Overruled.

22 THE WITNESS: No.

23 Q. Warrants going to Ymer Shahini?

24 A. No.

25 Q. Let me show you what is in evidence as Government's

G9DOHIR2

Direct - Mr. Doueck

1 Exhibit 222, which is in front of you.

2 MS. MERMELSTEIN: Ms. Sheinwald, if we can pull that
3 up for the jury, please?

4 Q. What are these?

5 A. These are minutes of that meeting, October 6th, 2010.

6 Q. Did you receive these minutes following the meeting?

7 A. Yes.

8 Q. Do you remember if you actually reviewed them?

9 A. I do remember that I did not review them.

10 Q. Okay.

11 MS. MERMELSTEIN: If we can turn, Ms. Sheinwald, to 12 page 2, please. If we can highlight the section "Ratification
13 of share issuances". Zoom in so the jurors can read it. Okay.

14 Q. According to this document, what warrants are being 15 ratified?

16 MR. BIALE: Objection.

17 THE COURT: First of all, is this document in 18 evidence?

19 MS. MERMELSTEIN: It is, your Honor. It came in 20 through the stipulation.

21 THE COURT: It is what number?

22 MS. MERMELSTEIN: 222.

23 MR. BIALE: Your Honor, he says he has no memory of 24 it. The document speaks for itself.

25 THE COURT: I'll allow the question. Go ahead.

G9DOHIR2

Direct - Mr. Doueck

1 MS. MERMELSTEIN: Thank you, your Honor.

2 Q. Mr. Doueck, if you could just read for the jury the first
3 sentence of that section.

4 A. "Gary Hirst presented to the board of directors of the 5 company the warrants and shares that have been issued in 6 connection with settlement agreements with Tag Virgin Islands,
7 Inc., Ymer Shahini, and Oxfords Group, LLC."

8 Q. Does this indicate how many warrants are being issued?

9 A. No.

10 MS. MERMELSTEIN: We can take that down,
11 Ms. Sheinwald. Thank you.

12 Q. Were you aware that Ymer Shahini was entitled to more than 13 5 million shares as a result of that warrant issuance?

14 MR. BIALE: Objection.

15 THE COURT: Overruled.

16 THE WITNESS: No.

17 Q. Were you aware that the shares were unrestricted?

18 A. No.

19 Q. Would that have been important for you to know?

20 MR. BIALE: Objection.

21 THE COURT: Overruled.

22 THE WITNESS: Yes.

23 Q. Why?

24 A. Our Stillwater investors and stakeholders had their life
25 savings and funds that were being transferred for shares of

G9DOHIR2

Direct - Mr. Doueck

1 Gerova. If anybody would get 5 million shares and our shares
2 were not -- first of all, we didn't get the shares yet, and
3 second of all, they weren't even allowed to be traded, even if 4 we would have got them. If someone else would step in front of 5 us and get 5 million shares, first of all, it dilutes what we 6 have, obviously, and number two, they can trade the stock and 7 do whatever they want before our investors can.

8 (Continued on next page)

G9D8HIR3

Doueck - Direct

1 Q. Would you have had the same concern about a smaller
2 issuance of restricted stock?

3 A. No.

4 MR. BIALE: Objection.

5 THE COURT: Overruled.

6 Q. Let's jump to January of 2011. What, if anything, happened
7 with regard to Gerova at that point?

8 A. In January 2011, there was an article that went around the 9 world by a short seller named Dalrymple and that created a
10 free-fall and the stock tanked.

11 Q. The article was negative?

12 A. Oh, very negative.

13 Q. What, if anything, did the article say about Jason Galanis?

14 MR. BIALE: Objection.

15 THE COURT: Ladies and gentlemen, this is not for the 16 truth of its content, but the fact that it was said, because 17 the fact that it was said may have influenced -- and I expect
18 we will hear -- influenced certain actions of the witness.

19 Go ahead.

20 A. I am sorry. Can you repeat that?

21 Q. Of course.

22 What, if anything, did the article say about Jason
23 Galanis?

24 A. I don't recall exactly. I haven't seen that article in a
25 long time. But I remember it being very negative about him.

G9D8HIR3

Doueck - Direct

1 Q. Did it disclose his role in Gerova?

2 A. I think I remember it saying that he had a much wider role
3 than he was allowed to.

4 Q. Did the report also concern other issues?

5 A. Yes.

6 Q. At the time, did you believe that Gerova was a legitimate
7 company?

8 A. I did.

9 Q. How did you want to respond?

10 A. I actually wrote a 25-page rebuttal to all the arguments in 11 that short seller's paper, and I brought it to the board to ask
12 them to edit it and then get it out there so we can have a
13 defense and so we can protect the value of the stock.

14 THE COURT: We will take our break at this point.

15 Ladies and gentlemen, this is time for our lunch
16 break. Remember, do not discuss the case among yourselves or 17 with anyone. Keep an open mind. We will see you back for a
18 2:00 start. So it would be appreciated if you got back a few
19 minutes early so you can get through the security lines.

20 Thank you very much.

21 (Jury exits courtroom)

22 THE COURT: Have a very pleasant lunch.

1 AFTERNOON SESSION

2 2:00 p.m.

3 THE COURT: Bring the jurors in, please.

4 (Jury present)

5 JACK DOUECK, resumed.

6 THE COURT: Please be seated.

7 Good afternoon, ladies and gentlemen. We are back at 8 work.

9 Ms. Mermelstein, you may continue.

10 BY MS. MERMELSTEIN:

11 Q. Mr. Doueck, when we broke for lunch I think we were talking
12 about a letter that you drafted in response to the Dalrymple
13 report.

14 Did anyone else participate in drafting that letter
15 with you?

16 A. Yes.

17 Q. Who was that?

18 A. Jason Galanis.

19 Q. Did you ever send the letter?

20 A. Send the letter where?

21 Q. Did you ever send it anywhere publicly?

22 A. No.

23 Q. What happened to Gerova following the Dalrymple report?

24 A. The stock went from about $30 to being de -- whatever it is 25 called, declassified or deregistered, delisted, and it

G9D8HIR3

Doueck - Cross

1 eventually went to zero.

2 Q. When you say deregistered, delisted, what do you mean by
3 that?

4 A. I think they were kicked off the New York Stock Exchange.

5 Q. At any time from the time that you entered into this deal
6 until Gerova stock was removed from the stock exchange, did the 7 shares belonging to the Stillwater investors ever become 8 publicly tradeable?

9 A. No.

10 Q. Was there ever a time when you could have sold them?

11 A. No. There was never a time that we even got them.

12 Q. You never even received them?

13 A. No.

14 Q. What happened to the value of the Stillwater investors'
15 investments over the course of the months following the 16 Dalrymple report?

17 A. They went to zero.

18 Q. How much did you and your partner personally lose in 19 connection with the decline to the stock?

20 A. About $40 million.

21 MS. MERMELSTEIN: No further questions.

22 THE COURT: You may cross-examine.

23 CROSS EXAMINATION

24 BY MR. BIALE:

25 Q. Good afternoon, Mr. Doueck.

G9D8HIR3

Doueck - Cross

1           You testified that you became involved in Gerova in
2   2009, correct?

3   A.   No.

4   Q.   You testified that in 2009 you met Jason Galanis?

5   A.   Yes.

6   Q.   I would like to show you what has been marked for
7   identification as Defense Exhibit 208.

8           THE COURT:   It should not be displayed to the jury
9   yet; just to the witness.   Then we will see where we go.

10          Go ahead.

11   Q.   Do you see Exhibit 208, Mr. Doueck, on your screen?

12   A.   Yes.

13   Q.   Do you recognize that person?

14   A.   Yes.

15   Q.   Who is that person?

16   A.   Jason Galanis.

17          MR. BIALE:   We move to admit Exhibit 208 into
18   evidence.

19          THE COURT:   Any objection?

20          MS. MERMELSTEIN:   No, your Honor.

21          THE COURT:   Received.

22          (Defendant's Exhibit 208 received in evidence)

23   BY MR. BIALE:

24   Q.   Now, you understood that Jason was a businessman, right?

25   A.   Yes.

G9D8HIR3

Doueck - Cross

1 Q. He was known as somewhat of a dealmaker, is that right?

2 A. Yes.

3 Q. And he was charming?

4 A. Yes.

5 Q. He was a good salesman?

6 A. Yes.

7 Q. And when you met him he was looking for acquisitions?

8 A. Yes.

9 Q. And that's how you came to discuss with him the deal that 10 you testified about with Stillwater?

11 A. Correct.

12 Q. Now, initially the plan was to buy Stillwater Management,
13 right?

14 A. Correct.

15 Q. But that didn't work out?

16 A. Correct.

17 Q. And so you suggested that instead Gerova acquire the assets
18 of Stillwater, right?

19 A. I don't recall that, no.

20 Q. You testified that there were other acquisitions that 21 Gerova was looking into at that time.

22 A. Correct.

23 Q. One of those was the Wimbledon fund?

24 A. Yes.

25 Q. And that acquisition was discussed at the November 2009

G9D8HIR3

Doueck - Cross

1 meeting?

2 A. I don't recall exactly if that was the discussed. I'm
3 sorry.

4 Q. You weren't involved in --

5 THE COURT: You can take the picture down.

6 Q. You weren't involved in setting up the Wimbledon deal, were 7 you?

8 A. No.

9 Q. You testified that Gerova paid for the Stillwater assets
10 with shares, right?

11 A. They were supposed to pay with shares, yes.

12 Q. The deal was that they would pay Stillwater with shares?

13 A. Correct.

14 Q. So Stillwater Capital Partners became a shareholder of 15 Gerova, correct?

16 A. Correct.

17 Q. In fact, there were stock certificates made out to 18 Stillwater Capital Partners of Gerova stock, correct?

19 A. I don't think that's true, no.

20 Q. Let me show you what has been marked for identification as 21 Defendant's Exhibit 1214.

22 Do you see the exhibit?

23 A. Yes.

24 Q. Does that refresh your recollection?

25 A. No. I don't think I ever saw this.

G9D8HIR3

Doueck - Cross

1 Q. Stillwater owned preferred shares, correct?

2 A. I don't think so, no.

3 Q. Let me turn your attention to Government Exhibit 201, and
4 this is a big document so I am going to --

5 MR. BIALE: If I may approach, your Honor --

6 THE COURT: You may.

7 MR. BIALE: -- and bring him the page.

8 Q. Do you recognize that document?

9 A. No.

10 MR. BIALE: This document is in evidence. Can we 11 publish it to the jury?

12 THE COURT: You may. If it's in evidence, you may 13 publish it.

14 Q. If I may just grab that from you for a minute. I have to 15 compare my copy.

16 MR. TREMONTE: Your Honor, while my colleague is 17 conferring with the government, may I approach the courtroom
18 deputy about a technology issue?

19 THE COURT: You may.

20 BY MR. BIALE:

21 Q. So it's your testimony that you have never seen this 22 exhibit, Government's Exhibit 201, in evidence before, is that
23 right?

24 A. Correct.

25 Q. Turning your attention to --

G9D8HIR3

Doueck - Cross

1 MR. BIALE: This document is in evidence.

2 THE COURT: You can publish it to the jury.

3 We are working out the kinks and bugs in the system.

4 Go ahead.

5 BY MR. BIALE:

6 Q. Turning your attention to paragraph 5, isn't it true that
7 Stillwater Capital Partners had 266,667 ordinary shares issued
8 to it?

9 A. I don't know if that's true, but I can see what the paper
10 says. But I never had information like that.

11 Q. Isn't it true that Stillwater Capital Partners had 12 preferred shares as well?

13 A. As I testified already, I don't recall getting any shares.

14 Q. You testified also that any shares that were to be issued
15 to Stillwater were not freely tradeable, is that right?

16 A. Correct.

17 Q. And that's because they were unregistered, is that right?

18 A. I'm not a securities lawyer so I don't know the detail of 19 what that means, but it sounds correct.

20 Q. And you testified that in order to register the shares,
21 Stillwater had to deliver a verified audit of its assets to 22 Gerova, correct?

23 A. I believe so, yes.

24 Q. And you also testified that that audit was never done,
25 right?

G9D8HIR3

Doueck - Cross

1 A. Well, the audit was done but it had one qualification.

2 Q. You testified that you never delivered the final verified
3 audit to Gerova?

4 A. No. I testified I didn't deliver an unqualified audit.

5 Q. Now, there came a point in time when Gerova shared offices
6 with Stillwater, isn't that right?

7 A. I wouldn't call it shared offices. They rented space from 8 us and never paid for it.

9 Q. They had offices within your offices, is that right?

10 A. Correct.

11 Q. And a number of people from Gerova had offices there,
12 right?

13 A. Yes.

14 Q. Joe Bianco was one of them?

15 A. Yes.

16 Q. He became the CEO after Marshall Manley?

17 A. I believe so, yes.

18 Q. His assistant, Rachel Lanham, had an office in there?

19 A. Yes.

20 Q. Gary Hirst didn't have an office there, did he?

21 A. No.

22 Q. In fact, Gary never visited that office except for that one
23 meeting in November, isn't that right?

24 A. I don't think that's true.

25 Q. Now, you testified that you became a member of the board of

G9D8HIR3

Doueck - Cross

1 Gerova after the acquisition of Stillwater, right?

2 A. Correct.

3 Q. Jason Galanis continued to serve in a dealmaker capacity
4 after you became a member of the board?

5 A. Yes.

6 Q. And you also testified that when you became a member of the 7 board, his involvement seemed greater to you than you had 8 previously understood it to be?

9 A. Correct.

10 Q. And you said that that raised concerns for you because of 11 his SEC bar, isn't that right?

12 A. No. I said it concerned me before the deal was struck.

13 Q. But after the deal was struck, when you were a member of 14 the board, it did not concern you?

15 A. The reason -- no, because we had a securities lawyer in 16 every board meeting.

17 Q. And that lawyer was Stephen Weiss?

18 A. Correct.

19 Q. And he was an experienced SEC lawyer, correct?

20 A. Correct.

21 Q. And he was a partner at the law firm of Hodgson Russ?

22 A. Yes.

23 Q. And so it gave you some comfort that there was a securities
24 lawyer with you at the board meetings?

25 A. Yes.

G9D8HIR3

Doueck - Cross

1 Q. He wouldn't allow the company to do things that violated
2 SEC regulations and the law?

3 A. Correct.

4 Q. And he was also aware of the role that Jason Galanis was 5 playing?

6 A. Yes.

7 Q. Now, while you were on the board Jason Galanis set up
8 additional acquisitions for the company, isn't that right?

9 A. Yes.

10 Q. Another deal that he was working on was something called 11 Master Trust. Are you familiar with that?

12 A. I'm not familiar with any deal he made with Master Trust,
13 but I heard the words before.

14 Q. You are familiar that there was a entity called Master
15 Trust?

16 A. Only through Jason talking about it.

17 Q. I am asking you about what your understanding was.

18 A. I didn't really understand exactly what it was about. It
19 was something like, I was under the impression that he 20 controlled it or something like that.

21 Q. It was your understanding that the deal with Master Trust
22 was for liquidity, right?

23 A. Correct.

24 Q. And as you testified before, what liquidity just means is 25 cash?

G9D8HIR3

Doueck - Cross

1 A. Right.

2 Q. Ultimately Gerova did not end up acquiring Master Trust, is
3 that right?

4 A. It's probably correct.

5 Q. In fact, as far as you know, that was something that Jason
6 Galanis was pursuing on his own?

7 A. As far as I know, yes.

8 Q. Now you ran a fund, the Stillwater fund, correct?

9 A. Yes.

10 Q. You ran it successfully?

11 A. Successfully up until the crisis, yes.

12 Q. You generated over a billion dollars in investments you
13 testified?

14 A. Yes. We had about a billion dollars in assets.

15 Q. As a manager of the fund you had a certain fiduciary duty,
16 isn't that right?

17 A. Correct.

18 Q. You're familiar with what those fiduciary duties are?

19 A. I don't have a list of them on me right now, but generally,
20 yes.

21 Q. As a general matter, a fiduciary duty to your investors is 22 to do what is in their best interest, isn't that right?

23 A. Correct.

24 Q. When you became a member of the board of Gerova, you also 25 took on fiduciary duties in that role, isn't that right?

G9D8HIR3

Doueck - Cross

1 A. Correct.

2 Q. Those were fiduciary duties to Gerova's shareholders?

3 A. Correct.

4 Q. And Stillwater itself was a putative shareholder of Gerova,
5 right?

6 A. Yes.

2 THE COURT: The last Q and A appeared to me to elicit
3 testimony about a principle of law, which I don't claim to know
4 Cayman Islands law, but I know if we were talking about U.S.
5 law would be flat out wrong.

6 So a director of a corporation under the laws of most 7 jurisdictions in the United States hold no fiduciary duties to 8 shareholders. I propose to strike it. If you want to instruct 9 me on Cayman Islands law and how this is different -- there is 10 no indication that this man knows anything about Cayman Islands
11 law.

12 MR. BIALE: I am just trying to elicit his 13 understanding of what his duties were as a board member. So I
14 apologize if the questions were inartful.

15 THE COURT: It is not a question of whether inartful.
16 They were very artful. I am simply saying they elicited a
17 point of law which is not the law in any jurisdiction I am
18 aware of, and if this is an exotic principle of Cayman Islands
19 law that you're relying on, it's one that I don't think this 20 man is competent to testify about.

21 MR. BIALE: Fair enough.

22 MS. HARRIS: Can we have a moment?

23 THE COURT: The fiduciary duties in most common law
24 jurisdictions are owed to the corporation.

25 MR. BIALE: I propose that I elicit that, that he

G9D8HIR3

Doueck - Cross

1 understood that he had a fiduciary duty to the company.

2 THE COURT: First I am going to strike the Q and the
3 A.

4 MR. BIALE: Thank you.

1 (In open court)

2 THE COURT: Ladies and gentlemen of the jury, the last
3 question and answer is stricken and you are instructed to 4 disregard it.

5 You may inquire.

6 BY MR. BIALE:

7 Q. Mr. Doueck, you understood as a board member of Gerova you
8 had a fiduciary duty to the company, correct?

9 A. Correct.

10 Q. Generally speaking, you should do what is in the best
11 interest of the company, correct?

12 A. Yes.

13 Q. Now, you testified that there were numerous board meetings
14 you attended.

15 A. Yes.

16 Q. Some you attended in person and some you participated by 17 phone?

18 A. No, I am pretty sure I attended in person.

19 Q. You attended all of them.

20 A. Yes.

21 Q. That's because it was important to attend?

22 A. Yes.

23 Q. Because you were member of the board and you had this
24 obligation to the company?

25 A. Yes.

G9D8HIR3

Doueck - Cross

1 Q. And you testified that there were board meetings almost
2 every month, is that right?

3 A. About every month.

4 Q. So in 2010, for example, there were about a dozen meetings?

5 A. Probably 11 because they de-SPAC'd on January 22nd. They
6 became a company, a public company on January 22nd.

7 THE COURT: Did you say de-SPEC'd?

8 THE WITNESS: De-SPAC'd.

9 THE COURT: Thank you very much.

10 What do you mean by "de-SPAC'd?"

11 THE WITNESS: Special purpose acquisition companies,
12 SPAC, becomes de-SPAC when they make their acquisition and they 13 become public.

14 BY MR. BIALE:

15 Q. So you attended about 11 meetings in 2010?

16 A. Correct.

17 Q. You also attended meetings in 2011?

18 A. Not every meeting, no.

19 Q. But some?

20 A. I don't remember going to that many in 2011.

21 Q. Numerous resolutions were discussed at these meetings,
22 right?

23 A. I assume so.

24 Q. You said you attended the meetings, right?

25 A. I attended the meetings.

G9D8HIR3

Doueck - Cross

1 Q. And resolutions were discussed, right?

2 A. Yes.

3 Q. And they were voted on?

4 A. Correct.

5 Q. And you voted on those resolutions, isn't that right?

6 A. Yes.

7 Q. And you took those voting responsibilities seriously,
8 didn't you?

9 A. Yes.

10 Q. You didn't vote for things that you didn't agree with?

11 A. Well, I tried not to.

12 Q. You didn't vote for things that were bad for the company?

13 A. No. I tried to vote for the success of the company so that 14 my shareholders, my investors, would gain.

15 Q. That was part of your duty to the company?

16 A. Yes.

17 Q. At some of those meetings resolutions passed unanimously?

18 A. Is that a question?

19 Q. Isn't that correct?

20 A. I believe so.

21 Q. In those instances you didn't register a dissent to those 22 resolutions, right?

23 A. Well, I actually kind of remember the example I gave before
24 where I did register dissent to the appointment of Stuart
25 Solomons, and yet when I saw the minutes of that meeting, it

G9D8HIR3

Doueck - Cross

1 said it was unanimous, which was surprising to me.

2 Q. You said when you received minutes you didn't always review
3 them, right?

4 A. Correct.

5 Q. So you did not review that one when you received it?

6 A. I didn't.

7 Q. You also said that you received the October 6, 2010 board
8 meeting minutes, correct?

9 A. I know that I received it because it was in my e-mail, but
10 I didn't read it.

11 Q. Let's pull up Government Exhibit 222, which is in evidence.

12 MR. BIALE: Madam Deputy, can you turn on the screen, 13 please.

14 Q. This is the exhibit that the government showed you before,
15 correct?

16 A. Yes.

17 Q. If I can have you take a look at page 2.

18 The section in the middle is what the government blew
19 up for you before, Ratification of Share Issuances.

20 That indicates that shares were issued in connection
21 with the settlement agreements to these entities. And it was 22 resolved that the warrants were ratified?

23 A. That's what the minutes say, yes.

24 Q. Let's go back to page 1.

25 MR. BIALE: My apologies. If I may just have a

G9D8HIR3

Doueck - Cross

1 moment.

2 Q. Take a look at the first paragraph.

3 A. First paragraph of page 1?

4 Q. Yes.

5 Does that indicate you attended the meeting?

6 A. Yes.

7 Q. And going back to page 2, the ratification, does that
8 indicate that there were any dissents registered to that vote?

9 A. No.

10 Q. Now, there was some discussion about a report on short
11 sellers -- sorry -- a report by short sellers that was negative
12 about the company?

13 A. Yes.

14 Q. That was the Dalrymple report?

15 A. Yes.

16 Q. You testified that you wrote a response to that report?

17 A. Yes.

18 Q. You were concerned about these short sellers, right?

19 A. Yes.

20 Q. And short sellers are just traders that are betting that 21 the value of the stock would go down, is that right?

22 A. Yes.

23 Q. And you wanted to combat that false information they were 24 putting out?

25 A. Correct.

G9D8HIR3

Doueck - Cross

1 Q. You said that you wrote a document and you testified that
2 it was not publicly issued, right?

3 A. Correct.

4 Q. You shared it with the board of directors of Gerova, didn't
5 you?

6 A. I'm not sure exactly who I shared it with, but I definitely
7 shared it with Jason Galanis and his group.

8 Q. And you shared it with Gary Hirst, right?

9 A. I believe so, yes.

10 Q. Now, in addition to the board the company had a CEO, right?

11 A. You mean at the time that the Dalrymple report came out?

12 Q. I'm sorry. In general.

13 A. In general, yeah.

14 Q. When you joined, that person was Marshall Manley, right?

15 A. Yes.

16 Q. And the CEO, his duty was to run the day-to-day operations
17 of the company, right?

18 A. Correct.

19 Q. And Manley was also, when he was appointed CEO, Manley was 20 also appointed chairman of the board, right?

21 A. I don't remember that. Sorry.

22 Q. When Manley was working as CEO, you had an opportunity to 23 deal with him extensively, right?

24 A. Well, not extensively because he lived in Florida.

25 Q. But you did work with him?

G9D8HIR3

Doueck - Cross

1 A. Yes.

2 Q. And he came into the company with a long resume of
3 accomplishments, right?

4 A. I can't testify about his resume. I don't remember what it
5 looked like.

6 Q. He represented that he had a long record of professional
7 accomplishments, right?

8 A. I believe so.

9 Q. You found him very difficult to deal with, isn't that
10 right?

11 A. Correct.

12 Q. He acted like a bull in a china shop at the company, right?

13 A. Yeah, I probably would have characterized him like that.

14 Q. You felt that he wasn't really vested in the company's 15 success, isn't that right?

16 A. Well, it was a long time ago. I don't remember exactly how 17 I felt, but I know I was disappointed.

18 Q. And you had some concerns about him, right?

19 A. Yes.

20 Q. And because of those concerns you hired an investigative 21 firm to look into his background, isn't that right?

22 A. I don't remember that. Sorry.

23 Q. Let me show you what has been marked for identification as 24 Defense Exhibit 1218.

25 THE COURT: First of all, are you offering it?

G9D8HIR3

Doueck - Cross

1 MR. BIALE: This is to refresh his recollection.

2 THE COURT: This does not get displayed to the jury.

3 Let me explain to you, sir, what the concept of 4 refreshing recollection means.

5 You might ask me the date the New York Mets won the 6 World Series. OK. Someone might ask you about it and you
7 might say, you mean the actual date? I don't recall.

8 And I could show you a copy of Sports Illustrated
9 magazine with the Mets on the cover and, let's say for the sake
10 of argument, it says, October 14, 1986.

11 Well, there are two possibilities. You might say,
12 Sports Illustrated wouldn't have the wrong date on the date
13 they won the World Series. In fact, it might say October 14,
14 the date that will long live in Mets history. And you say this
15 looks like Sports Illustrated and they are a well-known
16 publication, so I guess it's right.

17 That's not refreshing your recollection. Then again
18 you may look at it and you may say, that's right, that was my
19 nephew's birthday. I remember we were having birthday cake
20 when the Mets won, and it may bring it back to mind.

21 So the question that you're being asked is to look at 22 this document and see whether, after looking at the document,
23 you have a new and refreshed recollection. If you do, you may 24 testify to what that new or refreshed recollection is. If you
25 don't, then your answer should be no.

G9D8HIR3

Doueck - Cross

1 THE WITNESS: Thank you.

2 BY MR. BIALE:

3 Q. Have you had a chance to look at that document?

4 A. Well, this document is -- it's got to be 40 pages long. Do
5 you want me to read the whole thing?

6 Q. You see what it is.

7 A. I just see the front. It's an e-mail from me to Jason.

8 THE COURT: We are not asking you that. We are asking
9 you to look at it, and we are asking you whether or not looking 10 at it -- take as much time as you like -- whether it brings to 11 mind a new and refreshed recollection.

12 THE WITNESS: OK.

13 THE COURT: Does it?

14 THE WITNESS: No.

15 THE COURT: Thank you.

16 BY MR. BIALE:

17 Q. Isn't it true that you looked up articles about Manley's
18 background?

19 A. Well, this e-mail is a background check, standard.

20 MS. MERMELSTEIN: Your Honor.

21 THE COURT: I am going to do this one more time.
22 You're not to testify as to the content of the e-mail. It was 23 shown to you for a limited purpose, to see whether it refreshes
24 your recollection. That's all.

25 THE WITNESS: OK.

G9D8HIR3

Doueck - Cross

1 THE COURT: If there is a basis under the Rules of
2 Evidence, or somebody wants to offer it into evidence and it's
3 received into evidence, then you may talk about its content.

4 THE WITNESS: Can you repeat the question?

5 BY MR. BIALE:

6 Q. The question is, isn't it true that you found articles
7 about Marshall Manley's background?

8 A. I don't remember doing that, no.

9 Q. I am going to show you another document to see if it
10 refreshes your recollection.

11 I am showing you what has been marked for 12 identification as Defense Exhibits 1215 and 1216.

13 A. OK.

14 Q. Does that refresh your recollection?

15 A. Could you ask me the question again. Recollection of what?

16 Q. The question is, isn't it true that you located articles
17 about Marshall Manley's background?

18 A. No.

19 Q. Isn't it true that based on your concerns you came to form
20 an opinion about Manley's background?

21 A. I actually don't remember about the background stuff. I
22 just remember about what you asked me about before, which was,
23 was he effective.

24 Q. Isn't it true that you came to form an opinion that he had 25 been dishonest with the company about his prior

G9D8HIR3

Doueck - Cross

1 accomplishments?

2 A. I don't remember that. Sorry.

3 Q. You shared your concerns about Manley with Gary Hirst,
4 isn't that right?

5 A. I remember sharing it with Jason Galanis. I don't remember
6 exactly what I told Gary.

7 Q. Well, take a look at the documents that I gave you and see
8 if those refresh your recollection.

9 A. No, it doesn't refresh my recollection. Sorry.

10 Q. In April 2010 you testified the board voted to terminate
11 Manley, isn't that right?

12 A. Yes.

13 Q. You supported that vote?

14 A. Yes.

15 Q. Now, you dealt a lot with Jason Galanis in 2010, right?

16 A. Yes.

17 Q. At that time you thought he was a hard-working businessman,
18 right?

19 A. Yes.

20 Q. You thought he was professional?

21 A. Yes.

22 Q. At that time you had no reason to believe he was involved
23 in any kind of scam, right?

24 A. Right.

25 Q. But in 2011, you came to believe that he was dishonest, is

G9D8HIR3

Doueck - Cross

1 that right?

2 A. I'm not sure when I came to believe or think that he did
3 something dishonest with this. I think it was years later,
4 actually.

5 Q. There came a time when you came to believe that Jason
6 Galanis was dishonest, isn't that right?

7 A. Yes.

8 Q. And he wasn't the person you believed him to be?

9 A. Correct.

10 Q. Now after Geroval, you stayed in touch with Gary Hirst,
11 right?

12 A. I don't believe so, no.

13 Q. You talked to him -- did you ever talk to him about 14 business again?

15 A. I think there was one investment that he needed information
16 on that we gave him information on. That was it.

17 Q. Isn't it true that you spoke with him, you corresponded
18 about social matters, personal matters?

19 A. No.

20 Q. Isn't it true that you sent him a note on his birthday?

21 A. I don't remember that, but I do send a lot of notes. So
22 who knows.

23 Q. Let me show you something that may refresh your
24 recollection.

25 I am showing you what has been marked as Defense

G9D8HIR3

Doueck - Cross

1 Exhibit 1212 marked for identification.

2 THE COURT: And the question is what?

3 Q. The question is, isn't it true that you sent Mr. Hirst a
4 note on his birthday?

5 THE COURT: No.

6 MR. BIALE: I apologize.

7 Q. The question is whether this refreshes your recollection.

8 A. I don't remember sending this e-mail six years ago, no.

9 Q. Isn't it true that you asked after Mr. Hirst's daughter's
10 health?

11 THE COURT: First of all, without looking at the 12 document, do you recall inquiring as to Mr. Hirst's daughter's
13 health?

14 MS. MERMELSTEIN: Objection, your Honor, as to 15 relevance.

16 THE COURT: I am going to allow it.

17 THE WITNESS: No.

18 THE COURT: Look at the document. Does it refresh
19 your recollection on that subject?

20 THE WITNESS: Faintly.

21 Q. Let me show you another document to refresh your 22 recollection. I am showing you what has been marked for
23 identification as Defense Exhibit 1213.

24 THE COURT: And the question is, does it refresh your 25 recollection?

G9D8HIR3

Doueck - Cross

1 Is that the question?

2 MR. BIALE: Yes.

3 THE WITNESS: I'm sorry. It doesn't refresh my memory
4 of this.

5 BY MR. BIALE:

6 Q. Isn't it true that in May 2010 you complimented Gary
7 Hirst's professionalism and sense of fair play?

8 A. I don't remember doing that.

9 Q. Let me show you something that might refresh your
10 recollection.

11 Can I show you what has been marked for identification
12 as Defense Exhibit 1600.

13 Do you see that document?

14 A. Yes, I do.

15 Q. Does that refresh your recollection?

16 A. No.

17 MR. BIALE: No further questions.

18 THE WITNESS: I'm sorry.

19 THE COURT: All right. You may redirect.

20 MS. MERMELSTEIN: Thank you, your Honor.

21 MR. BIALE: One moment please. I'm sorry.

22 Thank you.

23 THE COURT: All right. You may inquire.

24 MS. MERMELSTEIN: Thank you, your Honor.

25 REDIRECT EXAMINATION

G9D8HIR3

Doueck - Redirect

1 BY MS. MERMELSTEIN:

2 Q. Very briefly, Mr. Doueck.

3 Just to clarify the whole receipt of shares situation.
4 The agreement with Gerova contemplated and promised that
5 Stillwater investors would receive Gerova shares, is that
6 right?

7 A. Exactly.

8 Q. And you anticipated that they would come, right?

9 A. Yes.

10 Q. Did you actually ever receive the actual shares?

11 A. No.

12 Q. The whole audit issue, did you receive an audit for the 13 valuation of the loan fund?

14 A. Yes.

15 Q. What about it was qualified?

16 A. So as I testified before, in the fall of 2009 we had an 17 independent company come down and spend a lot of time and a lot 18 of money valuing the asset, which is hard to value, and they 19 gave us a range of values. For the Gerova agreement that we 20 made in January of 2010, we put the midpoint of that. Let's
21 say it was 100 and 150, we picked a hundred and a quarter.

22 When we got the audit back from our auditors,
23 accountants in 2010, they said you weren't allowed to do that.
24 You had to pick the low point of the valuation, not the 25 midpoint. So you have to pick the low point. And then because

G9D8HIR3

Doueck - Redirect

1 you made a deal with Geroval in January 2010 and you picked the
2 midpoint, that's a $20 million difference, you have to show a
3 markup for that because the value of a property is what it sold
4 for.

5 So since you did not do it that way in January of 6 2010, you just picked the midpoint -- from a business point of 7 view that made sense to us -- since you did it that way, that's
8 not GAAP, that's not generally accepted accounting principles.
9 So that was the qualification on the audit.

10 Q. Other than that it was a complete audit?

11 A. Correct.

12 Q. With regard to Steve Weiss, do you know if Steve Weiss was 13 aware of everything Jason Galanis did?

14 MR. BIALE: Objection.

15 THE COURT: Overruled.

16 A. I don't know, no.

17 Q. Then is it fair to say that six years after these events
18 you don't remember every e-mail or conversation you had?

19 A. No.

20 Q. If you had been in a board meeting and you had been asked
21 to approve an issuance of 5 million shares, would you remember
22 that?

23 MR. BIALE: Objection.

24 THE COURT: Overruled.

25 A. I would definitely remember that.

G9D8HIR3

1 MS. MERMELSTEIN: No further questions.

2 THE COURT: You may step down.

4 THE COURT: You can just leave the exhibits there.

1 (At the sidebar)

2 MR. TREMONTE: I wanted to front the issue so it
3 doesn't come up as a surprise. We have had some back and forth
4 and correspondence about the qualification of this witness. I
5 just want to make it clear, based on our colloquy and the
6 correspondences, Professor Laby will testify as a summary
7 witness, as a fact witness only. I just want to make sure
8 that's addressed beforehand so I am not jumping up and down
9 when they try to credential him.

10 THE COURT: I think there are two distinct issues.
11 Are you offering him as an expert?

12 MR. BLAIS: No. To be clear, we are not offering him
13 as an expert. We are not eliciting any expert opinions from 14 him.

15 That being said, I think we do intend to go through 16 his background in some detail, in part because we are going to 17 be asking him about summary principles of the investment field,
18 including information about investment advisers, stock,
19 warrants. We are offering this witness as background witness
20 who can educate the jury about some of the complicated concepts
21 that are at issue in this trial. I think most of the testimony
22 should be relatively uncontroversial. They are just basic 23 principles of the securities filed.

24 We don't intend to ask him to offer any opinions about 25 any conduct at issue with the specific case. We are simply

G9D8HIR3

Doueck - Redirect

1 trying to bring the jury to a place where we can talk about
2 complicated concepts so they have background knowledge about
3 them.

4 MR. TREMONTE: Then I am not sure why the witness
5 needs to go through his credentials.

6 THE COURT: Basically, a party calling a witness is 7 entitled to have the witness describe who they are and what 8 they do.

9 MR. TREMONTE: I think the problem that I have, Judge,
10 is if in the ordinary course a summary witness is someone like
11 a paralegal, who brings no particular expertise to the 12 testimony that they are going to offer because it involves
13 nothing more than reciting facts about, for example, phone 14 records or documents that they have reviewed and about which 15 they are not going to give an opinion.

16 It does seem that here this witness is going to be
17 talking about, for example, the standards and practices
18 applicable to investment advisers. That is not something that 19 is just fact testimony. It seems to me it goes over the line
20 into giving opinions about what people are required to do under 21 a certain set of circumstances. My understanding is that is 22 typically something that you have to qualify an expert to do
23 because the jury needs to be educated as to the basis for the 24 opinion that is being offered.

25 So here there does seem to be a disconnect. If they

G9D8HIR3

Doueck - Redirect

1 are not being offered as a fact witness and they are not being
2 offered as an expert witness, and there has not been disclosure
3 here, I want to be in a position to carefully police the line
4 between fact and opinion.

5 MR. BLAIS: I would say several things. One, I don't 6 think asking about what the duties of an investment adviser are 7 is opinion testimony. We are not asking him to opine on 8 anything. We are asking him to provide background facts about 9 a relevant regulatory scheme that is somewhat complicated and 10 that can be of assistance to the jury.

11 I think eliciting information about his background,
12 including the fact that, for example, he worked at the SEC's
13 Division of Investment Management, will provide background as 14 to why he can testify as to facts regarding that regulatory 15 scheme.

16 MR. TREMONTE: As long as the testimony doesn't cross
17 the line from fact to opinion.

18 THE COURT: I am counting on you to let me know.

ARTHUR LABY,

called as a witness by the government,

having been duly sworn, testified as follows:

THE DEPUTY CLERK: State your name and spell it for the record.

THE WITNESS: My name is Arthur Laby. A-R-T-H-U-R, L-A-B-Y.

DIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR. BLAIS:

Q. Good afternoon, Professor Laby.

How are you employed?

A. I am a law processor at Rutgers Law School in New Jersey.

Q. Beyond serving as a law professor, do you have any other employment?

A. I do. From time to time I act as a consultant or an expert witness, such as in matters like this.

Q. What sorts of things do you consult about?

A. Typically the duties and obligations of financial services professionals, such as investment advisers and broker-dealers.

Q. Stepping back, can you give the jury a brief summary of your educational background.

A. Sure. I attended the University of Pittsburgh. After that, I went to law school. I attended Boston University School of Law. I graduated from Pitts in 1985 and from law

G9D8HIR3

Laby - Direct

1 school in 1989.

2 Q. What did you study as an undergraduate at the University of 3 Pittsburgh?

4 A. At the University of Pittsburgh, I was a double major in
5 political science and communications.

6 Q. You testified that you graduated from law school in 1989.
7 What was it that you did after law school?

8 A. Immediately after law school I clerked for a federal
9 district court judge in Baltimore, Maryland.

10 Q. After clerking, what did you do next?

11 A. After clerking, I went to work as an associate in a law
12 firm in Washington, D.C.

13 Q. What was the nature of your practice when you were working
14 at a law firm?

15 A. The nature of the practice at first was general litigation
16 and then eventually I moved specifically into the banking and 17 securities area at the firm.

18 Q. How long did you work at the law firm?

19 A. Approximately four years.

20 Q. What did you do after you left the law firm?

21 A. After I left the law firm, I went overseas on a Fulbright
22 grant, teaching and researching at two different law schools in 23 Germany.

24 Q. After completing your Fulbright, what did you do next for 25 employment?

G9D8HIR3

Laby - Direct

1 A. When I came back to the U.S. I joined the Securities and
2 Exchange Commission staff, the SEC staff.

3 Q. Just to be clear, the Securities and Exchange Commission is
4 sometimes also known as you referenced, as the SEC?

5 A. Exactly. The SEC.

6 Q. Generally, what is the SEC?

7 A. The SEC is the federal government agency that has primary
8 responsibility for implementing and enforcing the U.S. federal 9 securities laws.

10 Q. How long did you work at the SEC?

11 A. Almost ten years.

12 Q. What divisions or departments did you work in when you were 13 at the SEC?

14 A. I worked in three different areas. When I first joined the 15 SEC staff, I worked in an office called the Office of 16 International Affairs. That makes sense because I was 17 returning from my time overseas.

18 Then I joined a division called Division of Investment
19 Management. And then eventually I moved to an office called 20 the Office of the General Counsel.

21 Q. What does the SEC's Division of Investment Management do?

22 A. Division of Investment Management regulates the investment
23 management industry, such as mutual funds and investment
24 advisers.

25 Q. What were some of your duties and responsibilities in the

G9D8HIR3

Laby - Direct

1 SEC's Division of Investment Management?

2 A. Well, they varied. But my particular area of
3 responsibility was working in a rule making, a rule writing
4 group. So when the SEC goes to propose and adopt rules
5 governing the investment advisory profession, we were required
6 to prepare those draft rules to eventually send them to the 7 Commission for approval.

8 Q. You also testified that you worked in the SEC's general
9 counsel's office.

10 What were your duties and responsibilities in the 11 SEC's general counsel's office?

12 A. So I had two primary responsibilities. I eventually became 13 an assistant general counsel and I had responsibility for both
14 the investment management matters and for some international
15 matters because of my previous time in International Affairs.

16 What we were required to do in the Office of the 17 General Counsel was to review every matter, such as a rule or 18 an enforcement action that the staff was sending to the 19 Commission for its approval. And we had to advise our boss,
20 the general counsel, and eventually the Commission itself, on 21 whether it should move forward with that initiative.

22 Q. What did you do after working at the SEC?

23 A. After working at the SEC, I moved to the world of academia
24 and became a law professor.

25 Q. Where do you teach?

G9D8HIR3

Laby - Direct

1 A. I teach at Rutgers Law School.

2 Q. What kinds of classes do you teach?

3 A. I teach business law classes. So each year I teach a
4 corporation's course. I also typically teach a securities
5 regulation course and then another course that varies, such as 6 investment management regulation or fiduciary law. Those are
7 two other courses I have taught.

8 Q. Other than your responsibilities teaching class, do you
9 have other duties and responsibilities as a law professor?

10 A. Yes. There are two other sets of responsibilities. So of 11 course one important responsibility is researching and writing.
12 Much of the work of an academic is to prepare articles, law
13 review articles for publication in our field. Then there is 14 also an obligation for what we call service. So serving on law
15 school committees and serving generally the law school
16 community.

17 Q. Now, Professor Laby, have you published any books or 18 articles?

19 A. Yes, I have. I have published several.

20 Q. What, generally, were those about?

21 A. Generally they were about the duties and obligations of 22 financial services professionals.

23 So I am the author of a multi-volume treatise, a large
24 book, on investment advisers and mutual funds, and then I have 25 published many other book chapters and articles related to the obligations of investment professionals.

G9D8HIR3

1 BY MR. BLAIS:

2 Q. Now, in addition to your academic research and writing,
3 what steps, if any, do you take to keep informed of changes in
4 the laws related to securities regulation?

5 A. Yeah. I have to stay current on laws and regulations and
6 developments. So I'm a member of many different organizations,
7 some in the Philadelphia area, some out of town, which I attend
8 on a regular basis to stay current with respect to what is 9 happening in the industry and, of course, changes in laws and 10 regulations.

11 Q. Now, Professor Laby, are you being paid by the government
12 for your testimony here today?

13 A. I am.

14 Q. How much?

15 A. My hourly rate is $750 per hour.

16 Q. Is that your standard fee?

17 A. That's my standard fee for the government.

18 Q. Approximately how much have you earned in total for your 19 work on this case?

20 A. Well, in preparing for my testimony today, I've probably 21 spent six to eight hours preparing, so I think that's 5 or 22 $6,000. I'm not sure exactly what the amount would be.

23 Q. Does your compensation depend in any way on the outcome of 24 this case?

25 A. No.

G9DOHIR4

2 underlying conduct of this case?

3 A. I don't know anything. I have not been given that

5 Q. I want to discuss with you some general investment
6 concepts. Can you explain for the jury, what is a stock?

7 A. Sure.

2 THE COURT: I could use help on this. Advisory
3 Committee notes to Rule 702, the 1972 version of the proposed
4 rules, states as follows:

5 "Most of the literature assumes that experts testify
6 only in the form of opinions. The assumption is logically
7 unfounded. The rule accordingly recognizes that an expert on 8 the stand may give a dissertation or exposition of scientific 9 or other principles relevant to the case leaving the trier of 10 fact to apply them to the facts." And it says, "The rule is 11 broadly phrased. The fields of knowledge which may be drawn
12 upon are not limited merely to the scientific and technical but 13 extend to all specialized knowledge. Similarly, the expert is 14 viewed not in a narrow sense, but as a person qualified by 15 knowledge, skill, experience, training, or education. Thus,
16 within the scope of the rule are not only experts in the 17 strictest sense of the word, eg. physicians, physicists, or 18 architects, but also the large group sometimes called skilled
19 witnesses, such as bankers or landowners testifying to land
20 values."

21 Is a witness such as this who, based on knowledge,
22 skill, experience, training, and education testifying as an
23 expert witness when the witness lays out certain principles
24 that are relevant to the case? Mr. Blais.

25 MR. BLAIS: Your Honor, I think it's unclear if the

G9DOHIR4

Direct - Mr. Laby

1 witness isn't going to be offering any opinions whether it's
2 necessary to qualify that witness as an expert. Out of an
3 abundance of caution, we provided notice regarding this witness
4 to defense counsel.

5 THE COURT: Okay. I didn't realize that. That's
6 where I'm headed with this. Let me let you continue,
7 Mr. Blais. Go ahead.

8 MR. BLAIS: We provided notice as to our intention to 9 call this witness. We provided his CV and other background
10 information. I think, as I read Rule 16, it requires us to 11 provide a summary of any opinion testimony that we seek to 12 elicit, and as well as the bases and reasons for those 13 opinions. But I think as I represented, we don't intend to 14 elicit opinions from Professor Laby, we intend to elicit facts.
15 And to the extent that we intend to elicit facts, I think we 16 provided sufficient notice under the rules.

17 If your Honor believes that it's necessary to qualify
18 this witness as an expert, we're more than happy to proffer him
19 as an expert. I can say the practice differs in different
20 courtrooms in this building as to witnesses in this situation
21 as to whether it's necessary to qualify.

22 THE COURT: For example, in an organized crime trial,
23 a witness takes the stand as to the structure of organized
24 crime. Is that an expert witness?

25 MR. BLAIS: I think in certain courtrooms it is and

G9DOHIR4

Direct - Mr. Laby

1 certain courtrooms it's not. I think because there's that
2 uncertainty, we did provide the disclosure in advance. We've
3 not heard any objection to date regarding our intention to call
4 this particular witness.

5 THE COURT: Well, did you provide any sort of summary
6 of what he was going to testify to?

7 MR. BLAIS: We provided general categories of what he
8 was going to testify about. I think it was three categories;
9 one was the duties of investment advisers, one was the filing
10 obligations of foreign companies, ie. that they're required to 11 file annual reports on Form 20F, and the third category was --

12 MR. TREMONTE: Reg S.

13 MR. BLAIS: -- yes, the terms of Regulation S, which 14 we have heard it alluded to in the openings there was an 15 exemption to the registration requirements that applies, and we 16 intend to elicit from Dr. Laby what is a Reg S and how does it
17 differ from the typical registration process.

18 THE COURT: All right. Let me hear from Mr. Tremonte.

19 MR. TREMONTE: Your Honor, we addressed this in our 20 letter. It's document 255 on the docket dated September 10th.
21 The point we made there, which I'll reiterate, is the 22 government did, in fact, provide us with a letter characterized
23 as an expert notice letter. We responded in kind and provided
24 a similar letter providing notice to the government. The 25 government in response said, "Your notice is not sufficient,"

G9DOHIR4

Direct - Mr. Laby

1 number one, and number two, "Just so you know, to be perfectly
2 clear, we're not noticing these people as experts, they will be
3 summary fact witnesses." And we attached that correspondence
4 to our September 10th letter. I think separate and apart from
5 the point that Mr. Blais makes, which may or may not be right,
6 which is a difference of practice in different courtrooms,
7 there is a fairness issue here. We exchanged notices and then
8 had a subsequent conversation and exchange of letters where the 9 government made clear that they were not in fact presenting 10 these witnesses as expert witnesses, they were going to put 11 them on as fact witnesses, so we proceeded on that assumption.

12 If they said we're going to put on a witness to talk
13 about the law and standards relating to investment advisers,
14 what they must do under the law, we would have responded in 15 kind and said, okay, well, tell us what's the basis of the 16 opinion, give us an outline of what's going to be said so we 17 may respond to it, but we are not in a position to do that
18 here, and that's because of the manner in which the government
19 proceeded at their election.

20 So again, I think there are two issues. There's the 21 interpretation of the rule, which may vary from courtroom to 22 courtroom, but there's also what happened here according to 23 which, in fairness, I don't think the government should be 24 permitted to put on an expert witness.

25 THE COURT: So the record is complete here, I have in

G9DOHIR4

Direct - Mr. Laby

1 front of me a letter dated August 1st from the government to,
2 among others, Mr. Tremonte which reads, in part, as follows:

3 "The government hereby provides notice that it
4 anticipates calling the following individuals as expert
5 witnesses at the upcoming trial in this matter: Professor
6 Arthur Laby of Rutgers University Law School will testify
7 regarding, one, the practices and standards applicable to 8 investment advisors, including operating with undisclosed
9 conflicts of interest and carrying out absent full disclosure,
10 intertrading among clients' accounts to generate capital to 11 meet payment obligations; two, the SEC's filing requirement for 12 foreign private issuers; and three, Regulation S which provides 13 an exclusion from the Section 5 registration requirements of 14 the '33 Act for offerings made outside the U.S. by foreign
15 investors." And then it goes on to say that, "The curriculum
16 vitae for Mr. Laby and others are attached."

17 It seems to me that the defendant was on notice.
18 While there may be a dispute as to whether or not a notice was 19 ever required because Mr. Laby, in the government's view, may 20 be properly considered a fact witness, though someone else may 21 view it differently, while the government may have said, no,
22 this is fact testimony that we're eliciting, not expert
23 testimony, the government never disclaimed, from what I'm being
24 told, an intent to call Mr. Laby.

25 MR. TREMONTE: That is correct. Just to be clear,

G9DOHIR4

Direct - Mr. Laby

1 never withdrew the notice to call Mr. Laby, but made very clear
2 that he would not be called as an expert witness.

3 THE COURT: Well, on what possible area? I mean, it
4 can't be both ways.

5 MR. TREMONTE: We asked the same question.

6 THE COURT: Yes.

7 MR. TREMONTE: We asked the exact same question. And 8 I think the point is that it feels to us like they are trying 9 to have it both ways. They're trying to put on a witness who 10 presents as an expert. In fact, the first sentence out of his 11 mouth -- or the third sentence out of his mouth -- was, "I
12 often testify as an expert witness."

13 THE COURT: I heard that. That doesn't mean he's 14 doing it today, but that's beside the point.

15 MR. TREMONTE: But to be able to put on a witness like
16 that who presents --

17 THE COURT: When the government sent you the letter
18 saying, well, we're going to call Professor Laby as a fact
19 witness, what did you say, if anything? Goody, or --

20 MR. TREMONTE: No. I think we said essentially the 21 same thing we're saying today. I'm not sure what that means,
22 doesn't seem like your disclosures are adequate, and that's why
23 we wrote the Court summarizing our communications and attaching
24 our written communications on September 10th.

25 THE COURT: No. And you absolutely did, and I

G9DOHIR4

Direct - Mr. Laby

1 acknowledge that.

2 MR. BLAIS: Your Honor, just to complete the record, I
3 think we sort of said the same thing back to defense counsel.
4 Defense counsel noticed for experts to us. We said, well, are
5 these individuals who are going to be offering opinions,
6 because if so, under the rules, you need to offer -- you need
7 to give us their bases and reasons for their opinions. If not,
8 if they're just summary fact witnesses, then you don't need to 9 make any further disclosure at all because you've summarized
10 what they're going to testify to.

11 For certain of their witnesses, the Cayman Island law
12 expert and the witness who is going to be testifying about 13 option pricing, they did provide that further notice. For the 14 other two, they said, no, they're summary witnesses, we're not 15 going to provide --

16 THE COURT: There's a missing -- wait a minute,
17 Mr. Tremonte, because there's going to be something you might 18 want to respond to. I think there's a missing piece of the 19 puzzle, and it leads me to allow this witness to testify.

20 Mr. Tremonte, quite correctly, did write to the Court
21 and wrote about his intention to call his own expert witness at 22 trial. In the last paragraph, Mr. Tremonte wrote -- and I
23 think appropriately -- the following:

24 "There is no inadequacy in the government's 25 disclosures so long as the testimony of Mr. Hinton and

G9DOHIR4

Direct - Mr. Laby

1 Professor Laby remains of a summary or factual nature.
2 However, given the government's representations and
3 disclosures, we will object to the extent either offers opinion
4 about the facts presented in this case or hypotheticals that
5 are analogous to the facts in this case."

6 I will not allow the government to do that. Other
7 than that, Professor Laby may testify. Certainly, I would say
8 that the testimony I've heard would qualify him as an expert
9 witness, and certainly, if you want to voir dire on his 10 qualifications, you may have it, Mr. Tremonte. But as long as 11 his testimony remains of a summary or factual nature consistent
12 with the disclosures, I will allow the testimony

13 MR. TREMONTE: Understood, your Honor. Thank you.

14 THE COURT: Thank you.

Direct - Mr. Laby

1 (Jury present)

2 THE COURT: Go ahead, Mr. Blais.

3 BY MR. BLAIS:

4 Q. Professor Laby, before we took our mid-afternoon break, I
5 was starting to ask you about some general investor concepts.
6 What is a stock?

7 A. Well, a stock is essentially evidence of ownership of a
8 company or a corporation. So if somebody owns, let's say, a 9 share of stock in IBM or Apple Computer, they actually own just 10 a very tiny sliver of that company.

11 Q. What does an investor get for buying stock?

12 A. Well, an investor would get profit if the company does
13 well. So if a corporation, company does well, it might issue a 14 dividend, that is, give out a share of its profits from time to 15 time to the investor. Or if the company does well, the price
16 of the stock will increase over time, and if the investor goes
17 to sell it, then they will make money.

18 Q. Is a company required to pay a stockholder back at any 19 time?

20 A. No. No. That's not the way stock works. You own a bit of 21 the company, but the company is not required to pay you back.

22 Q. What are some reasons why an investor might want to invest
23 in stock?

24 A. Well, the primary reason investors invest in stock is a way
25 to have their money, their capital, appreciate over time. Of

G9DOHIR4

Direct - Mr. Laby

1 course, we can all put our money under the mattress, but if we
2 do that, we're not going to earn any rate of return. So it's 3 very common that people invest in stocks as a way to have their
4 money grow over years.

5 Q. What is the potential downside to investing in stock?

6 A. The downside is that the company does not do well. If
7 that's true, then the value of your stock, let's say you bought
8 it at $10 per share, it might drop to $8 a share or $7 a share.

9 Q. Is it possible for an investor to lose their entire 10 investment in stock?

11 A. Absolutely. Unfortunately, it's very common that 12 companies, they go completely bankrupt, and in that case the 13 investor would lose their entire investment.

14 Q. Now, Professor Laby, what is equity?

15 A. Well, equity is just really a fancy term to describe stock.
16 People often refer to equity in a corporation as the ownership
17 of that corporation. It just really refers to stock that I
18 mentioned earlier.

19 Q. Now, is a stock a security?

20 A. Yes. A stock is considered one type of security. That's
21 right.

22 Q. What generally is a security?

23 A. Well, a security refers to a wide variety of instruments
24 that are ways to invest in corporations. It's a broader term
25 than the term "stock". The word "security" is broader and

G9DOHIR4

Direct - Mr. Laby

1 refers to other kinds of investments.

2 Q. What governmental entity, if any, regulates the issuance
3 and trading of securities in the United States?

4 A. The issuance and trading of securities is regulated by the 5 SEC, which we discussed earlier.

6 Q. What, if any, are the primary laws that govern the issuance
7 and trading of securities in the United States?

8 A. Well, there are two primary laws that govern trading of 9 securities; one is called the Securities Act of 1933, and the 10 other is called the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. There are 11 others, but those are the two primary laws.

12 Q. And Professor Laby, what is a securities exchange?

13 A. A securities exchange is simply a place, a location where 14 people can go who want to buy and sell a given security. Now,
15 it used to be that that was a physical place, like the 16 old-fashioned floor of the New York Stock Exchange. Today,
17 these exchanges are often electronic. But nevertheless, it's a
18 place where buyers and sellers come together to trade
19 securities.

20 Q. What are some examples of securities exchanges in the 21 United States?

22 A. Well, the two most well-known securities exchanges are the 23 New York Stock Exchange, the NYSE, and the other is called the 24 NASDAQ, which is another securities exchange.

25 Q. Who regulates securities exchanges in the United States?

G9DOHIR4

Direct - Mr. Laby

1 A. The securities exchanges are also regulated by the SEC.

2 Q. What does it mean for a security to be traded on a
3 securities exchange?

4 A. Well, if a security is traded on an exchange, that means
5 that that security that has essentially been accepted for 6 trading on the exchange -- one has to petition and apply to
7 have your stock, the company stock traded on an exchange. So
8 if it's traded on the exchange, that means the exchange has 9 accepted it and is willing to be a clearinghouse for those who
10 want to buy and sell that particular security.

11 Q. How can an investor buy and sell securities that are traded
12 on a securities exchange?

13 A. Well, the most common way that happens is to simply call a
14 stockbroker, to call a broker/dealer. Those broker/dealers are 15 also members of the exchange, and your broker, your 16 stockbroker, can go out and buy securities for you, buy stock
17 for you on that given exchange.

18 Q. Are there securities that do not trade on a securities
19 exchange?

20 A. Yes. Yes. There are some securities that have not been
21 accepted for trading on an exchange, but nevertheless, there
22 are still markets where people buy and sell those securities.

23 Q. Just to be clear, how can those shares that aren't traded
24 on a securities exchange be bought or sold?

25 A. Well, again, there's just another location. Again, that's

G9DOHIR4

Direct - Mr. Laby

1 often an electronic location, which is really a market, we
2 don't really refer to those as an exchange, but it's again a
3 place where people can go -- a market where typically brokers
4 can go, and they meet with one another, and they can buy and
5 sell those securities, even though those securities, those
6 stocks are not traded on something like the New York Stock
7 Exchange.

8 Q. Now, Professor Laby, are you familiar with the concept of 9 liquidity?

10 A. Yes.

11 Q. What is liquidity?

12 A. Liquidity simply refers to the ease by which a given stock
13 can be traded. So companies we're all very familiar with like 14 IBM and Apple Computer, they trade all the time. People are 15 buying and selling shares all day long. Those securities,
16 those stocks are very liquid.

17 If a stock is not liquid, that means there are not a
18 lot of buyers and sellers in that stock, and they simply don't 19 trade very often.

20 Q. Just to be clear, can a stock be an illiquid asset?

21 A. Yes. A stock can be an illiquid asset if there are not a
22 lot of buyers and sellers for that particular stock.

23 Q. What does it mean for a stock to be thinly traded?

24 A. If a stock is thinly traded, that also refers to this idea
25 where there are not a lot of buyers and sellers for that stock,

G9DOHIR4

Direct - Mr. Laby

1 there simply is not a lot of interest in the marketplace, it
2 does not trade very often, and so that's often referred to as
3 thinly traded.

4 Q. Professor Laby, what is a warrant?

5 A. A warrant is a different kind of instrument. It refers to 6 the right to purchase a share of stock at some point in the 7 future at a given price regardless of what that stock is 8 trading at. So if I have a warrant to purchase a share of 9 stock at $10 per share, even if that stock is trading at a
10 higher price, I can exercise my warrant and buy that stock at a
11 given price at some point in the future.

12 Q. And in connection with a warrant, what is a strike price?

13 A. The strike price refers to the price that I just mentioned
14 a minute ago. So the strike price is the price at which I can 15 go out -- if I own the warrant, I can go out and exercise the 16 warrant and buy that stock at a given point in the future.

17 Q. Now, under the United States securities laws, what is an 18 issuer of securities?

19 A. An issuer is, again, just a fancier term to refer to the 20 company that issues its shares into the marketplace. So IBM
21 decides to sell some shares to the public, then that company is 22 considered the issuer of the shares.

23 Q. And under the U.S. securities laws, what is a foreign 24 private issuer of securities?

25 A. A foreign private issuer refers to a company that's located

G9DOHIR4

Direct - Mr. Laby

1 outside of the United States whose shares are primarily held by
2 persons who are not resident here in the U.S. There are some
3 other technical parts of the definition, but that's the general
4 idea.

5 Q. Can the shares of a foreign private issuer trade on a U.S.
6 securities exchange?

7 A. Yes. Yes. Shares that are issued by foreign private
8 issuers can trade here in the U.S.

9 Q. Now, under the U.S. securities laws, are companies whose 10 shares trade on a securities exchange required to file periodic 11 reports with the SEC?

12 A. Yes.

13 MR. TREMONTE: Objection. Objection. What kind of 14 exchange? Domestic? Foreign?

15 THE COURT: Rephrase.

16 MR. BLAIS: I can clear that up.

17 Q. Under the U.S. securities laws, are companies whose shares
18 trade on U.S. securities exchanges required to file reports on 19 a periodic basis with the SEC?

20 A. Yes, they are. They have to file reports.

21 Q. Do the filing requirements differ for foreign private
22 issuers and issuers who are based in the U.S.?

23 A. Yes, they do. There are different types of requirements.

24 Q. As a general matter, what kinds of reports are foreign
25 private issuers required to file with the SEC?

G9DOHIR4

Direct - Mr. Laby

1 A. Well, there are several. But two of the most well-known
2 forms that are filed by foreign private issuers are first the
3 Form 20F, and that refers to an annual report that a foreign
4 private issuer has to file with the SEC. And the second
5 well-known form that foreign private issuers is called the Form
6 6K, which is filed not necessarily every year or every quarter,
7 but simply from time to time when something significant at that
8 company happens.

9 Q. Let's focus first for a minute on the Form 20F that you
10 referred to. That's the annual report that foreign private 11 issuers are required to file?

12 A. That's right.

13 Q. As a general matter, what's required to be included in a
14 20F filing?

15 A. There's a lot of information that has to go into the 20F.
16 It includes information like information about the company
17 itself. What is the company? Where is it located? Who are 18 its top officers and directors? What sort of products and 19 services is the company offering or manufacturing? What is the 20 financial information of the company? How is it doing in the 21 marketplace, and how is it changing over time?

22 Q. You also mentioned the Form 6K. What is generally required
23 to be filed on a Form 6K?

24 A. There are a couple of things. First, as I mentioned
25 earlier, if something significant happens at the company, then

G9DOHIR4

Direct - Mr. Laby

1 that company has to go ahead and file a 6K shortly after that
2 event takes place. But interestingly, for foreign private
3 issuers, it's often important with respect to when one has to 4 file a 6K, what has happened and what is required by that
5 company's home country. So if the home country requires a
6 filing in a given instance, then that triggers a filing for 7 that foreign private issuer to file a 6K here in the U.S. with 8 the SEC.

9 Q. How, if at all, do the filing requirements of a foreign
10 private issuer differ from the filing requirements for a U.S.
11 issuer?

12 A. Well, they differ because the SEC in some ways has given
13 foreign private issuers a little bit of a break. So there are 14 some requirements that are placed on U.S. companies that are 15 simply not placed on those foreign private issuers.

16 Q. What are some examples of the differences?

17 A. So one example is the requirement to file a quarterly
18 report, which is called a Form 10Q. That requirement is placed
19 on companies here in the U.S. They have to file quarterly
20 reports. There is no requirement to file a quarterly report
21 for foreign private issuers.

22 In addition, there are certain materials that have to 23 be filed in connection with the proxy solicitation process that 24 has to do with votes that take place with the company's
25 shareholders. Those filings have to be made by U.S. companies,

G9DOHIR4

Direct - Mr. Laby

1 the foreign private issuers do not have to file those proxy
2 materials with the SEC.

3 Q. Professor Laby, are you familiar with the concept of 4 materiality?

5 A. Yes.

6 Q. From the SEC's standpoint, what is materiality?

7 A. From the SEC's standpoint, materiality refers to the 8 importance of information in the given filing. So if 9 information is considered material, then that refers to the 10 idea that that information would be necessary or important for 11 an investor to make its decision with regard to whether to 12 invest in that particular security.

13 Q. What general principles, if any, apply when companies file
14 periodic reports with the SEC?

15 A. Well, the general principles that I would say apply are 16 two-fold. First, the company, of course, cannot make any
17 misstatements in its filings. They can't lie. They can't say
18 anything false in those filings. In addition, they cannot make
19 what's called material omissions. So they cannot leave
20 information out of their filings if that information would be 21 necessary to make the filing not misleading. So the first is 22 no misstatements, no lies, and then no material omissions,
23 don't leave anything out that is really important.

24 Q. I'm going to turn to a slightly different topic now.

25 What does it mean for the stock of a company to be

G9DOHIR4

Direct - Mr. Laby

1 restricted as opposed to unrestricted?

2 A. The idea of a stock being restricted means that there are 3 certain restrictions that are placed on whether that stock can
4 be bought and sold in the marketplace. If the security is 5 restricted, that typically means that the holder of that
6 security cannot sell it. The selling of it is restricted for a
7 given period.

8 Q. What is a restricted legend?

9 A. The restricted legend simply refers to documentation on the 10 stock itself, on the share itself that simply indicates this
11 stock may not be resold for a given period of time.

12 Q. Now, are you familiar with the concept of free trading
13 shares?

14 A. Yes.

15 Q. What does that mean?

16 A. Free trading shares simply means that those shares are not 17 restricted, and they can simply be freely traded in the 18 marketplace between individuals or firms.

19 Q. Under the United States securities laws, what is a company
20 generally required to do if it wants to issue new unrestricted
21 securities?

22 A. Well, if a company wants to issue new unrestricted
23 securities, it generally has to file something called a
24 registration statement with the SEC. And once that 25 registration statement is essentially approved by the SEC, the

G9DOHIR4

Direct - Mr. Laby

1 company can then go out and offer and sell its shares in the 2 marketplace.

3 Q. What is a registration statement?

4 A. A registration statement is really just a long form. It's 5 a long document that the company has to fill out that includes
6 really voluminous information about the company itself and
7 about the securities that it wants to sell. It then sends that 8 information to the SEC, and part of that information is also
9 made available to investors.

10 Q. Now, can a company issue unrestricted stock without filing
11 a registration statement?

12 A. Yes. There are ways in which companies can be exempt from 13 these onerous registration provisions from the securities laws,
14 and the exemptions can allow the company to essentially get out
15 of that registration process but still sell shares, as long as 16 they meet the requirements of these exemptions.

17 Q. Now, can a shareholder who owns restricted stock sell that 18 restricted stock?

19 A. Well, not if the restriction is still in place. So they 20 would have to wait until the restriction period ends, and of 21 course, at that time, if the restriction no longer applies,
22 they could then sell those securities to another buyer.

23 Q. How long does restricted stock remain restricted?

24 A. It depends on the particular restriction that we're talking 25 about, but it can run from 40 days to one year, depending on

G9DOHIR4

Direct - Mr. Laby

1 the facts and circumstances.

2 Q. Now, under the United States securities law, are there
3 certain exemptions that allow a company to issue unrestricted
4 stock without filing a registration statement?

5 A. Yes, there are. There are some exemptions that allow 6 companies to do that.

7 Q. Are you familiar with something called Regulation S, as in 8 Sam?

9 A. Yes, I am.

10 Q. What is Regulation S?

11 A. Regulation S is one of those exemptions that has been 12 prepared and passed by the SEC that allows certain types of 13 sales of securities, typically securities sales that are 14 located offshore, out of the U.S., to be exempt from the 15 registration provisions of the securities laws.

16 Q. As a general matter, what are the requirements for issuing
17 shares pursuant to Regulation S?

18 A. Well, there's two primary requirements that Regulation S
19 imposes. First, the issuance of the securities has to take 20 place offshore, it has to be outside of the United States. And 21 second, it's important that there not be any directed selling
22 efforts here in the United States.

23 So the idea is that people who are here, resident in 24 the U.S., will not buy those shares. So the offer and sale has 25 to take place offshore, outside of the U.S., and there can't be

G9DOHIR4

Direct - Mr. Laby

1 any -- cannot be any directed selling efforts here in the U.S.

2 Q. So to be clear, are shares issued under Regulation S
3 restricted or unrestricted?

4 A. Well, it depends on the type of issuer. The rules get a
5 bit complex. In some cases they are restricted, and other
6 cases they are unrestricted.

7 Q. Can shares issued under Regulation S be sold to U.S.
8 investors?

9 A. Well, they can eventually be sold to U.S. investors, but 10 not at the outset that I talked about earlier. In order for 11 Regulation S to apply, once Regulation S applies, there cannot 12 be these directed selling efforts here in the U.S. Once the 13 offering is complete, then yes, it's possible for U.S.
14 investors to buy those shares.

15 Q. But for what time period does the resale restriction apply
16 on Regulation S shares?

17 A. So again, it depends on the particular issuer, the company
18 that we're talking about, but the range is generally from 40
19 days to one year.

20 Q. What are the consequences under the U.S. securities laws if 21 shares are sold in violation of Regulation S?

22 A. Well, if shares are sold and that company has not followed
23 the strictures of Regulation S, and that would be the case if 24 shares are sold within the restricted period, that means that 25 the exemption that we've been talking about, the exemption from

G9DOHIR4

Direct - Mr. Laby

1 the registration provisions simply does not apply. And if
2 another exemption does not apply to that company, then there
3 could be -- would be a violation of the registration provisions
4 of the securities laws.

5 Q. Professor Laby, I want to now turn to a different topic
6 entirely, and that's the topic of investment advisers.

7 What is an investment advisor?

8 A. An investment advisor is a person or a firm who is in the 9 business of providing advice about securities like stocks,
10 bonds, and mutual funds to other people for compensation. They 11 have to be paid to be considered an investment advisor.

12 Q. What sorts of things does an investment advisor do for 13 clients?

14 A. Well, typically, an investment advisor would meet with the 15 client, understand what their goals are with respect to 16 investing, and then recommend ways in which that investor could 17 invest its funds, investing in, for example, stocks, or mutual
18 funds, or other kinds of investments.

19 Q. Just to be clear, do investment advisors provide the money
20 for their clients to invest?

21 A. No. No. They don't provide the money, they simply 22 recommend and advise the client on how to invest the client's
23 funds.

24 Q. So whose money is it that gets invested?

25 A. It's the clients, it's the customer's money that gets

G9DOHIR4

Direct - Mr. Laby

1 invested.

2 Q. How are investment advisors paid?

3 A. Investment advises can be paid in several ways. The most
4 common way that they're paid is by charging a percent of the 5 assets under management in a given account. So they might 6 charge 1 percent or 1 and a quarter percent of the amount of 7 the assets in a given account. But they can also be paid on an 8 hourly basis, they can simply charge for their advice by the 9 hour, and some even charge simply a flat fee. They might 10 charge $100 or $500 for giving advice to that client.

11 Q. What kinds of clients do investment advisors have?

12 A. The types of clients range dramatically. So some clients
13 are individuals like you and me, other clients are very, very 14 large institutions, like pension funds and mutual funds that 15 can have millions or literally billions of dollars. So there's 16 quite a range in types of clients.

17 Q. How does the relationship between an investment advisor and 18 a client typically start?

19 A. The relationship typically starts by the investment advisor
20 possibly reaching out to a new client. They might do that 21 through simply calling people up on the phone whose names and 22 numbers they have. They might get referrals from their current 23 clients with respect to new clients, and a relationship will
24 often develop as a result of that initial contact.

25 Q. When an investment advisory relationship begins, is there

G9DOHIR4

Direct - Mr. Laby

1 typically some kind of written memorialization of that
2 relationship?

3 A. Yes, there is. This is typically an advisory contract.
4 It's a contract that is signed by both the investor, the 5 client, and the investment advisor that lays out what it is
6 that the advisor is going to do for the client.

7 Q. What sorts of things are generally in an investment
8 advisory agreement?

9 A. Well, in the investment advisor agreement, you would see,
10 of course, the identity of the advisor, who it is, where it's 11 located, what kinds of services the advisor is going to provide 12 for the client, perhaps over what period of time it's going to 13 provide those services, and then, of course, it'll have an
14 explanation of how the advisor is going to be paid, how is it
15 that the client is going to be billed for those services
16 provided by that advisor.

17 Q. Does a client give money directly to the investment
18 advisor?

19 A. Typically, no, that's not the way it works. The client
20 will open an account in another institution, a bank or a
21 broker/dealer, for example, and then the advisor will advise
22 the client on how those funds should be invested.

23 Q. Are you familiar with the term "custody"?

24 A. Yes.

25 Q. What does custody mean in the context of an investment

G9DOHIR4

Direct - Mr. Laby

1 advisory relationship?

2 A. Custody refers to the idea of where those funds and
3 securities are held, those securities and cash that are held,
4 which institution holds those securities on behalf of the 5 investor. So as I mentioned, that's typically not the 6 investment advisor itself, that's a separate institution,
7 typically a bank or a broker/dealer that has what's known as
8 custody over the assets.

9 Q. What benefits, if any, are there to having a third-party
10 custodian hold a client's money rather than the investment
11 advisor?

12 A. It's quite important. It serves as an extra check on the 13 safekeeping of those securities. Because by having another
14 institution, a third-party institution like a bank or a
15 broker/dealer custody or house those funds, then it's much less
16 likely that there can be the possibility of theft or other
17 wrongdoing perpetrated by the investment advisor.

18 Q. To be clear, who has control over the funds in an 19 investment advisory client's account?

20 A. Well, control over the funds typically rests with the 21 client itself, with the customer, with the person who is doing
22 the investing. They can, from time to time, if they want to,
23 they can give some element of control over to the investment
24 advisor. That's giving what's called discretion to the 25 investment advisor where the advisor itself can decide which

G9DOHIR4

Direct - Mr. Laby

1 securities the advisor will essentially buy and sell on behalf
2 of the customer or the client.

3 Q. You talked about a minute ago about third-party custodians,
4 like banks and brokerage houses. How does the custodian know
5 if it should take orders to transact its securities from the 6 client or the investment advisor?

7 A. The custodian knows that because the investor sends those
8 instructions directly to the custodian. So that has to be done
9 in writing by the client. The client has to send a direction
10 to the custodian to say, "You can accept directions" -- if they 11 want to do this -- "You can accept directions from my 12 investment advisor, and then go ahead, custodian, you can then
13 make those investments as the advisor tells you."

14 Q. Does the custodian make any investment decisions on behalf
15 of the client?

16 A. No, that's not the way it works. The custodian just houses
17 the funds, but the custodian does not make the investment
18 decisions.

19 Q. Does the custodian have any role in keeping the client
20 informed of transactional activity in the client's account?

21 A. Yes. Yes. There is typically a requirement for the 22 custodian, the bank or the broker/dealer, to send statements,
23 to send monthly statements or quarterly statements to the 24 investor to explain what has happened with the investor's funds
25 over the last period.

G9DOHIR4

Direct - Mr. Laby

1 Q. For purposes of these regular statements, who determines
2 what the value of an asset that's in the client's account is?

3 A. Well, that depends. Very often the value of a security is
4 easy to determine. If it's a big company like IBM or Apple
5 that trades every day, the prices are in the newspaper, there's 6 really not a question of what the value is. But in some 7 securities, like the thinly traded stocks that we referred to 8 earlier, it's not always clear exactly what the price is, and 9 in that case, the investment advisor has the obligation to use
10 its best efforts to determine what the price is.

11 Q. Who decides whether someone is an investment advisor?

12 A. The SEC has that responsibility. So if somebody is acting
13 as an investment advisor under the definition, and let's say
14 they have to be registered with the SEC as an advisor and they
15 don't register, then the SEC can take legal action. So it
16 makes those decisions.

17 Q. Are there any laws or regulations that regulate investment
18 advisors?

19 A. Yes. There's one primary federal law, federal statute
20 called the Investment Advisor's Act of 1940, and that statute
21 regulates investment advisors.

22 Q. Are there generally recognized standards and practices in 23 the investment advisory business?

24 A. Yes. Yes, there are. Speaking very generally, there's an 25 overarching fiduciary duty of investment advisors to advisory

G9DOHIR4

Direct - Mr. Laby

1 clients.

2 Q. As a general matter, what is a fiduciary duty?

3 A. A fiduciary duty is a legal duty to act in the best
4 interest of that advisory client, of that client, at all times.
5 It includes both what's referred to as a duty of loyalty and a
6 duty of care.

1 BY MR. BLAIS:

2 Q. And what is the duty of loyalty?

3 A. The duty of loyalty refers to the duty to make sure that
4 the investment adviser is not harming that client in any way.
5 So it cannot engage, of course, in any kind of theft or 6 self-dealing. It cannot have a conflict of interest with 7 respect to that client, or if it does have a conflict of 8 interest, it has to make sure that that conflict of interest is 9 completely disclosed to the investor.

10 Q. You also mentioned the duty of care. What is the duty of 11 care?

12 A. The duty of care is really the positive duty by the 13 investment adviser to act in a prudent and careful and diligent 14 manner when it acts on behalf of the client. For example, when 15 it recommends particular investments to the client, it can only
16 do so after exercising care and diligence.

17 Q. In connection with the duty of loyalty, you testified about 18 the concept of a conflict of interest.

19 What is a conflict of interest in the context of an
20 investment advisory relationship?

21 A. Sure. So a conflict of interest is when the investment
22 adviser might have some sort of ulterior motive for making an
23 investment recommendation. So, for example, the investment
24 adviser is supposed to be giving unbiased honest advice to the 25 client.

G9D8HIR5

Laby - Direct

1           Let's say, hypothetically, it's the case that that
2 investment adviser's spouse or relative owns a company, and
3 that company is looking for investors. Well, if that 4 investment adviser recommends that the client invests in the 5 spouse's company or the relative's company, that of course is a
6 conflict of interest because that might not be the best
7 investment for the client. If there is a conflict of interest
8 like that, it must be completely and fully disclosed to the 9 client.

10 Q. So just to be clear on that point, what, if anything, is an 11 investment adviser required to do if he or she becomes aware of 12 a conflict of interest?

13 A. If an adviser becomes aware of a conflict, first and 14 foremost, they should try to avoid it. They should try and 15 conduct their business in such a way that they simply don't 16 have those conflicts. If they cannot run their business in 17 that way, then that conflict of interest must be disclosed to 18 the client so that the client understands that they are 19 investing under the cloud of a conflict of interest.

20 Q. When should a conflict be disclosed?

21 A. As soon as the adviser knows about that conflict, as soon
22 as reasonably appropriate. But they can't wait for many weeks
23 or months; they have to act pretty quickly.

24 Q. Are there general standards of practice as to how a
25 conflict of interest should be disclosed?

G9D8HIR5

Laby - Direct

1 A. Yes, there are. So the conflict of interest typically is
2 disclosed in writing. That can be disclosed through the
3 various forms that the adviser has to file with the SEC and
4 provide to clients. But they can also simply provide that 5 disclosure in writing in, for example, a letter or an e-mail to 6 a client.

7 Q. Now, what are the consequences when an investment adviser
8 breaches or violates his or her fiduciary duty?

9 A. If an investment adviser breaches their fiduciary duty,
10 that is considered a violation of a particular antifraud
11 provision under the federal securities laws, and they can be 12 sued by the SEC for fraud, and they can also be sued by their 13 clients in a private matter, a private action.

14 Q. Now, we have been speaking generally about the concept of 15 investment advisers generally. Are you familiar with the 16 concept of a registered investment adviser?

17 A. Yes.

18 Q. What is a registered investment adviser?

19 A. Well, certain investment advisers, although not all, are 20 required to register with the SEC. The way that works is it's 21 generally the larger investment advisers, those advisers that
22 are really quite big and have a lot of assets under management.
23 There are requirements that those advisers have to register
24 with the SEC.

25 Q. To be clear, can someone be an investment adviser but not a

G9D8HIR5

Laby - Direct

1 registered investment adviser?

2 A. Absolutely. Absolutely. You can meet the definition of
3 investment adviser. You have to follow many of the laws and
4 rules that apply to investment advisers, yet you are not
5 required to register with the SEC as an investment adviser.

6 Q. Now, you testified earlier about the fiduciary duties of 7 investment advisers generally. Do those same duties apply to 8 registered investment advisers?

9 A. Yes, yes. The fiduciary duty applies equally to 10 unregistered advisers and registered advisers.

11 Q. What does an investment adviser have to do in order to 12 register?

13 A. To register with the SEC, the investment adviser, again,
14 has to fill out a long form. It's called a Form ADV, which 15 stands for adviser. And that form has requests for voluminous
16 information about the advisory firm. They have to fill that 17 out. It's now done electronically. They have to send that in 18 to the SEC, and then part of that form also has to be sent to 19 clients so the clients understand their investment adviser.

20 Q. How often must this Form ADV be filed?

21 A. The Form ADV has to be filed at first when the adviser goes
22 to register, and then it has to be updated, refiled on at least
23 an annual basis.

24 Q. What generally is required on a Form ADV?

25 A. Well, it contains a lot of information. So it asks for

G9D8HIR5

Laby - Direct

1 detailed information about the advisory firm, where it's
2 located, who the principals are, who the owners are, who it is
3 that is making the investment decisions, what kinds of 4 strategies the adviser uses, what kind of clients the 5 investment adviser has, whether any people who have been
6 working there have had disciplinary problems that something
7 investors often want to know, and it also, of course, discloses
8 the ways in which that adviser is paid by its clients.

9 Q. Are there benefits to being a registered investment
10 adviser?

11 A. Some people say that there are some cachet, some additional 12 marketing benefit to being a registered adviser. Others might 13 say that there is simply additional regulatory requirements
14 that are placed on the advisers so that is a negative thing. I
15 think that really goes both ways.

16 Q. After an investment adviser is registered, are there any 17 ongoing requirements?

18 A. Yes, there are several. One of the most important
19 requirement is that a registered adviser is subject to being 20 examined by the SEC staff itself. So they are subject to the 21 SEC knocking on the doors, coming in on a periodic basis, and 22 the SEC staff doing an inspection and examination and audit
23 effectively of that firm.

24 In addition, there are some rules that apply to 25 registered advisers that simply do not apply to the

G9D8HIR5

Laby - Cross

1     unregistered ones.

2             MR. BLAIS: Your Honor, may I have a moment?

3             THE COURT: You may.

4             MR. BLAIS: No further questions for this witness.

5             THE COURT: All right. You may cross-examine.

6     CROSS-EXAMINATION

7     BY MR. TREMONTE:

8     Q. Good afternoon, Professor.

9     A. Good afternoon.

10    Q. I just want to touch on some of the topics that you
11    testified about during the course of the past 45 minutes or so,
12    and it may feel like we are jumping around about.

13            I will start with liquidity. You spoke about the 14    definition of this concept as it applies to stock, correct?

15    A. That's right.

16    Q. You're generally familiar with the culture of folks who
17    work on Wall Street, correct?

18    A. I'm somewhat familiar. I have never worked on Wall Street
19    so I am not quite sure how to answer your question.

20    Q. But you know that when people talk about liquidity,
21    sometimes they use that term the way that you were suggesting 22    in connection with stock, but sometimes they just mean
23    available cash?

24    A. To be honest, I really have not heard that to refer to 25    available cash because cash would somehow automatically be

G9D8HIR5

Laby - Cross

1 liquid. So I don't really understand the question.

2 Q. So the phrase that "this company has a lot of liquidity,"
3 that wouldn't strike you as an indication that it has a lot of
4 available cash?

5 A. I think I would understand that to mean that the company
6 had a lot of available cash.

7 Q. Moving to another topic, you testified somewhat about
8 warrants.

9 So warrants are sometimes publicly traded, isn't that
10 right?

11 A. I think they are, yes.

12 Q. But a warrant is, in essence, a contract, correct?

13 A. Yes. It's a right, and in that sense you can see it as a
14 contract.

15 Q. It typically takes the form of an agreement between a party
16 and a counterparty, correct?

17 A. That's correct.

18 Q. So you can have publicly traded warrants, but you could
19 also have privately arranged warrants, correct?

20 A. I believe that's correct.

21 Q. So a warrant doesn't have to be traded on an exchange?

22 A. I think that's right.

23 Q. You and I can enter into a warrant agreement between 24 ourselves?

25 A. I think that's correct, yes.

G9D8HIR5

Laby - Cross

1 Q. Moving to a different topic, you described in general terms
2 the Form 20-F that foreign private issuers are required to
3 file, right?

4 A. Yes.

5 Q. And that's a required annual filing?

6 A. It's an annual filing, yes.

7 Q. It's actually a form, right, you can get a blank 20-F form?

8 A. You can. You can print the 20-F and hold the piece of 9 paper in your hand, although these days most forms are filed
10 electronically.

11 Q. And you would download that form typically from the SEC's
12 Web site, is that right?

13 A. I think you can get it from the SEC's Web site, yes.

14 Q. And that form has a set of instructions attached to it?

15 A. Yes. Almost all SEC forms that I have seen have 16 instructions attached to the forms.

17 Q. These blank forms essentially tell the person who is 18 filling out the form the information that's required to be 19 included, right?

20 A. Correct.

21 Q. Then there is a whole complex series of rules and 22 decisional law that tell professionals how to interpret those 23 instructions, right?

24 A. Yeah. There are sometimes interpretations. I'm not sure
25 if it's necessarily decisional law, but there is some guidance

G9D8HIR5

Laby - Cross

1 on how to interpret most forms.

2 Q. You could try to fill it out just as a matter of common
3 sense if you wanted to, but professionals will look to these 4 rules, right?

5 A. Correct.

6 Q. In a mature public company like, I don't know, IBM or
7 something, the person principally responsible for filling out
8 these forms would be the chief financial officer, is that
9 correct?

10 A. I don't know that that's necessarily the case. I haven't
11 worked in-house for a CFO to know it's necessarily the CFO. So
12 in some cases the CEO has to approve certain parts of the form
13 and other cases it's the CFO. So I'm a little hesitant to make
14 a broad statement in that regard.

15 Q. And that's beyond your expertise?

16 A. Right.

17 Q. Again, you would look to the guidance that professionals
18 would ordinarily look to in determining who should be primarily 19 responsible in any given company for filling out these forms,
20 right?

21 A. Well, I'm not sure that I want to adopt everything you're
22 saying as true. I think it's right to say, as a general
23 matter, when companies go to fill out their forms, they can,
24 and often do, look to the interpreted guidance that you're 25 talking about. I don't know that it's always necessary or they

G9D8HIR5

Laby - Cross

1 have to do it all the time, but of course I would not dispute
2 that the company and its lawyers can, and in many cases I am
3 sure they do, look to those interpretations if they have
4 questions about how to fill out the form.

5 Q. The company and their lawyers and their accountants and
6 maybe their auditors would look to these rules and collectively
7 try to figure out what to do?

8 A. Again, I don't know that that's always necessarily the 9 case. It may be simply easy to look at the form, figure out
10 what has to be filled out, put down the information. But I
11 don't dispute that in some cases of course the company might
12 want to put its head together with its lawyers or somebody else
13 if they have a question about a particular question on the 14 form.

15 Q. And there are some rules in effect, there is some 16 legislation as to who has to sign these forms?

17 A. Yes, that's correct.

18 Q. That may be different in different contexts?

19 A. Yes.

20 Q. As a general matter.

21 A. As a general matter, that's right.

22 Q. Changing topics to Reg S, briefly.

23 If I understand your testimony correctly, Reg S shares
24 typically cannot be the subject of, I think you said it's
25 directed selling efforts into the United States?

G9D8HIR5

Laby - Cross

1 A. That's correct.

2 Q. Does that mean that Reg S shares cannot be held in a
3 domestic U.S. brokerage account or does that mean that they
4 just can't be the subject of directed selling efforts?

5 A. My understanding is it's the latter. They cannot be the 6 subject of directed selling efforts into the U.S.

7 Q. So they could be held in a domestic brokerage account?

8 A. I don't know of any prohibition on shares being held in a
9 domestic brokerage account, unless, of course, that domestic
10 brokerage account is held by a U.S. resident.

11 So my understanding of Regulation S is that the key
12 definition of U.S. person turns on whether that person is a
13 U.S. resident. If a non-U.S. resident has a U.S. brokerage
14 account, we are getting into some very technical points about 15 Regulation S, and my understanding is that there is not any 16 direct prohibition on the kind of arrangement that you're 17 referring to.

18 Q. Changing topics again, are you familiar with the concept of 19 a stock transfer agent?

20 A. Yes.

21 Q. And a stock transfer agent, these are private companies
22 that perform functions related to the handling and issuance of 23 shares of stock?

24 A. Generally that's correct.

25 Q. Again, generally speaking, what these companies do is they

G9D8HIR5

Laby - Cross

1 work for issuers typically?

2 A. They typically work for issuers, yes.

3 Q. When they work for an issuer, just to put it in the most
4 basic terms, they keep track of the issuance of shares?

5 A. They do keep track of the issuance of shares, and they help
6 to act as a general clearing house for the buying and selling
7 of shares, yes.

8 Q. So it would be part of the function of a stock transfer
9 agent, as part of keeping track of shares, to keep records
10 showing how many shares are being issued for instance?

11 A. I'm hesitant to speak about the particular requirements of 12 transfer agents because I don't consider that to be my direct
13 area of expertise. I generally think what you said is correct,
14 but I wouldn't want to testify to that effect.

15 Q. I don't want to ask you to go beyond your expertise.

16 Changing topics one more time, you talked about the 17 relationship -- again, in general terms -- between investment
18 advisers and, for example, custodians, is that right?

19 A. Yes.

20 Q. Is it possible in principle for an investment adviser to 21 be, let's say, a signatory at a custodian?

22 A. I'm not sure what you mean by a signatory at a custodian.

23 Q. To have the authority to move shares of stock into and out
24 of the custodian, on behalf of the investment adviser's
25 clients?

G9D8HIR5

Laby - Cross

1 A. I suppose a client could give an adviser that authority if
2 it wanted to, yes.

3 Q. If the adviser had that authority, it would not extend to 4 moving shares in and out of the custodian for the benefit of
5 the adviser, consistent with the rules that you articulated
6 earlier, correct?

7 A. Yes. It seems to me, if they did that, that would be a
8 breach of fiduciary duty by the adviser, if I understood your 9 hypothetical.

10 Q. Because they don't own the shares; they are acting on 11 behalf of an agent?

12 A. They are acting on behalf of a principal, their client.

13 Q. They are acting as an agent on behalf of the client?

14 A. That's right.

15 Q. Just back to the very beginning of your testimony this 16 afternoon, you indicated that you on occasion testify as an 17 expert witness, is that correct?

18 A. Yes.

19 Q. You have done that in the past?

20 A. Yes.

21 Q. When you testify as an expert, you are qualified as an
22 expert, correct?

23 A. That's a legal question that I think depends on the 24 particular case. I don't know whether in every case I have 25 been formally qualified, but I have testified on several

G9D8HIR5

Laby - Cross

1 occasions as an expert.

2 Q. Fair enough. I didn't mean to put a legal question to you.

3 In those instances where you testified as an expert,
4 your credentials are elicited by the person who is asking the 5 questions, right?

6 A. Generally, yes.

7 Q. Then you're given a set of facts, right, that you have no
8 previous personal understanding of, you're given a set of facts
9 to opine on, correct?

10 THE COURT: I am going to sustain the objection to 11 this line of questioning.

12 Go ahead.

13 Q. You're not testifying today as an expert witness in that 14 sense, correct?

15 MR. BLAIS: Objection.

16 THE COURT: Sustained.

17 I have ruled, for reasons that are not germane to 18 anything that you need to concern yourselves with, that this
19 witness may testify as to information about the securities laws
20 and certain regulatory requirements, but may not offer an
21 opinion. The reason for this ruling is not a matter that you
22 should be concerned with in any way, shape or form. It has to 23 do with a legal ruling that I have made and nothing else.

24 Next question.

25 MR. TREMONTE: No further questions.

G9D8HIR5

Laby - Redirect

1 THE COURT: Redirect.

2 MR. BLAIS: Very brief.

3 REDIRECT EXAMINATION

4 BY MR. BLAIS:

5 Q. Professor Laby, you were asked some questions on 6 cross-examination about whether Regulation S shares can be
7 deposited in U.S. brokerage accounts. Do you recall that 8 question?

9 A. Yes.

10 Q. Now, regardless of where Regulation S shares are held, can 11 Regulation S shares be sold to U.S. persons?

12 A. Well, it depends what we are talking about. If we are 13 talking about the initial sale when Regulation S applies, then
14 no, those shares have to be sold outside of the United States,
15 and no directed selling efforts to U.S. persons, and not sold
16 to U.S. residents.

17 Q. Can Regulation S shares be part of directed selling efforts
18 into the United States?

19 A. No. If there are directed selling efforts into the United
20 States, then that would violate the strictures of Regulation S.

21 MR. BLAIS: No further questions.

22 THE COURT: You may step down, Professor.

23 (Witness excused)

24 THE COURT: You may call your next witness.

25 MS. HECTOR: The government calls Mr. Marshall Manley.

2 THE COURT: Ladies and gentlemen, I instruct you that
3 there is no issue in this case that Mr. Hirst is not an

16 Q. Good afternoon, Mr. Manley.

17 A. Good afternoon.

18 Q. How old are you?

19 A. 76.

20 Q. Are you married?

21 A. Yes.

22 Q. Where do you live?

23 A. Florida.

24 Q. I'm sorry?

25 A. Florida.

G9D8HIR5

Manley - Direct

1 Q. Mr. Manley, I would like to turn your attention to the very
2 end of January 2010. What were you doing for a living at that
3 time?

4 A. I was a chief executive officer at Gerova.

5 Q. How long did you work for Gerova?

6 A. From January 23, 2010 until April 7, 2010, approximately 70
7 days.

8 Q. During your tenure there, who was the president of Gerova?

9 A. Gary Hirst.

10 Q. Do you see Mr. Hirst in the courtroom here today?

11 A. He is over there but the machines are in the way. Yes.

12 Q. Could you just identify him by citing an article of 13 clothing he is wearing?

14 A. He is at the second desk.

15 THE COURT: The second table and what place?

16 THE WITNESS: I think it's third from the right.

17 THE COURT: So noted. Thank you.

18 Q. Mr. Manley, I am going to ask you more questions about your 19 time at Gerova, but first let me ask about your background.

20 Where did you go to high school?

21 A. Stuyvesant High School.

22 Q. Where did you attend college?

23 A. Brooklyn College.

24 Q. What year did you graduate?

25 A. 1962.

G9D8HIR5

Manley - Direct

1 Q. Did you complete any postgraduate education?

2 A. I went to NYU Law School and graduated in 1965. Then I
3 went to the University of Southern California and took some
4 courses for a master's in political science but never obtained
5 the degree.

6 Q. Following your graduation from law school, were you
7 employed as a lawyer for some period of time?

8 A. Yes, ma'am.

9 Q. Approximately what time frame?

10 A. 1965 to about 1984, '85.

11 Q. Can you generally briefly describe your legal employment
12 during that time?

13 A. I was an associate for four years and then became a partner
14 in a law firm. Then I left that firm and became a named
15 partner in a national law firm. Eventually left that law firm
16 and became a named partner in another national law firm.

17 Q. So you said you practiced law till 1985. After that time,
18 what did you do next?

19 A. I became president of a company called City Investing
20 Company, which was a large conglomerate listed on the New York
21 Stock Exchange, and its main subsidiary was the Home Insurance
22 Company, and I became chairman of the Home Insurance Company.

23 Q. What was your role there, what was your title?

24 A. I was president and CEO of City Investing Company. We 25 quickly liquidated that company. It was a large conglomerate

G9D8HIR5

Manley - Direct

1 of 400 subsidiaries in 50 states and 45 countries, and we spun
2 off or sold various assets. We sold Motel 6 for example. We
3 spun off the Home Insurance Company. Then I became president
4 and then CEO of the Home Group, which owned the Home Insurance
5 Company.

6 Q. Until when did you work for City Investing and its various 7 spin-offs that you have just described?

8 A. 1990.

9 Q. After 1990, what did you generally do for work before you
10 joined Gerova?

11 A. I was retired and generally worked as a consultant in 12 various areas and was involved in various small businesses.

13 Q. Now, turning your attention to the late 2009 time frame,
14 around that time, did you learn of an entity called Asia
15 Special Situations Acquisition Company?

16 A. Yes, ma'am.

17 Q. What is Asia Special Situations Acquisition Company, or 18 what I will refer to from now on ASSAC for short?

19 A. It was a SPAC, which is essentially a special purpose
20 acquisition corporation.

21 Q. Could you describe your understanding of what a SPAC is?

22 A. A SPAC is essentially where a group of -- let me rephrase
23 it. A SPAC is an entity which raises money from various 24 investors, with the purpose of eventually acquiring a company,
25 usually in a certain field; I think ASSAC originally was Asia,

G9D8HIR5

Manley - Direct

1 I think. And after a certain number of years, if that
2 acquisition doesn't take place, either because they don't find
3 a company to acquire or because the shareholders of ASSAC in 4 this instance voted against it, then the money is returned to 5 the investors.

6 Q. And if the shareholders vote in favor of the acquisition,
7 what happens?

8 A. If the shareholders vote in favor of the acquisition,
9 typically what happens is the special purpose acquisition
10 corporation acquires a company and that acquired company goes
11 forward as the ongoing entity.

12 Q. Now, can a SPAC exist as a SPAC forever?

13 A. No. Well, it depends. I don't know. It depends on the 14 terms of the offering, but what I have basically heard is there
15 was always a deadline.

16 Q. Were you aware of whether there was a deadline for ASSAC to 17 basically perform this acquisition?

18 A. I was told at a certain time that there was a deadline, I
19 think January 23rd, or something like that, 2010.

20 Q. Is that transition sometimes referred to as de-SPACing for 21 short?

22 A. When you make an acquisition, it's de-SPACing.

23 Q. How did you first come to learn of the entity ASSAC?

24 A. I was introduced to the entity by Stephen Weiss. Stephen
25 Weiss was an attorney who represented somebody on the other

G9D8HIR5

Manley - Direct

1 side of a transaction I was involved in, and by coincidence it
2 also turned out that he had graduated from law school and also
3 had been a partner -- I don't think he was a partner -- an
4 attorney in the New York office in the firm that I was involved
5 in, because I practice in Los Angeles, and Stephen Weiss told
6 me about ASSAC.

7 Q. Just to be clear, this transaction you're referring to 8 where he was on the other side, does that have anything to do
9 with ASSAC?

10 A. No, nothing at all.

11 Q. That's just how you came to know him?

12 A. Came to know about ASSAC.

13 Q. What did you learn from Stephen Weiss about ASSAC?

14 A. He told me ASSAC had entered into an agreement to acquire
15 an Australia company called White Energy; it was in the coal
16 business. White Energy would be the ongoing entity afterwards.
17 And that the people at White Energy were interested in the 18 possibility of adding two directors. He asked me if I and a
19 person who I was involved with, Dennis Dammerman, who was the 20 vice chairman and chief financial officer of GE, if we would be 21 interested in discussing the possibility of being directors of 22 White Energy.

23 Q. What was your response to this potential opportunity?

24 A. Sure. We'll talk.

25 Q. Did you come to understand what Steve Weiss's relationship

G9D8HIR5

Manley - Direct

1 was with ASSAC?

2 A. He was the attorney -- well, his law firm, Hodgson Russ I
3 think it was called, they were the law firm for ASSAC and he
4 was the lead attorney.

5 Q. Did the deal with the Australia coal company come to 6 fruition?

7 A. Apparently, the transaction was signed, and we had one
8 phone call with some of the White Energy people. They were in 9 Canada when Mr. Dammerman and I talked to them. And then
10 nothing happened because we heard that subsequently White
11 Energy decided that they wanted to get out of the agreement,
12 and they paid several million dollars to ASSAC to get out of 13 the agreement.

14 Q. But the acquisition of White Energy didn't happen?

15 A. Did not happen. They apparently found another transaction
16 as more favorable.

17 Q. So then what happened next with ASSAC?

18 A. The next thing that I heard of?

19 Q. Sure.

20 A. I was informed that ASSAC had apparently --

21 MS. HARRIS: Objection.

22 THE COURT: Sustained.

23 Rephrase the question.

24 Q. Were you contacted again at some point regarding the ASSAC
25 opportunity?

G9D8HIR5

Manley - Direct

1 A. Yes.

2 Q. Who contacted you?

3 A. Steve Weiss.

4 Q. When did this sort of further contact occur?

5 A. I believe it was December of 2009.

6 Q. Did you come to learn of a new plan for ASSAC?

7 A. Yes.

8 Q. What was that new plan?

9 A. ASSAC had apparently signed agreements to acquire some 10 limited partnerships. One was Stillwater and the other was an 11 entity called Wimbleton, and, in addition, Amalphis, which 12 owned an insurance company called Allied Provident. And 13 Stillwater I believe owned part or all of a reinsurance company
14 called North Star.

15 Q. You said there was also an entity called Wimbleton?

16 A. There were two groups of partnerships. One was Wimbleton,
17 which was managed by Western, and the other was Stillwater.
18 They were two separate limited partnership groups.

19 Q. Now, what was the plan for what the ongoing entity would be 20 if these acquisitions took place?

21 MS. HARRIS: Objection. Foundation.

22 THE COURT: Lay a foundation.

23 Q. Did you come to understand what the ultimate plan would be
24 for ASSAC if these acquisitions were to take place, did you
25 come to an understanding of that?

G9D8HIR5

Manley - Direct

1 A. The plan that existed at that time?

2 Q. At that time.

3 A. Yes.

4 Q. What was your understanding of that?

5 MS. HARRIS: Objection.

6 THE COURT: Overruled.

7 A. In the insurance industry, a limitation on the amount of 8 insurance that can be written, the premiums, is a multiple of a
9 capital. The plan was that the assets of these limited
10 partnerships would be put into insurance companies, whether it
11 was North Star or Allied Provident, and that would permit those 12 insurance companies to write more insurance.

13 In addition, at that time, because of what is termed 14 the financial crisis, there were a significant number of 15 limited partnerships which were constrained because of the 16 economics of the United States at that time. So the plan was,
17 assuming this worked, to continue to acquire more limited
18 partnerships or non-liquid assets and put them into insurance
19 companies and permit more insurance to be written. Then, of 20 course, to build up and operate insurance companies.

21 Q. What role, if any, were you asked to play?

22 A. I was asked to become chief executive officer and vice 23 chairman.

24 Q. What was your response to this opportunity?

25 A. I will look at it. My response was, if I was interested in

G9D8HIR5

Manley - Direct

1 doing it -- this is not the normal ASSAC acquisition, because
2 normally you acquire a company and it's an operating company,
3 it has management, it has a board, and things like that. So my
4 response was I would look at it, but if I were to go forward, I
5 wanted to make sure that I could designate who was going to be
6 on the board and I want to put together a management team.
7 Because the ASSAC people who were already there were
8 essentially people who just raised money and worked for a
9 acquisition, they didn't have what I thought was normal
10 business experience.

11 MS. HARRIS: Objection.

12 THE COURT: Overruled.

13 Q. Did you have any role in the negotiations between ASSAC and 14 these acquisition opportunities with Stillwater and Western?

15 A. No, ma'am.

16 Q. Focusing on ASSAC, in general, not the entity that it would
17 potentially become, did you have any role at ASSAC?

18 A. Well, Gerova is ASSAC. So I became --

19 Q. Prior to the acquisitions.

20 A. I met with certain shareholders of ASSAC because they had 21 to make a decision whether to vote for or against, or I guess
22 abstain, on the proposed acquisitions, and they wanted to know
23 my background so I told them my background.

24 Q. Who was the president of ASSAC?

25 A. Mr. Hirst.

G9D8HIR5

Manley - Direct

1 Q. When did you first meet him?

2 A. I believe it was sometime in January of 2010. It had to be
3 January 2010.

4 Q. Do you remember the circumstances where you met him?

5 A. Not particularly, no.

6 Q. Did you have an understanding of Mr. Hirst's role and
7 responsibilities at ASSAC?

8 MS. HARRIS: Objection. Foundation.

9 THE COURT: Overruled.

10 A. Using ASSAC before January 23.

11 Q. Before the acquisitions.

12 A. He was the president and chief executive officer and he
13 was, my understanding, one of the people who put together ASSAC
14 and was one of the people who was looking for acquisitions.
15 That was what he was.

16 Q. As part of your introduction to ASSAC, did you meet an 17 individual named Jason Galanis?

18 A. Yes.

19 Q. When did you first meet Jason Galanis?

20 A. I think I first met Jason Galanis in the fall of 2009.

21 Q. What were the circumstances of that meeting?

22 A. Steve Weiss called me and said that there was --

5 Mr. Manley, the witness here, may have taken.

6 So I will allow it for that limited purpose.

7 Go ahead.

8 A. Mr. Weiss said that there was a client that he knew called
9 Jason Galanis, and he thought that he would be an interesting
10 person for me to meet, would I be available, and we eventually 11 met. I think we had coffee or lunch, something like that.

5 MS. HECTOR: Thank you.

6 BY MS. HECTOR:

7 Q. Mr. Manley, I think you left off when I asked you what was
8 your understanding of Jason Galanis' role at ASSAC.

9 A. He had apparently been involved in putting ASSAC together,
10 I guess bringing investors. He was, I believe, involved with a
11 major shareholder who came out of the Island of Malta, and he 12 also was involved in either -- I don't know -- either
13 initiating or negotiating these various transactions.

14 Q. Now, prior to these acquisitions or these transactions that 15 you refer to, did you participate in any meetings with 16 investors in the SPAC?

17 A. Not that I can recall.

18 Q. Did you go to meetings and introduce yourself as the 19 potential new CEO?

20 A. I went to the meetings, and I was asked about my 21 background, and I went to -- I met with whoever -- Roth Capital
22 was the investment banking firm out of California, and they 23 told me who to meet with.

24 Q. Do you recall approximately how many meetings you
25 participated in?

G9DOHIR6

1 A. I remember one meeting in California and a small handful in
2 New York.

3 Q. What time, approximately, were these meetings occurring?

4 A. January, before the 23rd.

5 Q. Do you recall who accompanied you to these meetings?

6 A. I think the man's name was Ted Roth was at some of the 7 meetings, and Mr. Hlavas was at some the meetings, and I think
8 Mr. Weiss, perhaps, but I'm not sure.

9 Q. What was the purpose of the meeting?

10 A. These people were shareholders of ASSAC, and they had to 11 make a decision to vote, and what I was there is to tell them
12 my background, who I was.

13 Q. Was that the full extent of your work in connection with 14 ASSAC or involvement in ASSAC prior to the acquisitions?

15 A. That's my recollection, yes.

16 Q. Did you eventually enter into an employment agreement with 17 Gerova?

18 A. Yes. ASSAC, Gerova, same. Okay.

19 Q. Mr. Manley, I'd like to call your attention to what's been 20 entered into evidence as Government's Exhibit 241.

21 MS. HECTOR: Your Honor, may I approach and give the 22 witness hard copies in case he has trouble with the screen?

23 THE COURT: You may.

24 THE WITNESS: Thank you.

25 Q. And those, Mr. Manley, are in numerical order, and so I'd

G9DOHIR6

Direct - Mr. Manley

1 like to call your attention to 241. It is on the screen in
2 front of you if you can read it there, but if you have trouble,
3 you have the document.

4 A. I'm more comfortable reading the document.

5 Q. Okay. So just looking at the first page of the document,
6 do you recognize what this is?

7 A. Yes.

8 Q. What is it?

9 A. It's an employment agreement where I was going to be
10 employed as vice chairman and chief executive officer of Gerova
11 in the event the acquisitions were approved.

12 Q. Who negotiated this agreement?

13 A. Bruce Rosetto on my behalf, and I believe Steve Weiss on
14 behalf of ASSAC.

15 Q. Who is Bruce Rosetto?

16 A. Bruce Rosetto was a lawyer in Florida who was with the firm
17 Greenberg Traurig, and he represented me.

18 MS. HECTOR: If we can pull up just the first 19 paragraph of this agreement, the one that starts "this 20 employment agreement".

21 A. I see it.

22 Q. Okay. What is the effective date of this agreement?

23 A. December 1st, 2009.

24 Q. Did you start working for Gerova on December 1st, 2009?

25 A. No.

G9DOHIR6

Direct - Mr. Manley

1 Q. Do you know why that date was listed in this agreement?

2 A. Yes.

3 Q. Why?

4 A. Because I wanted to make sure that I was covered by any
5 director office liability insurance in the event somebody
6 brought a claim as a result of my communications with the 7 shareholders.

8 Q. Are you referring to those meetings that you had had with 9 some of the ASSAC shareholders?

10 A. Yes. And they just picked an arbitrary date of 11 December 1st.

12 Q. Who are the parties to this agreement, Mr. Manley?

13 A. It's signed by Gerova Financial Group, Ltd and Marshal
14 Manley.

15 MS. HECTOR: If we could turn to the last page of the 16 document, Ms. Sheinwald.

17 A. Yes.

18 Q. Is this the signature area that you were just referring to?

19 A. Yes.

20 Q. Okay. So who signs on behalf of Gerova Financial Group?

21 A. Gary T. Hirst.

22 Q. What is his title?

23 A. President.

24 Q. Who signed on your behalf?

25 A. I did.

G9DOHIR6

Direct - Mr. Manley

1 Q. Focusing again on the first page of the document, the
2 second whereas clause. What was your official title going to
3 be at Gerova?

4 A. The second whereas clause?

5 Q. Yes. It says "whereas".

6 A. It was supposed to be chief executive officer and vice
7 chairman of the board.

8 Q. Now, turning down to Section 2A where it describes your 9 position.

10 A. Yes.

11 Q. Could you read for us what it states as to the effective
12 date of your position?

13 A. "For the interim period that commenced on the effective
14 date and ends on January 23rd, the executive shall be employed
15 as executive vice president of the company. At all times from 16 and after January 23rd, 2010, the company shall employ the 17 executive and the executive shall serve as the chief executive 18 officer of the company. The executive shall be responsible for 19 overseeing and managing the business, including exercising
20 authority for the management of the day-to-day business" --

21 Q. That's fine. I'm sorry. I meant for you to do the first 22 line. I'm sorry.

23 A. Okay.

24 Q. Why didn't you effectively start as CEO, according to this
25 employment agreement, until January 23rd?

G9DOHIR6

Direct - Mr. Manley

1 A. If the shareholders or ASSAC didn't approve the
2 acquisition, there would be no company.

3 Q. Did you start working as CEO of Gerova starting on 4 January 23rd?

5 A. Yes ma'am.

6 Q. Now, if you could turn to page 3 of this agreement, Section
7 3A?

8 A. Yes.

9 Q. Do you remember what your salary was under the terms of 10 this agreement?

11 A. $650,000 a year.

12 Q. Now, in addition to your employment agreement, did you also 13 enter into a share purchase agreement?

14 A. I did not, a company calls Marseille Capital did.

15 Q. Okay. What is Marseille Capital?

16 A. Marseille was a limited liability corporation which was set
17 up by Bruce Rosetto of which I was the shareholder in those 18 days.

19 Q. Could you look at what's been marked and admitted in 20 evidence as Government's Exhibit 640?

21 A. Which exhibit?

22 Q. 640.

23 A. 640.

24 Q. What is this document?

25 A. This is a share purchase agreement between ASSAC and

G9DOHIR6

Direct - Mr. Manley

1 Marseille Capital and Marshal Manley.

2 Q. Marseille Capital, is that that entity you just referred to
3 in which you were the shareholder?

4 A. Yes ma'am.

5 Q. Who negotiated this agreement?

6 A. Bruce Rosetto on my behalf, and I believe Steve Weiss on
7 behalf of ASSAC.

8 Q. Who are the parties to this agreement?

9 A. ASSAC, Marseille Capital is signed by me, too.

10 Q. Now, turning to the last page of this document, who signed
11 this document on behalf of Asia Special Situation Corporation?

12 A. Mr. Hirst.

13 Q. And on behalf of Marseille and yourself?

14 A. I did.

15 Q. What is your recollection of the general terms of this
16 share purchase agreement?

17 A. It was a five-year agreement in conjunction with the 18 purchase of a little bit over 5 million shares of ASSAC in 19 which the company was going to lend me $20 million on a
20 nonrecourse basis, and at the end of five years, I would either
21 have to purchase the shares and pay off the loan or give up the 22 opportunity. It's a typical long-term incentive compensation
23 package.

24 Q. When you say "typical", typical in your experience?

25 A. In my experience in the corporate world, this is something

G9DOHIR6

Direct - Mr. Manley

1 that is granted to executives that work over a long period so
2 they would think long-term about the company.

3 Q. Let's turn to page 3, Section 2 of this document, the
4 section entitled "Sale and purchase of subject shares".

5 A. I see that there.

6 Q. Okay. So looking at 2.1, what was it that the company, in
7 this case ASSAC or Gerova, was providing to Marseille?

8 A. The company was going to sell 5,333,333 shares to 9 Marseille, and the purchase price was $3.75, total purchase
10 price $20 million, and Marseille was going to pay by delivering 11 its noninterest-bearing share subscription note, and subject to 12 mandatory prepayment all or in part at the rate of $3.75.

13 Q. What was your understanding of what the nonrecourse note
14 was?

15 THE COURT: All right. Ladies and gentlemen, we're
16 going to hold you in suspense on the answer to that question.
17 We're going to break for the day, and we're going to pick up
18 tomorrow morning at 10:00. I apologize that what happened
19 happened this morning. Not your doing, and not anyone in this 20 courtroom's doing. But I know you understand the importance of 21 getting a good start because we all want this trial to proceed
22 at the proper pace, and so we're all working hard to make that 23 happen, and I appreciate your cooperation in that effort, also.

24 What else am I going to tell you? Do not discuss the 25 case among yourselves or with anyone else, do not do any

1 (Jury not present)

2 THE COURT: See you all tomorrow.

3 MS. HECTOR: Your Honor, if I may have one moment?

4 THE COURT: Yes. Be seated, please.

5 MS. HECTOR: We have an evidentiary issue that we will
6 need to raise that will be relevant to Mr. Hlavsa's testimony,
7 which we expect will happen tomorrow. I'm just inquiring
8 whether your Honor would like us to address that in the morning
9 or --

10 THE COURT: Go for it.

11 MS. HECTOR: Okay.

12 THE COURT: Mr. Manley, you may step down.

13 MS. HECTOR: Mr. Hlavas engaged in chats with 14 Mr. Hirst via Skype. So I think your Honor is probably 15 generally familiar with Skype, but they were the kind of chats
16 on Skype that aren't video, but chats. So they appeared in his
17 Skype -- the Skype portion of his computer as chats. He cut --

18 THE COURT: As text.

19 MS. HECTOR: As text.

20 THE COURT: Okay.

21 MS. HECTOR: With dates and times and the content of 22 the communications. He cut and pasted those chats into a Word
23 document, which he saved and produced in connection with this
24 litigation. We would like to introduce portions of those chats
25 with Mr. Hirst during his direct testimony. The chats, the

G9DOHIR6

Direct - Mr. Manley

1 full extent of the chats range numerous months, August, 2010 to
2 April, 2011, because he had chats with Mr. Hirst over that
3 entire period of time on various topics. We plan to admit or 4 to seek to admit just four portions of those chats, and we have
5 provided those to the defense. My understanding is that they 6 are going to object to those chats on the basis of a rule of 7 completeness.

8 THE COURT: All right. You've teed it up.

9 Let's hear the objection.

10 MR. TREMONTE: Yes, your Honor. The chats that 11 Mr. Hlavas cut and pasted out of his Skype account and then
12 turned over to the SEC run to something on the order of 20
13 pages. The relevant section of the chat conversation between 14 Mr. Hlavas and Mr. Hirst runs to about three and a half pages.
15 We think the context matters quite a bit in those three pages.
16 It covers three days, September 27th, September 28th,
17 September 29th, three days that are quite important in this 18 case, and we believe that the jury should have as one integral 19 exhibit those three or three and a half pages rather than the 20 excerpts that the government has prepared so that they will
21 have the full context.

22 THE COURT: I think what would be useful for me to
23 have is the three and a half pages with the excerpts
24 highlighted so I know what we're dealing with. And voila, it's 25 right there for me.

G9DOHIR6

Direct - Mr. Manley

1 MS. HECTOR: I have that. I will say, originally, the 2 defense had told us that they wanted the entirety of the chat,
3 so I'm handing you -- it's the entirety of the chats with the
4 highlighted portions that we're requesting to be admitted. I
5 now understand that I believe their argument is that the full
6 day of each of the chats that we've --

7 THE COURT: So the dates the defendant is asking to 8 have in under the doctrine of completeness is the 27th, yes?

9 MR. TREMONTE: Yes, your Honor.

10 THE COURT: And what are the other dates?

11 MS. HECTOR: That one goes to the 28th.

12 THE COURT: This is Mr. Tremonte's call.

13 MR. TREMONTE: Yes. The 27th to the 30th inclusive.

14 THE COURT: Here's the next question. Is the 15 government's objection anything more than, gee, that's a lot of 16 unnecessary words, or is there something more to the objection?

17 MS. HECTOR: Your Honor, it's hearsay as to the 18 defendant. We can put in the defendant's statements because 19 they are the defendant's statements. But to argue that the 20 entirety of the chats for those days needs to come in as a rule
21 of completeness is akin to arguing that every email from a
22 particular day should come in if we're placing one email into
23 evidence. These are separate chats. Now, if they had a rule
24 of completeness argument, then they need to explain why that 25 additional information is necessary to understand the portions

G9DOHIR6

Direct - Mr. Manley

1 that we have put before the jury or seek to put before the jury
2 or explain why it's misleading in some way for us to leave out
3 the portions that they want. But we are entitled to put in the 4 defendant's statements, and they are not entitled to put in
5 additional of the defendant's statements for no basis, with no
6 hearsay exception.

7 THE COURT: Well, I think the way the rule of
8 completeness operates is, first, you are offering something
9 which you are, let's say, arguably entitled to offer. The rule
10 of completeness says that not because it's a standalone
11 exception to the hearsay rule, but when you offer something
12 you're entitled to offer, I have to determine whether the sake
13 of completeness requires that simultaneously that which the 14 defendant seeks to offer come in, even though the defendant
15 could not offer any of that in the first place. So the rule of 16 completeness, as I see it, potentially can trump a hearsay
17 objection.

18 MS. HECTOR: Absolutely. I completely agree, your 19 Honor. I haven't heard an articulation of why the additional 20 portions of the chats that fill out the rest of those days
21 satisfies the requirements of the rule of completeness. I
22 don't see why those additional statements are necessary to 23 provide context or explain what we have sought to put in or to 24 prevent what we have sought to put in from misleading the jury.

25 THE COURT: Well, I'm going to hear from Mr. Tremonte,

G9DOHIR6

Direct - Mr. Manley

1 and then I'm going to make my own review and make my own
2 determination of whether, under the rule of completeness,
3 fairness dictates that if you be permitted to offer one portion
4 of the day, that there is some other portion that comes in. So
5 let me give Mr. Tremonte an opportunity to make his argument.

6 Go ahead.

7 MR. TREMONTE: Your Honor, this is one of a very small
8 handful of vitally important communications that were actually
9 documented in this case. This is, according to the 10 government's hearing, the moment when Hlavsa receives for the 11 first time complete information about the existence of the 12 warrant agreement and the issuance of the shares. It is vital,
13 in our view, that the jury have an opportunity to examine all
14 of these communications over this three-day period so that they
15 can determine for themselves the extent to which Mr. Hlavas
16 expresses anything other than a totally pedestrian reaction to 17 the information that he is receiving. And without the benefit
18 of the full context of the chats, they won't be able to do
19 that. So in our view, it is among the most important documents
20 in the entire case for the jury to have in its entirety.

21 I would add to, your Honor, that the evidence will
22 show that Mr. Hlavas, who reported this to the government, cut
23 and pasted these chats out of his Skype account after he 24 learned that the investigation was under way. That is relevant
25 as well because he had the opportunity to select what he wanted

G9DOHIR6

Direct - Mr. Manley

1 to include in this document, and the government did not seek by
2 subpoena or otherwise to obtain the complete chats. So for
3 that reason, as well, we think it's important the document
4 remain whole.

5 We are not asking for the entire body of the chats
6 that he cut and pasted into one document and handed over, but
7 just the three relevant dates.

8 MS. HECTOR: Your Honor, first of all, with respect to 9 what Mr. Hlavas did to record this information and how he did
10 it and any sort of questioning to suggest that Mr. Hlavas left
11 something out or altered something in any way, that goes to the 12 weight, and they can ask Mr. Hlavas on the stand what exactly
13 he did to preserve the material that is being presented to the 14 jury. But on the additional information provided in these 15 chats over the course of the day, first of all, most of it is 16 entirely irrelevant to the issues before the Court.

17 THE COURT: Well, let me ask you. Is Mr. Hlavas going
18 to take the stand in my courtroom and say, "And when I heard
19 this information, I learned this in this chat, I was shocked,
20 horrified and surprised?"

21 MS. HECTOR: He is certainly going to say that he was 22 surprised when he received this information.

23 THE COURT: Okay.

24 MS. HECTOR: He certainly is. But I don't think the 25 additional chats shed light on the context of the conversations

G9DOHIR6

Direct - Mr. Manley

1 that he had in the chats that are highlighted. It just
2 doesn't. And it's oftentimes later in the day, the 28th at 3 11:31.

4 THE COURT: Let's say you cut it off on the 27th with
5 the line, "I have received the Shahini warrant." Okay? That's 6 where you want to cut it off, let's say, and let's say the next
7 words out of his mouth was, "Well, that doesn't surprise me at 8 all." Why would that be under the rule of completeness, under 9 your theory, under your theory, the information is that I've 10 received the Shahini warrant. That concludes what I'm offering
11 it for. His reaction to that information, I'm not offering it
12 for his reaction to the information.

13 MS. HECTOR: Your Honor, if he had that reaction in 14 this text message, in this chat, then yes, I think for the rule
15 of completeness that would fairly be placed before the jury.
16 That's not what we have in this document.

17 THE COURT: No. But the defendant says that what we 18 have also is tantamount to an expression of nonsurprise. It is 19 in context the equivalent. Now, I thought you were going to 20 say to me, no, under the rule of completeness, his reaction to 21 the information, even if he said the words "this comes as no
22 surprise" or "I could care less" wouldn't come under the rule
23 of completeness, and I was ready to hear you on that. But once
24 you say that that would come in under the rule of completeness,
25 why doesn't the rest of it come in so that the defendant can

G9DOHIR6

Direct - Mr. Manley

1 ask the jury to infer from the absence of a reaction that there
2 was no reaction, this was not any kind of shocking news?
3 What's the difference between the expressed statement and the 4 inference they would seek to draw from the balance of the day's 5 conversation.

6 MS. HECTOR: I don't think the fact that he later in
7 the day has communications with Gary Hirst about other topics
8 completely separate and apart from the Shahini warrant
9 agreement sheds light on his reaction to that agreement.

10 THE COURT: Well, you are correct that 11:58 is later
11 in the day than 11:31. I do agree with you there.

12 MS. HECTOR: My point is that communications
13 between -- then every communication thereafter between 14 Mr. Hlavas and Gary Hirst would shed light on -- if that 15 communication does not include any information about the 16 Shahini warrant agreements could arguably shed light on his
17 reaction to that information. I just don't think that argument
18 holds water.

19 THE COURT: I think everyone's candor is appreciated.
20 This trial can't go forward without candor. Everybody's been
21 candid with me, and I appreciate that. That is helpful, and I
22 don't want to punish anybody for candor, but the truthful
23 answer to my question, is this guy going to get up here and 24 say, "When I learned this, I was shocked and surprised and 25 horrified," and the answer is, well, not in those words, but

G9DOHIR6

Direct - Mr. Manley

1 that's the sentiment, at least. And you concede that if he
2 said in the excerpt "I'm not surprised", that would come in
3 under the rules of completeness. So I don't know that taking
4 it down to some period of time and maybe the balance of the day
5 is so horrifying.

6 Let me ask Mr. Tremonte, why do you need anything
7 earlier in the day on, for example, the 27th of September?

8 MR. TREMONTE: We don't, your Honor. The first
9 reference, to be precise, it's -- I don't know if the 10 pagination is the same -- but it's the bottom --

11 THE COURT: 45245?

12 MR. TREMONTE: Exactly.

13 THE COURT: I've got it.

14 MR. TREMONTE: And the last reference to the warrants
15 is at the very bottom of the page, actually top of the next,
16 9/30 11:17, Gary Hirst says, "Here's the warrant calculation,"
17 and Hlavsa says, "Thanks." That's at 11:13:26. We're talking
18 about one, two, I don't know, three pages altogether.

19 THE COURT: Wait a minute. Yes, I see. All right.
20 Well, listen --

21 MS. HECTOR: If I may, one additional point.

22 THE COURT: You may.

23 MS. HECTOR: I appreciate your Honor's point about
24 whether Mr. Tremonte can point out Mr. Hlavsa's reaction. I
25 think he can cross examine Mr. Hlavas to say what, "Was your

G9DOHIR6

Direct - Mr. Manley

1 reaction?" And if Mr. Hlavas says he was shocked, et cetera,
2 he can say, "Did you have further communications" --

3 THE COURT: No, I thought you were going to elicit
4 that.

5 MS. HECTOR: I am going to elicit that.

6 THE COURT: Okay. So he wouldn't be cross examining
7 on a point that you're going -- just to reconfirm the point you
8 made.

9 MS. HECTOR: Fair. But he can cross examine
10 Mr. Hlavas to say, "Do you have communication with Mr. Hirst
11 later in the day? What was the content of that communication?
12 Did you confront Mr. Hirst in those communications?"
13 Et cetera. And he could potentially try to impeach him with a
14 document like this to suggest that he didn't. But I don't 15 think --

16 THE COURT: That's one way to do it.

17 MS. HECTOR: -- it comes in for the --

18 THE COURT: That's one way to do it, I agree with you,
19 that is one way to do it.

20 MS. HECTOR: But I don't think it comes in under the 21 rule of completeness to explain the statements that we are 22 eliciting. I think that is a much more limited rule that goes
23 to whether there's additional information in this document that
24 is necessary to shed light on the contents of this document.
25 And I don't think there is additional information in this

G9DOHIR6

Direct - Mr. Manley

1 document that is necessary to explain and to shed light on the
2 contents of this document and to avoid misleading the jury
3 about the contents of this communication.

4 THE COURT: But even on cross examination, your
5 position is he can't offer the document to impeach the witness.

6 MS. HECTOR: Well, it would depend on, I guess, how
7 the cross examination went. If he denied saying certain things
8 in the document, potentially. It would depend.

9 THE COURT: If he said, "I don't remember what my 10 reaction was."

11 MS. HECTOR: Then I don't think the document comes in.

12 THE COURT: All right. Well, of course, that would 13 contradict the testimony he gave on his direct that he was 14 shocked and horrified.

15 MS. HECTOR: Well, I thought you meant "I don't 16 remember what my additional communications were that day," not 17 that, "I don't remember what my reaction was."

18 THE COURT: Well, did you express shock and horror,
19 and the answer would be, presumably either "no", or "I don't 20 remember".

21 MS. HECTOR: Or "yes, I did". Maybe not via Skype,
22 but in other contacts.

23 THE COURT: Okay.

24 MS. HARRIS: Your Honor, just one other point for 25 consideration as the Court muddles this over. I think we have

G9DOHIR6

Direct - Mr. Manley

1 a situation in this case where we have this 10 seconds or 12
2 seconds of a phone call that are being played, and then these
3 just very few snippets of a Skype call, and I think there is a
4 danger here where, obviously, these are the few pieces of
5 reported evidence, you know, the kind of evidence that jurors
6 do want to latch on to. They have it, oh, it's a transcript of
7 a call that actually happened. It's the actual text. And I
8 think there sort of is a probability of completeness also to 9 avoid 403 problems to say, to put the meaning of that 10 communication in context so that it's understood so that it's 11 not misleading. So it's a partial -- I would say the same rule
12 of completeness issues that your Honor has just been discussing 13 with the government, but there's an additional overlay of 14 concern that it can be taken -- it's taken out of context, and 15 you know how offering extrinsic -- the element of offering
16 extrinsic evidence for purposes of impeachment, it doesn't
17 happen that often given the way crosses usually go. So we'd
18 ask those considerations also come into play.

19 MS. HECTOR: Your Honor, I also just want to point out
20 for your Honor that I'm concerned that what they are actually
21 trying to do is to get in other statements within this document
22 that have nothing to do with the Shahini shares for their truth
23 to try to make arguments about their client's state of mind,
24 which is entirely improper.

25 THE COURT: Give me a for instance.

G9DOHIR6

Direct - Mr. Manley

1 MS. HECTOR: For instance, there's a section at 2 9/30/2010 at 11:42 where Mr. Hirst and Mr. Hlavas are having
3 some discussion about prohibition of shares to someone named
4 Tag, and Mr. Hirst is saying, "You need to speak to Jason and 5 Shant about this. I'm not in the loop." I suspect that the 6 defendants will try to make an argument on that basis, that
7 Mr. Hirst both tried to reach out to Jason and the lawyer to 8 confirm or provide information about something and is stating 9 that he's out of the loop on some sort of alternative
10 transaction that has nothing to do with the warrant agreement
11 of this case.

12 So my concern, your Honor, is that this is being 13 couched as a rule of completeness argument, but what they are 14 really trying to do is put in other statements of their client
15 for the truth to make defense arguments, and that is improper,
16 and that is what I think is trying to be done here under the 17 guise of a rule of completeness, and it's just not appropriate.

18 THE COURT: All right.

19 MR. TREMONTE: Your Honor.

20 THE COURT: Do you have any other example you want to 21 point to?

22 MS. HECTOR: 9/28/2010 at 2:21:45. I'm sorry. I
23 thought that was Gary.

24 MR. TREMONTE: Your Honor, while the government is 25 looking, I can say, number one, I wish we had thought of that,

G9DOHIR6

Direct - Mr. Manley

1 and number two, we would be prepared --

2 THE COURT: It's a great idea, isn't it?

3 MR. TREMONTE: It's really not our intention, and I
4 think we can probably work out some limited redactions to put
5 us in a position to reach a compromise here. It's not our 6 intention, we've never communicated that, and that's not what
7 we're looking to do.

8 THE COURT: I'm putting you in negotiation L, and I'm 9 not ruling on it right now, but that's where I'm sending you to 10 see whether you can work out an arrangement. You've heard what 11 I've said, so that's where we are.

12 Have a pleasant evening. Thank you.
